OFFICE OF THE PRIVATE SECRETARY TO HIS EXCELLENCY THE VICEROY.

New Delhi, the 14th June 1945.

No. 145-H.—His Excellency the Viceroy has been pleased to award the Indian Police Medal to the following officer:—

BENGAL.

Name of officer and rank.—Abdul Hamid Khan, Head Constable, Calcutta Police. Statement of services for which the decoration has been awarded.—On the 20th April 1945 at about midnight Head Constable Abdul Hamid Khan while on patrol duty heard shouts that murder had been committed and that the assailant was escaping. Almost immediately afterwards the assailant, a Punjabi, came running in his direction brandishing a knife in his hand. The Head Constable, though unarmed, closed with him and was able to hold him till assistance arived. The Head Constable then showed great promptitude in arranging for the removal to hopital of the victim who though not dead had been stabbed severely in the chests resulting in the puncture of a lung.

The courageand initiative of the Head Co ble were of a high order.

This award s made for gallantry under re - tion (d)(i) of the Regulations governing grant of the Indian Police Medal and consequently carries with it he special allowance admissible to officers and below the rank of Inspector of Police.

No. 146-H.—His Excellency the Viceroy has been pleased to awad the Indian Police Medal to the following office:—

BENGAL.

Name of officer and rank.—Maulvi Khondkar Nurul Hossain Subdivisional Police Officer, Tangail, Mymensingh. Statement of services for which the decoation has been awarded.—Maulvi Khondkar Nurl Hossain, Subdivisional Police Officer, Tangail received information that a gang of dacoits who had committed dacoity in Baiganj police station, Pabna, in January last and who took from there 2 shotguns, would assemble at Barinda Hatkhola on the night of the 16th April 1945, for the prpose of committing a dacoity in a nearby house. Maulvi Khondkar Nurul Hossain, collected a force of 2 Inspectors, 2 Sub-Inspectors and 15 Constabls, 5 of whom were armed, and surrounded part of the gang. He then left the main road open so that the remaining members of the gang could come along. After an hour, when he saw that the dacoits were preparing to go off and that one dacit had taken a shotgun from an umbrella and wa putting the parts together, he gave the signal to his men to close in and arrest as many of the dacoits as possible. He himself went after the dcoit who had the gun. This dacoit, on seeing the force, began to run away pursued by Maivi Khondkar Nurul Hossain. After proceeding a short distance he turned round and fired a shot from the shotgun at Maulvi Khondkar Nurul Hossain but missed him. The latter fired one shot with his revolver at this dacoit and missed, but, as the dacoit was bringing up his gun to fire a second shot, the officer was able to fire another shot from his revolver. The dacoit was hit by this bullet before he could fire his second shot. He dropped the gun, staggered about two paces, fell down on the ground and expired within three minutes.

Maulvi Khondkar Nurul Hossain showed considerable courage and devotion to duty in going after the armed dacoit who would have caused casualties amongst his force but for the prompt action taken.

This award is made for gallantry under regulation (d)(i) of the Regulations governing the grant of the Indian Police Medal.

NOTIFICATION.

No. 928L.—9th July, 1945.—The following statement of the reasons which have moved the Governor of Bengal to enact the Bengal Finance (No. II) Act, 1945, in exercise of the powers assumed to himself by the Proclamation, dated the 31st day of March, 1945, issued under section 93 of the Government of India Act, 1935, is published for general information:—

Statement.

The Bengal Budget for the financial year 1945-46 shows a considerable excess of estimated expenditure over the estimated income and it is necessary that every reasonable expedient be adopted to reduce this excess.

During the years 1939-40 to 1942-43 the totalisator tax was 4 per centum of all monies paid into the totalisator and the betting tax was 4 per centum of all monies paid by a licensed bookmaker to a backer in consequence of a winning bet. In 1943 the tax was raised from 4 per centum to 10 per centum, but, in spite of this increase, the sums of money paid into the "tote" and paid out by "bookies" continued to increase. In view of this experience, and in the circumstances of to-day, the Provincial Government can reasonably claim a considerably larger share of the money passing through the "tote" and "the books". The Governor has, therefore, enacted the Bengal Finance (No. II) Act, 1945, which increases the rates of the totalisator and betting tax from 10 per centum to 15 per centum.

By order of the Governor,

G. M. RATCLIFF,

Secy. to the Govt. of Bengal.

Legislative Department.

NOTIFICATION.

No. 929L.—9th July, 1945.—The following Act made by the Governor in exercise of the powers assumed to himself by the Proclamation, dated the 31st day of March, 1945, issued under section 93 of the Government of India Act, 1935, having been assented to in His Majesty's name by the Governor, is hereby published for general information:—

Bengal Act X of 1945

THE BENGAL PUBLIC GAMBLING (PENALTIES ENHANCEMENT) ACT, 1945.

[Assent of the Governor was first published in the Calcutta Gazette, Extraordinary, of the 10th July, 1945.]

An Act to enhance the penalties provided by law for the punishment of certain offences relating to wagering or betting upon a horse-race.

WHEREAS it is expedient to enhance the penalties provided by law for the punishment of certain offences relating to wagering or betting upon a horse-race;

AND WHEREAS by the Proclamation, dated the 31st day of March, 1945, issued under section 93 of the Government of India Act, 1935, the Governor of Bengal has assumed to himself all powers vested by or under the said Act in the Provincial Legislature; 26 Geo. V, c. 2.

NOW, THEREFORE, in exercise of the powers so assumed to himself, the Governor of Bengal is pleased to enact as follows:—

Short title.

1. This Act may be called the Bengal Public Gambling (Penalties Enhancement) Act, 1945.

Punishment for offences of illegal wagering or betting upon a horse-race.

2. (1) Whoever commits an offence punishable under section 10 of the Howrah Offences Act, 1857, or under section 44 of the Calcutta Police Act, 1866 or under section 3 of the Bengal Public Gambling Act, 1867 relating to wagering or betting upon a horse-race may, in lieu of any punishment to which he is liable under the said sections, be punished with imprisonment for a term which may extend to three months or with fine which may extend to five thousand rupees or with both. XXI of 1857. Ben. Act IV of 1866. Ben. Act II of 1867.

(2) Whoever having been convicted for an offence specified in sub-section (1) shall be guilty of any such offence, shall, notwithstanding anything contained in the Act under the provisions of which he is so convicted, be punishable for every such subsequent offence with imprisonment for a term which may extend to one year or with fine which may extend to ten thousand rupees or with both.

Saving.

3. Notwithstanding anything contained in any other law for the time being in force, it shall be lawful for any Magistrate of the first class and for any Presidency Magistrate to pass a sentence of fine exceeding one thousand rupees on any person convicted of any offence which has been made punishable with enhanced fine by this Act.

By order of the Governor,

G. M. RATCLIFF,

Secy. to the Govt. of Bengal.

Legislative Department.

NOTIFICATION.

No. 930L.—9th July, 1945.—The following statement of the reasons which have moved the Governor of Bengal to enact the Bengal Public Gambling (Penalties Enhancement) Act, 1945, in exercise of the powers assumed to himself by the Proclamation, dated the 31st day of March, 1945, issued under section 93 of the Government of India Act, 1935, is published for general information:—

Statement.

The Governor has enacted the Bengal Finance (No. II) Act, 1945, raising the rates of the totalisator tax and the betting tax leviable under the Bengal Amusements Tax Act, 1922, as amended by the Bengal Finance Act, 1945, from 10 per centum to 15 per centum. As a result of this enhancement of the betting tax, the temptation to resort to illegal betting will be greatly increased, causing a probable loss to the revenues of the Province. The Governor has therefore enacted the Bengal Public Gambling (Penalties Enhancement) Act, 1945, enabling Courts to award more appropriate and deterrent penalties in respect of illegal betting upon a horse-race.

Draft Rules.

1. In these rules—

(a) "election" means an election held under clause (i) of section 6 of the Act,

(b) "Magistrate" means the Magistrate of the district or any Magistrate subordinate to the Magistrate of the district to whom he may delegate any of his powers under these rules,

(c) "teacher" means a teacher, male or female, of any primary school as defined in clause (15) of section 2 of the Act, and

(d) "the Act" means the Bengal (Rural) Primary Education Act, 1930.

2. All disputes arising under these rules shall be decided by the Magistrate and his decision shall be final.

3. An election under these rules shall be held by such date as may be fixed in this behalf by the Provincial Government under section 7 of the Act.

4. All existing permanent teachers of primary schools—managed or recognised by the Board—including teachers of primary sections attached to higher institutions who have completed continuous service of at least three years are eligible to vote for election of a teacher of primary school.

5. All teachers of primary schools having qualifications referred to in rule 4 shall be entitled to have their names included in the register of voters for an election. A register of such voters shall be prepared by the Magistrate at least five months before the date fixed under seticon 7 of the Act for election. The register shall contain the following particulars:—

(a) Names of the teachers.

(b) The names of the schools to which they belong.

(c) Postal addresses of the schools.

(d) Postal addresses of the teachers included in the list.

6. The register shall then be published in the district, subdivision, thana offices and at the office of every Union Board, Union Committee or President Panchayet and at every primary school. Any teacher whose name does not appear in the register and who claims the right of voting or any teacher who considers that any name in the register ought to be removed, may, within three weeks of the publication of the register apply in writing to the Magistrate stating the grounds of his application for the insertion of his name in, or the removal of such name from, the register, as the case may be, and the Magistrate shall decide such application on a date to be previously intimated to the teachers concerned and his decision shall be final and he shall cause the register to be amended in accordance therewith. The register of voters so amended shall be deemed to be the final register of voters for the election and no teacher whose name is not for the time being included in such register shall be entitled to vote at the election. The final register of voters shall be published at least twelve weeks before the date fixed under section 7 of the Act for the election.

7. Any teacher whose name is included in the final register of voters shall be qualified to stand as a candidate for the election.

8. The Magistrate shall, as soon as the final register of voters is published, issue notices calling for nomination of candidates. Such notices shall be published in the district, subdivision, and thana offices and at the office of every Union Board, Union Committee or President Panchayet and at every primary school. Within four weeks from the date of publication of the notices every teacher who is a candidate for election shall send his name to the Magistrate together with the necessary particulars filled up in the nomination form given in Appendix A to these rules. His nomination must be supported by three voters whose names appear on the dates on which they sign the forms in the register of voters prepared for the district. No names of candidates shall be received after the expiration of the said four weeks and no nomination shall be held to be valid unless the nomination form is properly filled in.

9. Every candidate shall submit with his nomination form a chalan showing that he has deposited a sum of Rs. 10 in a Government treasury in favour of the Board. No nomination form which is not accompanied by such a chalan shall be taken into consideration by the Magistrate.

10. The Magistrate, after scrutiny of the nominations, shall announce the names of the eligible candidates and a list of such candidates shall be published at least six weeks before the date by which the election is to be held in the district, subdivision and thana offices and at the office of every Union Board, Union Committee or President Panchayet and at every primary school. No candidate whose name does not appear in such list shall be considered eligible for election.

If the number of candidates mentioned in the list published under this rule is not greater than one, the Magistrate shall declare the candidate to be duly elected

11. A candidate who is not elected and has failed to receive ten per cent. of the total number of votes recorded in the district shall forfeit the deposit made by him under rule 9:

Provided that in case a candidate is declared ineligible he shall get refund of his deposit money.

12. If the number of such candidates is greater than one, election shall be held by the date referred to in rule 3.

13. (1) The Magistrate shall immediately fix for such election—

(a) a date at least three weeks before the date fixed for election on or before which the Magistrate shall send to the Head Teacher or the Headmaster of each school, as the case may be—

(i) the relevant extracts from the final list of voters,

(ii) voting papers as indicated in Appendix B to these rules each containing the name of the voter and his number on the register of voters and the names of candidates,

(iii) as many small envelopes as there are voting papers each bearing the counterfoil number of the voting paper in respect of which such envelope is sent, and

(iv) a large envelope duly stamped and addressed to the Magistrate,

(b) a further date before 5 p.m. of which the covers containing ballot papers with the votes recorded on such papers sent by the Headmaster or Head Teacher of each school under rule 15 shall reach the Magistrate.

(2) The Magistrate shall also appoint a date, time and place for the counting of votes and shall give notice thereof in writing to the candidates so that the candidates or their authorised agents may attend the proceeding.

(3) The date so fixed shall be published as widely as possible throughout the district.

14. The Headmaster or Head Teacher, as the case may be, on receipt of the documents mentioned in rule 13, shall give the voting papers, and the corresponding small envelopes to the teacher voters of his school. A voter, on receipt of his voting paper, if he desires to vote in the election, shall record his vote thereon, sign the declaration on its back and obtain the attestation of his signature and declaration but not of his vote, by the Headmaster or Head Teacher as the case may be. The voter shall then place the voting paper in the small envelope, close the envelope and make it over to the Headmaster or the Head Teacher as the case may be. All the closed small envelopes thus tendered shall be placed inside the large stamped envelope by the Headmaster or Head Teacher and sent by him to the Magistrate within the date and time fixed by the latter in accordance with rule 13. Any cover which is not received by the Magistrate within the specified date and time shall be rejected.

15. The Magistrate shall, on the day and at the time and place appointed under rule 13 scrutinise all the ballot papers sent by post under rule 14 and shall separate the ballot papers which he deems valid from those which he rejects endorsing on the latter the word "rejected" and the ground of rejection. He shall then count the votes given to each candidate and shall record a note in his own hand stating which of the candidates has received the largest number of valid votes and declare such candidate to be duly elected.

If the Magistrate for some unavoidable cause fails to proceed with the scrutiny on the appointed date, he shall adjourn the proceeding to another date and the candidates or their agents shall be informed of such date.

16. In the case of an equal number of votes being recorded in favour of two or more candidates, selection shall be made from such candidates by lot in such manner as the Magistrate shall deem fit and thereupon the candidate thus selected shall be declared to be duly elected.

17. The name of the elected candidate shall be forwarded by the District Magistrate to the Provincial Government for publication in the Official Gazette.

18. No election shall be invalidated on account of any irregularity whatever unless it appears that the irregularity was such as materially to affect the results of the election.

19. All costs incurred for the preparation of the register of voters, the publication of notices, sending and returning of voting papers or other connected papers or taking any other necessary action under these rules shall be payable from the District Primary Education Fund.

20. In the case of a casual vacancy occurring under section 12 of the Act on account of removal, resignation or death of the elected member the vacancy shall be filled by election in the manner provided in these rules, but no register of voters shall be prepared or published under rule 5 or under rule 6 and the register of voters used at the election of the member whose place is proposed to be filled by the bye-election shall be treated as the register for such bye-election and the Magistrate shall, as soon as may be after the date referred to in section 7 of the Act, has been fixed by the Provincial Government, issue the notices referred to in rule 8.

By order of the Governor,
J. L. LLEWELLYN, Secy.

RESOLUTION—No. 2010M.

Calcutta, the 13th August 1945.

The affairs of the Sonamukhi Municipality in the district of Bankura have been engaging the attention of Government for sometime past. In the course of his inspection of the Municipality, held on the 24th June 1944, the District Magistrate, Bankura, noticed that there was no improvement in collection since his last inspection which was made about a year previously and, in fact, the outstanding arrears had increased. No sufficient attempt was made by the Municipal Commissioners to collect the rates both current and arrear; and, inspite of huge outstandings, distress warrants were issued in only 57 cases in 1943-44, and in only 3 more cases up to the date of inspection in 1944-45. The total amount covered by those warrants was Rs. 240-9-3 against the arrears of Rs. 7,001-8-3 on the 1st April 1944. The total outstanding liability of the Municipality which was Rs. 1,822-12-6 in July 1943 increased to Rs. 3,346-9 on the 31st March 1944. The Municipal grants to the primary schools and to the charitable dispensary were heavily in arrears, and even the employees' contribution to the Provident Fund was appropriated and diverted to the general fund. The Municipal Fund was hardly sufficient to maintain its own establishment.

2. In consideration of the position stated above the Commissioners of the Sonamukhi Municipality were asked by the Commissioner, Burdwan Division, to explain why the municipality should not be superseded.

3. From subsequent report received from the local officers, it appeared that the warning of the Divisional Commissioner had little effect. The financial condition of the Municipality, far from improving, showed even further deterioration. The remissions in the past 4 years were at the rate of 11 per cent., 9 per cent., 48 per cent. and 21 per cent. and, even after such remission, the arrears were almost equal to the current demand. In those years the percentages of total collection on current demand were 58 per cent., 56 per cent., 72 per cent. and 60 per cent. The outstanding liability of the Municipality was still very heavy, and there was no improvement regarding grants to the charitable dispensary and to the primary schools.

4. In the circumstances stated above Government was disposed to agree that the Commissioners of the Sonamukhi Municipality should be superseded under section 553 of the Bengal Municipal Act, but before issuing a final order to that effect, the Commissioners of the Municipality were called upon in Government memorandum No. 401M., dated the 13th February 1945, to show cause within a period of 3 months from the date of receipt of that order why action under section 553 should not be taken.

5. The Municipal Commissioners considered the matter at their meeting held on 22nd May 1945 and have submitted a report to the effect that though the year 1944-45 was one of distress and hardship, every possible attempt was made to improve collection and, as a result, the percentage of total collection on current demand was 82:9 per cent. against 60 per cent. of the preceding year. No fresh liability was incurred, but due to high prices and payment of dearness allowanes to the employees, etc., payments towards old liabilities could not be made promptly and adequately. The entire amount on account of the Provident Fund of the employees for the year 1944-45 was deposited. The Municipal Commissioners have asked for a year's time to effect an improvement.

6. The District Magistrate, Bankura, inspected the Municipality again on 19th May 1945 and found as follows:—

(1) Out of the total demand of Rs. 14,597 (Rs. 7,595 current demand plus Rs. 7,002 arrear) for 1944-45, a sum of Rs. 6,300 only was collected during the year leaving an outstanding balance of Rs. 8,297. The realisation on the current demand was Rs. 3,796 and that on arrear demand Rs. 2,504. The arrear outstanding thus still exceeds the demand of the current year.

(2) The grant for primary schools is in arrear by Rs. 902 and that for the dispensary by Rs. 380. The Medical Officer has not been paid for several months and, as a result, he has resigned. The municipality owes Rs. 925. Towards Provident Fund of the employees, the municipality has still a liability of Rs. 1,777. Apart from these, there was an unpaid liability of Rs. 2,389 on 1st April 1945. Against all these liabilities, the treasury balance on 31st March 1945 was Rs. 426 only.

7. In view of the facts stated above and after careful consideration of the whole matter, Government has come to the conclusion that the Commissioners of the Sonamukhi Municipality have proved incompetent to perform, and have persistently made default in the performance of, duties imposed on them by and under the Bengal Municipal Act, 1932. In exercise of the power conferred by section 553 of the said Act, Government is accordingly pleased to declare the Commissioners of the Sonamukhi Municipality to be incompetent and in default, and to supersede the said Commissioners for a period of two years with effect from the date of publication of this resolution in the Calcutta Gazette.

8. Ordered that this resolution be published in the Calcutta Gazette.

By order of the Governor,
J. L. LLEWELLYN, Secy.

RESOLUTION—No. 2339P.H.

Calcutta the 13th August 1945.

The nutrition surveys carried out by the Nutrition Section of the office of the Director of Public Health, Bengal, reveal that the institution of effective measures to improve the nutrition state of the population of the Province is of prime importance. The problem of malnutrition is, however, one which cannot be tackled by any one department of Government alone as the measures which require to be adopted concern several departments. Government is advised that as a short term policy the main measures which would be likely to give quick results are as follows:—

(1) provision of fresh milk or processed milk as a special article of diet especially of infants, school children, expectant and nursing mothers. This involves the question of availability within the Province, the control of available supplies and their diversion to the above sections of the population, the increase of provincial resources (e.g., prohibition of manufacture of chhana, ice-cream, etc.), the procurement of concentrated milk from other countries and their distribution, etc.,

(2) provision and distribution of milk vitamin tablets as a measure suitable to deal quickly with the vitamin deficiency aspect of malnutrition, and

(3) development of village communal and family vegetable gardening to provide a more balanced diet.

Government is therefore pleased to appoint a committee consisting of the following officials to formulate plans in connection with the above measures, to take action on the long term recommendations of the Nutrition Sub-Committee of the Sanitary Board, Bengal, and to examine various further proposals which may be submitted from time to time by the Nutrition Section of the Public Health Department and the Nutrition Sub-committee of the Sanitary Board, Bengal:—

(1) Deputy Secretary to the Government of Bengal, Revenue Department.
(2) Surgeon-General with the Government of Bengal.
(3) Director of Public Health, Bengal.
(4) Director of Rationing.
(5) Director of Agriculture, Bengal.
(6) Nutrition Officer, Bengal.

2. The members will elect their own President and the Nutrition Officer, Bengal, will act as Secretary and convenor.

3. The Committee will be at liberty to invite any suitable non-official at any time to give his or her opinion on any specific points.

4. The Committee should submit their report and recommendation to Government in due course.

By order of the Governor,
J. L. LLEWELLYN, Secy.

PART IVC—Bills proposed to be enacted by the Governor of Bengal in exercise of the powers assumed to himself by Proclamation issued under section 93 of the Government of India Act, 1935.

GOVERNMENT OF BENGAL.
Legislative Department.
NOTIFICATION.

No. 1128L.—15th August 1945.—The following Bill, which the Governor of Bengal proposes to enact in exercise of the powers assumed to himself by the Proclamation, dated the 31st day of March, 1945, issued under section 93 of the Government of India Act, 1935, together with the Statement of Objects and Reasons, is published for the information of all persons likely to be affected thereby and notice is hereby given that the said Bill will be taken into consideration on or after the 6th September, 1945, and that any objection or suggestion which may be received with respect thereto from any person by the Secretary to the Government of Bengal in the Home (Transport) Department before the said date will be considered by the Governor:—

THE BENGAL MOTOR VEHICLES TAX (AMENDMENT) BILL, 1945.

A

further to amend the Bengal Motor Vehicles Tax Act, 1932.

WHEREAS it is expedient further to amend the Bengal Motor Vehicles Tax Act, 1932, for the purpose and in the manner hereinafter appearing; Ben. Act I of 1932.

AND WHEREAS by the Proclamation, dated the 31st day of March, 1945, issued under section 93 of the Government of India Act, 1935, the Governor of Bengal has assumed to himself all powers vested by or under the said Act in the Provincial Legislature; 26 Geo. V c. 2.

NOW, THEREFORE, in exercise of the powers so assumed to himself, the Governor of Bengal is pleased to enact as follows:—

Short title. 1. This Act may be called the Bengal Motor Vehicles Tax (Amendment) Act, 1945.

The Bengal Motor Vehicles Tax (Amendment) Bill, 1945.

(Clause 2.)

Amendment of section 4 of Bengal Act I of 1932.

2. To sub-section (3) of section 4 of the Bengal Motor Vehicles Tax Act, 1932, the following proviso shall be added, namely :— Ben. Act I of 1932.

"Provided that where a motor vehicle, other than a motor vehicle for the transport of goods or plying for hire for the carriage of passengers, has not been used for any period in Bengal by reason of its being removed and kept outside Bengal during such period, the Taxing Officer shall not refund or remit in respect of the said vehicle any portion of the tax for the quarterly period during which the said vehicle is so removed.".

STATEMENT OF OBJECTS AND REASONS.

1. The Government of Bengal, like other Provincial Governments, have ratified the following conclusions of the Transport Advisory Council arrived at in July, 1941, regarding exemption from double taxation of private motor vehicles transferred from one Province to another during a tax quarter :—

(i) Vehicles other than transport vehicles taxed in one Province in respect of a quarter should be exempted from further taxation in respect of the same quarter on transfer elsewhere.

(ii) Where the tax has been paid for more than one quarter, it should be refunded in respect of any quarter or quarters commencing after the transfer.

2. Statutory provision for refunds of tax in cases covered by conclusion (ii) already exists in section 4(3) of the Bengal Motor Vehicles Tax Act, 1932, under which refunds are to be granted of 1/12th of the tax payable for the year for every complete calendar month for which a vehicle has not been used in the Province.

3. In Provinces which like Bengal have statutory provision for refund of tax in respect of any period during which a motor vehicle has not been used, the adoption of the recommendations of the Transport Advisory Council referred to above may afford vehicle owners a double advantage of refund of tax in the first Province and exemption in the second. Further, the implementation of conclusion (i) would entail double loss of revenue to the Province as, on the one hand, the Provincial Government will be precluded, in consequence of the acceptance of the conclusion, from levying tax on incoming vehicles for the broken period of the quarter current at the time of their arrival, while, on the other, the Provincial Government will, under the existing statutory provision aforesaid, be liable to grant refunds of tax on outgoing vehicles, not only in respect of the quarter or quarters commencing after their transfer, but also for the unexpired calendar months of the quarter current at the time of the transfer.

4. The amending Bill is designed to remove the drawbacks described above by restricting the liability to grant refunds in respect of vehicles transferred to other Provinces to the refund of the tax realised for the quarter or quarters commencing after the expiry of the quarter current at the time of the transfer of the vehicles.

By order of the Governor,
G. M. RATCLIFF,
Secy. to the Govt. of Bengal.

GOVERNMENT OF BENGAL.

Legislative Department.

NOTIFICATION.

No. 1156L.—27th August, 1945.—The following statement of the reasons which have moved the Governor of Bengal to enact the Bengal Destitute Persons (Repatriation and Relief) Act, 1945, in exercise of the powers assumed to himself by the Proclamation, dated the 31st day of March, 1945, issued under section 93 of the Government of India Act, 1935, is published for general information:—

Statement.

The object of the Bengal Destitute Persons (Repatriation and Relief) Act, 1945 is the same as the object of the Bengal Destitute Persons (Repatriation and Relief) Bill, 1944 which, having been introduced in the Bengal Legislative Council, was passed by both Chambers of the Provincial Legislature. The Bill could not however receive the assent of the Governor owing to the intervention of the Proclamation, issued by the Governor under section 93 of the Government of India Act, 1935. The reasons which necessitated the introduction of the said Bill in the Bengal Legislative Council were explained in the Statement of Objects and Reasons accompanying the Bill as so introduced. The issue of the Proclamation has not affected those reasons.

The operative provisions of the Bengal Destitute Persons (Repatriation and Relief) Act, 1945 are almost identical in form and substance with the parallel provisions of the Bengal Destitute Persons (Repatriation and Relief) Bill, 1944 as passed by the Provincial Legislature.

By order of the Governor,

G. M. RATCLIFF,

Secy. to the Govt. of Bengal.

(Note.—On an average of the five years ending 1943-44, the area under sugarcane in Bengal has represented some 7·9 per cent. of the total area under sugarcane in India.)

Character of the season.—The weather and its effect in the cultivation and growth of the crop have been favourable. The present condition of the crop is reported to be satisfactory.

Area planted.—The total area planted this year is estimated at 317,600 acres, as against 303,900 acres and 309,700 acres as shown in the corresponding and the final forecasts respectively of last year. I. THE WAR PENSIONS AND DETENTION ALLOWANCES (INDIAN SEAMEN) SCHEME, 1945.

1. Short title and commencement.—(1) This Scheme may be called the War Pensions and Detention Allowances (Indian Seamen) Scheme, 1945.

(2) It shall be deemed to have come into force with effect from the 1st May 1944.

2. Persons to whom the Scheme applies.—(1) This Scheme applies to any person [not being a member of His Majesty's naval forces or a person mentioned in sub-clause (2) of this clause] who is employed or engaged in sea-going service as the master or a member of the crew of a British Indian ship.

(2) This Scheme does not apply to any person who is employed or engaged as a member of the crew of a British Indian ship for no remuneration or nominal remuneration only.

3. Interpretation.—(1) The General Clauses Act, 1897, shall apply to the interpretation of this Scheme as it applies to the interpretation of a Central Act.

(c) "detention", in relation to a seaman, means detention which is consequent on the capture, seizure, arrest or other restraint of the seaman or of his ship effected by reason of the existence of a state of war while he is in the service of a British Indian ship;

(d) "eligible child", in relation to a seaman, means a child of the seaman who has not attained the age of fourteen years and who was born at any time not later than nine months after the relevant date and who is—

(i) a legitimate son or an unmarried legitimate daughter; or

(ii) an illegitimate son, and unmarried illegitimate daughter, or a daughter whether legitimate or illegitimate who is married or widowed being a son or daughter who, if born before the relevant date, was at that date being wholly or substantially maintained by the seamen;

(e) "pre-war rate of pay", in relation to the capacity in which a seaman is employed or engaged at the relevant date, means the rate of pay on the 31st day of August 1939, of a seaman employed or engaged in that capacity in service of a type and for a period which is the same as, or similar to, the type and period of service in which the seaman is employed or engaged at the relevant date;

(f) "relevant date" means, in relation to a seaman whose death or disablement is directly attributable to a qualifying injury or to detention, the date on which that qualifying injury was sustained or on which that detention commenced, as the case may be, and, in relation to a seaman who suffers detention the date on which the detention commenced;

(i) in relation to a seaman whose death is directly attributable to a qualifying injury or to detention, the period commencing twenty-six weeks before the date on which he sustained that qualifying injury or on which that detention commenced, as the case may be, and ending on the date of his death (but excluding any period during which the seaman suffered detention), or such lesser period as the Central Government may direct in any special case or class of case; and

(ii) in relation to a seaman who suffers detention, the period of twenty-six weeks (or such lesser period as the Central Government may direct in any special case or class of case) ending on the date on which that detention commenced;

(i) "qualifying injury" in relation to a seaman, means a war injury or a war risk injury;

(j) "war injury and war risk injury" have the meanings respectively assigned thereto in the First Schedule to this Scheme.

(k) "wife", in relation to a seaman, means a wife married to the seaman at the relevant date, and "widow" shall be construed accordingly;

(3) Where a seaman suffers detention, that detention may for the purposes of this Scheme be treated as continuing until whichever is the earlier of the two following dates, that is to say—

(a) the date of his death;

(b) the date on which it is first practicable for him to arrive back in India;

or until such other date as the Central Government may direct in relation to that seaman or to any class of such seaman.

4. Classification of Seaman.—For the purposes of this Scheme a seaman shall belong to the class which is specified in the second column of the second Schedule to this Scheme in relation to the pre-war rate of pay appropriate to the capacity in which at the relevant date the seaman was employed or engaged.

5. Ascertainment of Degree of Disablement.—(1) Where a seaman suffers disablement which is directly attributable to a qualifying injury or to detention, the degree of that disablement shall be assessed and certified in accordance with the following provisions of this clause by a Civil Surgeon or a medical officer of the status of Civil Surgeon or a medical board appointed or recognised by the Central Government for the purpose.

(2) In the case of an injury which is specified in the first column of the Sixth Schedule to this Scheme the degree of disablement shall be assessed and certified at the percentage which is specified in the second column of that Schedule in relation to that injury, and, in the case of two or more such injuries, the degree of disablement shall be assessed and certified at the sum of the percentages so specified in relation to those injuries or at one hundred per cent., whichever is the less.

(3) Subject to the provisions of sub-clause (2) of this clause, the degree of disablement shall be assessed by making a comparison between the condition of disablement of the seaman and the condition of a normal healthy male of the same age, without taking into account his earning capacity in his own or any other specific trade or occupation and so that the extent to which that condition has been aggravated by individual factors or extraneous circumstances shall not be included in the degree at which that disablement is assessed:

Provided that, in a case of disablement directly attributable to two or more qualifying injuries or to two or more detentions, or to both a qualifying injury and a detention, the degree of disablement shall be assessed in accordance with this paragraph by reference to the combined effect of each such qualifying injury or detention.

(4) The degree of disablement assessed under sub-clause (3) shall be certified by way of percentage, total disablement being represented by one hundred per cent., and a lesser degree of disablement being represented by such percentage (being a multiple of ten) as bears to 100 per cent. the same proportion as the lesser degree of disablement bears to total disablement.

6. Award of gratuities for disablement.—(1) Where a seaman suffers disablement which is directly attributable to a qualifying injury or to detention, there may be awarded to him under this clause in respect of that disablement a gratuity of an amount which bears to the sum specified in the second column of the Third Schedule to this Scheme in relation to the class to which he belongs for the purposes of this Scheme the same proportion as the degree at which that disablement has been assessed and certified under clause 5 bears to one hundred per cent.:

Provided that an award under this clause shall only be made in respect of disablement which—

(a) is assessed and certified under sub-clause (2) of clause 5; or

(b) is of a permanent or prolonged character and is certified under sub-clause (4) of clause 5 to be of a degree which is not less than twenty per cent.

(2) Where any sum has been paid in respect of the disablement of a seaman by way of a special allowance under clause 7 or by way of a wife's allowance under clause 8, no reduction on account of that sum shall be made in the amount of a gratuity under this clause in respect of that disablement.

7. Awards of special allowances in certain cases.—(1) Where a seaman suffers disablement which is directly attributable to a qualifying injury or to detention and it has not been determined whether an award in respect of that disablement is to be made under clause 6 or what the amount of that award should be, there may be awarded to him under this clause in respect of that disablement a special allowance in accordance with the following provisions of this clause.

(2) A special allowance may only be awarded if the seaman—

(a) is unable by reason of the disablement to provide by his earnings for his own support and that of his family; and

(b) is in need of treatment for the disablement.

(3) A special allowance shall be at the monthly rate of sixteen rupees.

(4) A special allowance shall not, unless the Central Government in the circumstances of any particular case otherwise determines, be paid after the expiration of the period of twelve months from the date of the qualifying injury or of the end of the detention of which the disablement of the seaman is directly attributable.

8. Awards of wives' allowances in certain cases.—(1) Where the conditions laid down in sub-clauses (1) and (2) of clause 7 are fulfilled in the case of a seaman who has a wife, there may be awarded under this clause in respect of the disablement of the seaman a wife's allowance in accordance with the following provisions of this clause.

(2) A wife's allowance shall be at such rate as the Central Government may from time to time determine having regard to all the circumstances of the case, being a rate which does not exceed the rate specified in the second column of the Fourth Schedule to this Scheme in relation to the class to which the seaman belongs for the purposes of this Scheme.

(3) A wife's allowance may be paid to the wife of a seaman or may, where there is more than one wife of the seaman, be paid to such one of them or divided between them in such shares as the Central Government may think fit, or may, in any case where the Central Government so directs, be paid to the seaman.

(4) A wife's allowance shall not, unless the Central Government in the circumstances of any particular case otherwise determines, be paid after the expiration of the period of twelve months from the date of the qualifying injury or of the end of the detention to which the disablement of the seaman is directly attributable.

9. Awards of widows' pensions.—(1) Where the death of a seaman is directly attributable to a qualifying injury or to detention, and there is a widow of the seaman, there may be awarded under this clause in respect of the death of the seaman a widow's pension in accordance with the following provisions of this clause.

(2) A widow's pension shall be at the rate specified in the second column of the Fifth Schedule to this Scheme in relation to the class to which the seaman belongs for the purposes of this Scheme.

(4) A widow's pension or a share of a widow's pension shall cease to be payable on the date on which the widow to whom that pension or share is being paid dies or remarries or begins to live with any person as his wife.

10. Awards of children's allowances.—(1) Where the death of a seaman is directly attributable to a qualifying injury or to detention, and there is an eligible child of the seaman, there may be awarded under this clause in respect of the death of the seaman a child's allowance for that child in accordance with the following provisions of this clause.

(2) A child's allowance shall, in a case where the child's mother is dead and the child is neither living with nor under the control of a widow of the seaman, be at the monthly rate of six rupees and shall in any other case be at the monthly rate of three rupees.

(3) A child's allowance may be paid to the widow of the seaman if the child is living with her or under her control and may, in any case where the Central Government so directs, be applied for the benefit of the child in accordance with the provisions of this Scheme.

11. Awards of dependant's pension.—(1) Where the death of a seaman is directly attributable to a qualifying injury or to detention, and there is a dependant of the seaman who is in pecuniary need arising from age or from some infirmity or other adverse condition which is not of a temporary character (hereinafter referred to as an "eligible dependant"), there may be awarded under this clause in respect of the death of the seaman a dependant's pension in accordance with the following provisions of this clause.

(2) A dependant's pension shall be at such rate as the Central Government may from time to time determine having regard to the number of eligible dependants, their relationship to the seaman, the extent of their need and the other circumstances of the case:

Provided that the rate of a dependant's pension shall not exceed whichever of the following rates is applicable, that is to say—

(a) in a case where the only eligible dependant has not attained the age of fourteen years, the monthly rate of six rupees;

(b) in a case where the only eligible dependant has attained the age of fourteen years, the monthly rate of twelve rupees;

(c) in any other case, the rate at which a widow's pension could be awarded under this Scheme in respect of the death of the seaman:

Provided also that in any case where a child's allowance is being paid under this Scheme in respect of the death of the seaman at the rate appropriate in a case where the child's mother is dead and the child is neither living with nor under the control of a widow of the seaman, the maximum rate of dependant's pension shall not exceed the rate which is arrived at by deducting the rate of that child's allowance or where there is more than one such child's allowance, the aggregate rate of those children's allowances, from the aggregate rate which would have been awarded under this Scheme by way of widow's pension and child's allowance or children's allowances if there had been a widow of the seaman and the child or children had been living with her or under her control.

(3) A dependant's pension may be paid to the eligible dependant or, where there are two or more such dependants, may be paid to any one of them or divided between any two or more of them in such shares as the Central Government may think fit.

(4) Where a widow's pension is being paid under this Scheme in respect of the death of a seaman, an award under this clause in respect of the death of the seaman shall not be made to any dependant of the seaman other than a parent.

(5) A dependant's pension or a share of a dependant's pension payable to a female dependant who is unmarried or a widow shall cease to be payable on the date on which she marries or remarries or begins to live with any person as his wife.

12. Special provision for awards in respect of death.—No award shall be made under this Scheme in respect of the death of a seaman—

(a) if his death occurs more than seven years, after the date of the qualifying injury or of the end of the detention to which his death is claimed to be directly attributable; or

(b) if a gratuity has been awarded under this Scheme in respect of the disablement of the seaman on the basis that the disablement was directly attributable to the qualifying injury or the detention to which his death is claimed to be directly attributable:

Provided that, where the Central Government in the exceptional circumstances of any particular case so directs, an award in respect of the death of a seaman may, notwithstanding the provisions of sub-clause (b) of this clause, be made if—

(ii) his death occurred not later than two years after the date on which that qualifying injury was sustained or that detention came to an end; and

(iii) the degree of that disablement was assessed and certified at not more than twenty per cent.

13. Awards of detention allowances.—(1) Where a seaman suffers detention, there may be awarded under this clause in respect of that detention a detention allowance for the whole or any part of the period of that detention in accordance with the following provisions of this clause:

Provided that, unless the Central Government in the special circumstances of any particular case otherwise directs, a detention allowance shall not be awarded in respect of the detention of a seaman where a claim to that detention allowance is first made more than six months after that detention came to an end.

(2) A detention allowance shall consist of an allowance (hereinafter called the "reserved allowance") which may be paid to the seaman after his detention has come to an end, and which shall not exceed 20 per cent. of the pay drawn by the seaman at the time of his detention.

2. Every effort has been made to make the rolls as complete and as accurate as possible but persons who consider themselves qualified to vote are advised to inspect the rolls when they are published to see if their names are included. If their names are not included or if they consider that there is any inaccuracy in the entries they may make claims to have their names included or may submit objections to entries which they consider to be inaccurate or wrong.

In their own interest prospective electors are advised to enclose with their applications the prescribed certificates or other documents necessary to prove their claims and objections so as to save themselves the trouble of attending the office of the Revising Authority with such documents on a subsequent date. They are also advised to file claims and objections early and not wait till the last few days or day.

3. In the case of Calcutta constituencies of the Bengal Legislative Assembly a complete copy of the draft rolls will be published in the offices of the Registering Authority (Chief Executive Officer, Calcutta Corporation) and the Returning Officer (Chief Presidency Magistrate, Calcutta) and also the portion of the roll relating to each ward at a convenient place within the ward. In the case of the Railway Trade Union Labour constituency of the Bengal Legislative Assembly so much of the roll as relates to each constituent trade union will be published at the registered office of such union and a complete copy of the roll at the office of the Registering Authority and Returning Officer (i.e., Registrar of Trade Unions, Bengal). 4. In the case of the Bengal Legislative Council a complete copy of the draft rolls for all the constituencies will be published at the office of the Registering Authority and the Returning Officer. So much of the rolls as relates to each district and subdivision will be published at the district and subdivisional offices respectively, but if the roll relates to the Sadar subdivision of a district it will be published at the district office of such district. So much of the roll as relates to Calcutta will be published at the office of the Chief Executive Officer, Calcutta Corporation, and the portion of the roll relating to each ward at a convenient place within the ward.

5. Claims and objections must be submitted in prescribed forms and in the manner provided in the rules, and are to be addressed to the Revising Authority. The claims may be signed by the claimants or by their Authorised Agents. No person can prefer an objection unless his name is already on the roll. The claims and objections may be presented either to the Revising Authority or to the Registering Authority or they may be sent by post to the Revising Authority. The names of Revising Authorities and Registering Authorities are given in the notices with which the rolls are published.

6. The last date for submitting claims and objections is the 1st October 1945 in respect of the Trade Union Labour rolls and the 8th October 1945 in respect of the other rolls. Under the rules, applications received after the respective dates will be rejected.

7. The forms on which claims and objections may be made will be obtainable free of charge from the offices of the Registering Authorities concerned and also from the office of the Chief Presidency Magistrate, Calcutta, in the case of Calcutta constituencies. Supersession of the Jhawdia Union Board in police-station Kushtia in the district of Nadia, under section 56(1)(b) of the Bengal Village Self-Government Act, 1919.

No. 1143L.S.-G.—12th September 1945.—Whereas I am of opinion, after considering the views of the District Magistrate and the district board, that the Jhawdia Union Board persistently makes default in the performance of the duties imposed upon it under the Bengal Village Self-Government Act, 1919, namely, by:—

(a) allowing equipment costs to accumulate for several years,

(b) failing to credit realised choukidari fines to the Treasury,

(c) deliberately omitting to pay the clerk of the Union Board for 1349 B.S.,

(d) failing to pay the rural police for months, and further that the Board is not competent to perform its duties through the irresponsibility and lack of interest shown by its members:

Now, therefore, in exercise of my powers under section 56(1)(b) of the Bengal Village Self-Government Act, 1919, with the approval of the Provincial Government, I supersede the Jhawdia Union Board for a period of six months, with effect from 21st September 1945.

WHEREAS it is expedient to provide for the improvement of slum areas in Bengal;

AND WHEREAS by the Proclamation, dated the 31st day of March, 1945, issued under section 93 of the Government of India Act, 1935, the Governor of Bengal has assumed to himself all powers vested by or under the said Act in the Provincial Legislature; 26 Geo. V, c. 2.

NOW, THEREFORE, in exercise of the powers so assumed to himself, the Governor of Bengal is pleased to enact as follows:—

Short title, extent and commencement.

1. (1) This Act may be called the Bengal Slum Improvement Act, 1945.

(2) It extends to Calcutta and to every area constituted a municipality under the Bengal Municipal Act, 1932. Ben. Act XV of 1932.

(3) It shall come into force on such date as the Provincial Government may by notification appoint and for this purpose different dates may be appointed for different areas.

(Clauses 3—5.)

Declaration of slum area by notification.

3. (1) The Provincial Government may either of its own motion, or on the recommendation of a local authority, by notification, declare any area containing huts, or huts and other buildings, to be a slum area, if, in the opinion of the Provincial Government, the condition of such area is insanitary, or attended with the risk of disease to the persons residing within, or in the neighbourhood of, such area by reason of the manner in which the huts or huts and other buildings are constructed or crowded together or of want of drainage or sewerage or of impracticability of scavenging or from any other reason.

(2) Every notification issued under sub-section (1) shall specify the boundaries of the area declared to be a slum area.

Preparation of scheme and estimate by a local authority.

4. (1) When any area has been declared a slum area under section 3, the Provincial Government may, by order in writing, authorise any local authority within the jurisdiction of which such area is situated to prepare a scheme for the improvement of the slum area together with an estimate of the cost of execution of the scheme, and thereupon, notwithstanding anything in any other law, such local authority may prepare such a scheme and estimate.

(2) A scheme prepared under sub-section (1) for the improvement of a slum area shall make provision for the following matters, namely:—

(a) the construction of streets or passages within such area sufficient in number and of sufficient width to enable the proper scavenging of the slum area;

(b) the construction of drains and sewers in such manner as to render the slum area sanitary,

and may make provision for the following matters, namely:—

(i) the partial or complete removal or demolition of any hut or other building in the slum area, or the alteration or reconstruction of any such hut or building,

(ii) public water supply, common bathing arrangements and public privies or latrines for the use of the inhabitants of the slum area, and the lighting of any streets, passages, common bathing arrangements, and public privies or latrines constructed in such area;

(iii) the filling up of tanks, wells, ditches or trenches or low lands in the slum area and the construction of new tanks or the deepening or improvement of existing tanks in such area.

(3) If a local authority authorised under sub-section (1) to prepare a scheme and estimate for the improvement of a slum area does not take up and complete the preparation of such scheme and estimate within such time as the Provincial Government considers reasonable and sufficient in the circumstances, the Provincial Government may, after giving the local authority an opportunity to explain the delay, by order in writing direct such local authority to prepare such scheme and estimate within such period as may be specified in the order and thereupon, notwithstanding anything in any other law, such local authority shall take up and complete the preparation of such scheme and estimate within the period so specified.

Publication and approval of scheme and estimate.

5. (1) When a local authority has under section 4 prepared a scheme and estimate for the improvement of a slum area it shall cause the scheme and estimate to be published in the Official Gazette together with a notice calling upon all persons interested in the scheme to submit any objections or suggestions which they may wish to submit with respect to such scheme and estimate to such local authority within a period to be specified in the notice and stating the place at which a plan showing the proposed improvements may be seen at reasonable hours.

(2) After the expiry of the period specified in the notice published under sub-section (1) the local authority shall consider the objections and suggestions, if any, received by it within such period and thereafter may make such modifications in the scheme or estimate as it may consider necessary and may thereupon approve the scheme and estimate with or without modification, as the case may be:

Provided that if the estimated cost of the scheme exceeds one lakh of rupees, or if the local authority proposes to take action under section 7 in respect of such scheme, the local authority shall submit the scheme or estimate with such modifications, if any, as it may consider necessary, to the Provincial Government for approval, and the Provincial Government may thereupon either approve the scheme and estimate as so submitted or approve them subject to such further modifications, if any, as the Provincial Government may think fit.

(3) A scheme and estimate so approved by the local authority or the Provincial Government, as the case may be, are hereinafter in this Act referred to as an approved scheme and an approved estimate, respectively.

Payment of cost of approved schemes.

6. (1) The actual cost incurred by a local authority in executing an approved scheme shall be borne by the owners of the land and other immovable property in the slum area in respect of which the said scheme has been prepared and shall be realised from such owners by such local authority in the manner provided in this section.

(2) The estimated cost of the approved scheme shall be apportioned between such owners by the local authority by which the scheme has been prepared in the manner determined by such local authority and the apportionment so made shall be final and shall not be enquired into or varied in any Court.

(3) As soon as may be after the apportionment referred to in sub-section (2) has been made by the local authority, such local authority shall cause to be published in the Official Gazette a list of all such owners together with the amount of the cost payable by each such owner as determined in such apportionment by the said local authority and thereafter the amounts specified in the said list as payable by each owner shall be paid by such owner to the local authority within one month of the date of publication of the said list.

(4) The amount payable by the owners to the local authority under sub-section (3) in respect of any slum area shall, subject to the prior payment of the land-revenue, if any, due to the Provincial Government in respect of the land in such area, be a first charge on the land and other immovable property in such area.

(5) If the amount payable by any owner to the local authority under sub-section (3) is not paid within the time specified in that sub-section, such amount shall be recoverable from any or all of the said owners either as a public demand or by the attachment and collection in the prescribed manner of all rents and arrears of rents which any tenant on such land or in such immovable property is liable to pay to such owner or owners.

(6) If the amount payable by any owner to any local authority under sub-section (3) is realised in whole or in part from any other person under sub-section (5) such person shall be entitled to recover from the said owner the amount so paid by him.

(7) If the actual cost of executing an approved scheme exceeds the estimated cost of such scheme, the amount by which such actual cost exceeds such estimated cost shall be apportioned between the owners referred to in sub-section (1) in the manner provided in this section for the apportionment of such estimated cost and the provisions of sub-sections (2) to (6) shall apply to the apportionment of such amount and to the payment and recovery of the amount payable by any owner or owners under such apportionment.

(8) If the actual cost of executing an approved scheme is less than the estimated cost of such scheme, the amount determined as recoverable from any owner under the apportionment made under sub-section (2) shall be reduced in the proportion which such actual cost bears to such estimated cost, and, if more than such reduced amount has already been realised from such owner, he shall be entitled to a refund in the manner prescribed of the excess amount so recovered.

Special provision for payment of cost of approved schemes when owners are unable to pay the entire cost.

7. (1) Notwithstanding anything in section 6, if in the case of any particular approved scheme the local authority concerned is of opinion that the owners of the land and other immovable property in the slum area in respect of which the approved scheme has been prepared are unable to bear the entire amount of the actual cost of the scheme, the local authority may, with the previous sanction in writing of the Provincial Government, fix an amount not being less than fifty per centum of the estimated cost of the scheme as the portion of the actual cost of such scheme which shall be borne by such owners and such amount shall thereupon be apportioned between such owners in the manner provided in section 6 for the apportionment of the estimated cost and the provisions of sub-sections (2) to (6) of that section shall apply to the apportionment of such amount and to the payment and recovery of the amount payable by any owner or owners under such apportionment.

(2) The amount by which the actual cost of executing the approved scheme exceeds the amount fixed under sub-section (1) as payable by such owners shall be payable in equal shares by the Provincial Government out of the revenues of the Province and the local authority out of the local fund of such authority.

(3) If the actual cost of executing the approved scheme is less than the amount fixed under sub-section (1) as payable by the said owners the amount determined as recoverable from any such owner under the apportionment made in accordance with the provisions of sub-section (1) shall be reduced in the proportion which such actual cost bears to the amount so fixed and if more than such reduced amount has already been realised from such owner he shall be entitled to a refund in the manner prescribed of the excess amount so recovered.

Provision as to amount remaining unrealised after 12 years.

8. (1) After the expiry of twelve years from the date of completion of any approved scheme, the local authority which executed such scheme shall submit a statement of its accounts in respect of such scheme showing the amount due and remaining unrealised from the owners of the land and other immovable property in the slum area in which such scheme was executed, and the Provincial Government may, after such enquiry, if any, as it may deem necessary, pay to the local authority out of the revenues of the Province half the amount so remaining unrealised.

(2) All amounts shown in the statement submitted by the local authority under sub-section (1) as remaining unrealised after the expiry of the twelve years referred to in that sub-section shall be written off as irrecoverable and no action for their realisation shall thereafter be taken.

Payments into and out of the local fund of a local authority under this Act.

9. All charges and expenses incurred by a local authority in executing any approved scheme or in executing any repairs or works referred to in sub-section (4) of section 15, shall, notwithstanding anything in any law applicable to such local authority, be paid out of the local fund of such authority and all amounts realised under sections 6, 7 or section 15 from the owners or tenants of any land or other immovable property in a slum area and any contribution in respect of the cost of such scheme payable under this Act by the Provincial Government shall be paid into such local fund and the Provincial Government may by notification make such adaptations or modifications of the provisions of any Act applicable to such local authority as it may consider necessary for the purpose of enabling such payments into and out of such local fund to be lawfully made.

Demolition and removal of huts or other buildings and removal of materials thereof.

10. (1) If in executing any improvements in a slum area under an approved scheme any hut or other building or part thereof in such area is required to be pulled down or removed, the local authority shall, by notice in writing served in the prescribed manner, require every occupier of such hut or building or part thereof to vacate the hut, building or part thereof within a period not being less than fifteen days to be specified in such notice.

(2) Notwithstanding anything contained in any law for the time being in force, or in any contract, every occupier of a hut or other building or portion thereof on whom a notice issued under sub-section (1) is served, shall comply with such notice within the period specified therein.

(3) If the occupier of any hut or other building or part thereof fails to comply with the notice issued under sub-section (1) within the period specified therein, the local authority may apply to a Magistrate for the eviction of all persons who so fail to vacate such hut or other building or part thereof in pursuance of such notice and, thereupon, the Magistrate, after making such enquiries, if any, as he thinks fit, may evict such persons and may take such steps or cause such steps to be taken as he considers necessary for this purpose.

The Bengal Slum Improvement Bill, 1945.

(Clauses 11—13.)

(4) The owner of any hut or other building or part thereof which is pulled down or caused to be removed in executing any improvements in a slum area under an approved scheme may take away the materials of the hut or building or part thereof so pulled down or caused to be removed; but if such owner fails or neglects to take them away, or if the owner is unknown, or if the title to the hut or such building is disputed, such materials shall be sold in auction and the proceeds of such sale shall, after deducting therefrom the cost of holding such sale, be held in deposit by the local authority until any person obtains an order from a competent Court for the payment of such amount to him.

Compensation for demolition or removal of huts or other infringements on rights in immovable property.

11. (1) When in executing any improvement in a slum area under an approved scheme,—

(a) a hut or other building or part thereof is pulled down or is caused to be removed; or

(b) any other action of the nature described in sub-section (2) of section 299 of the Government of India Act, 1935, has been taken, 26 Geo V., c. 2.

the owner of such hut or other building or any other person who suffers any loss or damage shall, subject to rules made under this Act, be paid such compensation as the officer authorised in this behalf by the Provincial Government determines in the manner prescribed and the decision of the officer so authorised determining the amount of any compensation shall be final:

Provided that any compensation so determined in respect of the demolition or partial demolition of a hut or other building or part thereof shall in no case exceed the value of the hut or other building or part thereof less the value of the materials thereof.

(2) When the amount of any compensation has been determined under sub-section (1), if any dispute arises as to the apportionment of such compensation, or part thereof, the officer determining the amount of such compensation, shall, in the prescribed manner, refer such dispute to the Court competent to entertain a suit for the ejectment of a tenant of a hut or other building or part thereof in respect of which such compensation has been awarded and such Court shall decide how the said apportionment is to be made.

(3) In every reference under sub-section (2) the costs shall be at the discretion of the Court.

Acquisition of land for purposes of this Act.

12. (1) The Provincial Government may, at the request of a local authority authorised by the Provincial Government to execute an approved scheme in any slum area, for the purpose of enabling the said local authority to effect any improvements under such scheme, acquire any land in such area under the provisions of the Land Acquisition Act, 1894. I of 1894.

(2) On the payment by such local authority of the compensation awarded under the Land Acquisition Act, 1894, and of any other charges incurred in acquiring such land, including the cost, if any, incurred by the Provincial Government in any proceeding subsequent to the acquisition concerning enhancement of the award for the land, such land shall vest in the local authority:

Provided that when under sub-section (1) of section 14, the task of ensuring the maintenance of improvements made in a slum area under an approved scheme has been directed by notification by the Provincial Government to be taken over by a local authority other than the local authority which executed such scheme, such land shall cease to vest in the local authority which executed such scheme and shall be deemed to be transferred to, and shall vest in, such other local authority with effect from the date of publication of such notification.

Explanation.—In this section "land" has the same meaning as in clause (a) of section 3 of the Land Acquisition Act, 1894.

Right of ownership over improvements made in a slum area.

13. (1) The provisions of sections 354 and 355 of the Calcutta Municipal Act, 1923, shall apply to streets, passages, bathing arrangements and privy accommodation constructed as improvements under an approved scheme in any slum area situated in Calcutta as if such slum area is a bustee in respect of which a standard plan has been approved under Chapter XXII of the said Act. Ben. Act III of 1923.

The Bengal Slum Improvement Bill, 1945.

(Clauses 14—16.)

Ben. Act XV of 1932.

(3) Subject to the provisions of sub-sections (1) and (2), every improvement made in a slum area in executing an approved scheme in such area shall belong to the owner of the land on which it is made.

Duty of local authority as to maintenance in good repair of improvements.

14. (1) It shall be the duty of the local authority which prepared and executed an approved scheme in a slum area, notwithstanding anything in any law applicable to such local authority, to ensure in accordance with the provisions of section 15 the maintenance in good repair of any improvements made in that area under that scheme:

Provided that the Provincial Government may at any time by notification direct that any other local authority, also having jurisdiction over the said area, shall take over the task of ensuring the said maintenance, and, in such case, it shall cease to be the duty of the local authority which prepared and executed the said scheme and shall become, notwithstanding anything in any law applicable to this other local authority, the duty of this other local authority to ensure according to the provisions of section 15 the said maintenance.

(2) In sections 15 and 16 the expression "local authority" means the local authority which has executed an approved scheme in the slum area concerned, and, when the task of ensuring the maintenance in good repair of the improvements made in such area under such scheme is directed under sub-section (1) to be taken over by another local authority, it means such other authority.

(3) If the local authority is satisfied that any street, passage, bathing arrangements, privy accommodation, means of water supply or other works or part thereof have been damaged in any way by any tenant or tenants in the slum area, the local authority may, by notice in writing served in the prescribed manner, order such tenant or tenants to repair such street, passage, drain, bathing arrangements, privy accommodation, means of water supply or other works or part thereof.

(4) If any default is made in complying with any notice issued under sub-section (2) or sub-section (3) the local authority may itself execute any repair or other work which it considers necessary in such slum area and which under the said notice any such owner, tenant or tenants were ordered to execute.

(5) All charges and expenses incurred by the local authority in executing any repair or other work referred to in sub-section (4) shall be recoverable as a public demand from the person or persons who defaulted in complying with the notice issued under sub-section (2) or sub-section (3), as the case may be.

16. No owner of any land in a slum area in which any improvements have been effected in executing an approved scheme and no owner of any hut or other building in such area shall erect any hut or other building in such area or make any addition to any hut or other building in such area or effect any alteration in the laying out of such area without the previous approval in writing of the local authority.

(Clause 22.)

Power to make rules.

22. (1) The Provincial Government may make rules for carrying out the purposes of this Act.

(2) In particular, and without prejudice to the generality of the foregoing power, such rules may provide for all or any of the following matters, namely:—

(a) the manner of attachment and collection of rents and arrears of rents under sub-section (5) of section 6,

(b) the manner in which refunds are to be paid under sub-section (8) of section 6 and sub-section (3) of section 7,

(c) the manner of service of the notice referred to in sub-section (1) of section 10,

(d) the procedure regarding the grant of compensation referred to in sub-section (1) of section 11, the manner of determination of such compensation and the procedure to be followed in referring disputes to a Court under sub-section (2) of section 11,

(e) the manner of service of the notices referred to in sub-section (2) and sub-section (3) of section 15,

(f) the procedure for entering into or upon any land, hut or building under section 18.

STATEMENT OF OBJECTS AND REASONS.

In many urban areas in the Province, and particularly in the City of Calcutta and in the Municipality of Howrah, there exist slums which will, eventually, have to be demolished. Pending such demolition, which will be most costly, and which will take time and will necessitate the re-housing of those who live within the slum areas, it is proposed in this Bill to empower the Provincial Government to authorise local authorities to carry out schemes of improvement within notified areas.

These schemes will be carried out, as far as possible and equitable, at the expense of the owners of the buildings and lands within the notified areas. Provision has however been made in the Bill to enable the Provincial Government and the local authority in exceptional cases to bear, in equal shares, such part of the cost, not exceeding half, as the Provincial Government may determine. The improvements which may be made in notified areas are for securing the immediate amelioration of living conditions within those areas, and for removing circumstances likely to cause or to facilitate the spread of disease.

This Bill replaces the Bill published for the purpose of eliciting an expression of public opinion thereon under notification No. 6851., dated the 29th May, 1945, in Part IVC of the Calcutta Gazette, Extraordinary, dated the 31st May, 1945, which has, as a result of further consideration given to the matter by the Provincial Government in the light of the opinions received, been re-drafted in the form of the Bill now published.

By order of the Governor,

G. M. RATCLIFF,

Secy. to the Govt. of Bengal.

Report.

Cause of the vacancy for a bye-election.

1. On 29th January 1944, through the death of Khan Saheb Abdul Quasem, M.L.C., one of the members in the Bengal Legislative Council elected from the Bengal Legislative Assembly, the seat in the Bengal Legislative Council previously held by him became vacant. To fill this seat accordingly, a bye-election became necessary to be held.

Introductory.

2. By way of introduction it may be explained that for Bengal, the composition of the Provincial Legislative Council as laid down is not less than 63 and not more than 65 members; of which 30 seats are filled by direct election from various constituencies (in the nature of ten general seats, seventeen Muhammadan seats, and three European seats); not less than six and not more than eight are to be filled by nomination of His Excellency the Governor, while 27 seats are to be filled by what may be termed a process of indirect election which are to be filled by election by the members of the Bengal Legislative Assembly who will themselves have been elected directly from their constituencies. [See section 61(1) of the Government of India Act, and the table of seats attached to the 5th schedule of the Government of India Act] (Volume I, page 231). (References herein are to the Bengal Legislature Manual, Volume I, 1942 edition and Volume II, 1937 edition.) It may be noted in passing that there are no general elections for members of the Legislative Council in this sense, that no resignation of members is involved on a change of ministry, as is the case with members of the Bengal Legislative Assembly. The result is that there is a degree of continuity of membership for the Council giving to every individual member after election normally an uninterrupted period of 9 years of membership; which is unaffected by the fall of Governments. There is, however, provision for resignation every three years of one-third of the total number of members of the Council: [see section 61(iii) of the Government of India Act]. And there is in that sense a general election to the extent of one-third of all the members every three years. Of the 27 seats filled from the Assembly there is thus a general election in this sense every three years of nine seats. For this triennial election for these nine seats the voting is thus on the basis of a non-communal joint electorate. The grouping of political parties in the Assembly, each of which might be anxious to see members of its own party elected in the Council, may be expected, however, to have the natural result that persons of the various communities are eventually elected to the Council. Apart from the filling of these nine seats by means of such triennial elections, certain further separate provisions have been made for the filling up at a bye-election of any individual vacancies which occur in between the triennial elections. One provision governing such bye-election is that contained in Rule 84 of the conduct of Elections Rules (Volume II, page 178) which stipulates, that, for any such bye-election, for any such casual vacancy "the person to be elected....., shall be of the same community as the person by whom the seat was held". The result is that for the bye-election with which we are concerned while the candidate was to be elected by the votes of all the sitting members of every community of the Assembly, he was himself required to be a member of the same community (in this case Muhammadan) as the late Khan Saheb Abdul Quasem, by whose death the particular casual vacancy had been caused.

Dates notified.

3. By notification in the Calcutta Gazette of 13th March 1944, members of the Bengal Legislative Assembly were notified that a bye-election would be held; and 8th April 1944 was fixed as the day by which nominations were to be made, 10th April 1944 as the date for scrutiny of the nomination, and 11th April 1944 as the date on or before which the candidates may be withdrawn.

Nominations.

4. The petitioner, respondent No. 1, respondent No. 2, and respondent No. 3, all lodged nomination papers. Scrutiny was duly made by the Returning Officer of these nomination papers. Such scrutiny by him has not been questioned.

5. By advertisement published in the Calcutta Gazette on 13th April 1944, over the signature of the officer who was both the Returning Officer and the Secretary of the Bengal Legislative Assembly, it was announced that a poll would be taken on 21st April 1944 between 10 a.m. and 3 p.m. in the Legislative Chamber Buildings. The final list of candidates comprising the four candidates for election was published in the advertisement. Advertisement of election.

6. The election was held on the 21st April 1944, voting taking place. The Returning Officer announced the result in his "Return of Elections" (Exhibit K) made under rule 80 (Volume I, page 177) to the following effect:— Return of election.

Name of candidate.			Number of valid votes recorded in favour of the candidate.
Khan Saheb Abdul Latif Chowdhury	...	...	1
Maulvi Basiruddin Ahmed Majumdar	...	...	1
Nawab Sir K. G. M. Faroqui	...	...	103
Maulvi Mahomed Habibulla Chowdhury	...	...	106

In the same return the Returning Officer also reported the total number of valid votes polled as 211, and the total number of invalid votes as nil; and declared that Maulvi Mahomed Habibulla Chowdhury, respondent No. 1, had been duly elected.

7. It is in respect of this return of election that the present Election Petition has been filed. Present election petition.

8. This petition was duly presented within the time allowed after the filing of the notice regarding the return of election expenses under Part II of the Government of India (Provincial Elections) (Corrupt Practices and Election Petitions) Order, 1936, under rule 26 of the Election Petitions Rules (Volume II, page 209) on the 22nd June 1944. This Election Tribunal was thereafter appointed by notification in the Calcutta Gazette, dated 10th August 1944. After notice had been duly published in the Calcutta Gazette of 1st September 1944, and the usual advertisement of the petition, and the usual notice to the petitioner and the respondents, the respondent No. 1, alone at once intimated his desire to oppose the petition. Duly presented.

The hearing of the petition was in the beginning accordingly taken up by this Tribunal as a contest between the petitioner and the respondent No. 1 only.

9. The members of the Tribunal as at first constituted were:— Composition of the Tribunal.

The President:

E C. Ormond, Esq., Barrister-at-Law.

Commissioners:

Mr. F. Akbar, Barrister-at-Law, Additional District and Sessions Judge, 24-Parganas.

Rai Bahadur, M. Halder, Retired District and Sessions Judge.

After certain early sittings it was clear that allegations of breaches of rules having been made against the Returning Officer in the petition, and denied in the written statement, these allegations would have to be gone into by the Tribunal. The fact emerged that Mr. Akbar was a close relation being a nephew of the Returning Officer. It appeared therefore that Mr. Akbar might be embarrassed in adjudicating on such matters in issue. He on his own initiative accordingly suggested that he should be relieved from continuing to sit as Commissioner. Though the parties themselves left the matter to the Tribunal, the Tribunal took the view that as the public as well as the two parties before the Tribunal were concerned with the decision of the Election Petition, it would not be proper or advisable for the Tribunal to continue as then composed. The President accordingly wrote to the Government of Bengal asking them to appoint another Commissioner in the place of Mr. Akbar. This was in due course done and Mr. Saidur Rahaman was thereafter appointed. Thereafter the parties having signified their agreement, the Tribunal as thereafter constituted took up the hearing from the point where it has broken off due to the retirement of Mr. Akbar, after allowing time to Mr. Rahaman to make himself familiar with the proceedings (these having been almost entirely in the nature of directions only regarding procedure) which had been taken up till that date.

10. The respective parties who appeared before the Tribunal and the Advocates through whom they were respectively represented were as follows: for the petitioner Dr. S. C. Roy with (on various occasions), Mr. A. N. Mitra, Mr. K. K. Basu, Mr. S. Roy and Mr. Alim; for the Respondent No. 1, Dr. N. C. Sen Gupta with Mr. Nurul Huda and Mr. S. Ahamad; for the Returning Officer, the Standing Counsel (Mr. Mazumdar) with Mr. S. M. Basu; for the Province of Bengal, Mr. S. M. Basu with Mr. Hamidul Huq; for the Advocate-General of Bengal (for one sitting only), Mr. H. Rahaman; for the substituted Respondent (Abdul Motaleb Malik), Dr. N. C. Sengupta with Mr. N. K. Sen. Parties who appeared before the Tribunal.

11. Dr. Sen Gupta took at the outset a preliminary point that the petition was bad for non-joinder of the Returning Officer. Both parties intimated that they would, if he were not made a party, apply to call the Returning Officer as a witness. After hearing advocates of both sides, the Tribunal took the view that: firstly it was desirable in the public interest that the actions of the Returning Officer should be gone into, either by his being called as a witness or by his being joined as a party; further, that it would be unfair to the Returning Officer, if he were to be called as a witness and cross-examined as to his actions in relation to the issue of notice and fulfilment of the rules without having an opportunity to put his case before the Tribunal. Both parties having stated that they had no objection to the Returning Officer being made a party, if the Tribunal should direct this to be done, the Tribunal passed orders to this effect. The Returning Officer in due course appeared through Counsel. Directions were given for the filing of a Written Statement. This was filed. Preliminary point as to non-joinder of the Returning Officer.

12. The petitioner in his petition as originally filed both impugned the election of respondent No. 1 and claimed the seat for himself on certain grounds detailed in his petition. Issues as settled.

On the pleadings the following issues were then settled:—

(1) Has the respondent, Habibulla Chowdhury got the requisite qualifications for a candidate?

(2) In view of the inclusion of the respondent's name in the electoral roll for the Noakhali territorial constituency, is the Tribunal competent to consider whether he had the requisite qualifications for being entered on the electoral roll; or is the entry conclusive in regard to his right to be a candidate?

(3) Is the respondent entitled to raise the objection under paragraph 15 of the Written Statement at this stage? (Paragraph 15 alleged want of qualification of the petitioner.)

(4) If so, was the name of the petitioner validly included in the electoral roll of any constituency at the date of the election. If not, is the petition maintainable at his instance.

(5) Has there been non-compliance of the Bengal Legislative Council (Conduct of Election) Rules, 1936, as stated in all or any of the paragraphs 7 to 17 of the petition? If so, has such non-compliance materially affected the result of the election?

(6) Did the Ministers exercise undue influence as stated in the particulars and in paragraph 20 of the petition? If so, was the result of the election materially affected thereby?

(7) Are the allegations in paragraphs 21, 21(a) of the petition as well as in paragraphs 6 and 6A of the list of particulars correct? (Paragraphs 21 and 21A contained particular allegations of undue influence by the Chief Minister and by certain other Ministers and the Chief Whip of the Coalition Party).

(8) Are there double signatures and some doubtful signs in the receipt column of the list and does the receipt column of the list correspond with the number of ballot papers and their counterfoils together with the spoilt ballot papers?

(9) Is the petitioner entitled to have a scrutiny, and a recount of the votes? If so, was the counting of votes correct? If not, what is the correct number of votes obtained by each candidate?

(10) Is the petitioner entitled to any of the reliefs claimed?

Case for recrimination abandoned.

13. It being clear under the rules that the respondent was not in the circumstances of this case entitled to make a case of recrimination against the petitioner, at an early hearing it was stated by Dr. Sen Gupta for respondent No. 1 that he did not press for the issue No. 4 (based on recrimination). This issue No. 4 and the connected issue No. 3 were thereupon deleted.

It will be seen that the remaining issues as arising at this stage fell particularly under the following heads:—

(a) Want of qualification of respondent No. 1 (Issues 1 and 2).

(b) Misconduct or breach of rules by the Returning Officer (Issue No. 5).

(c) Undue influence alleged to have been exercised by certain Ministers and the Chief Whip of the Coalition Party (Issues 6 and 7).

(d) Whether the petitioner was entitled to have a scrutiny with a recount by reason of the defective ballot papers (Issues 8 and 9).

Petitioner succeeds on preliminary issue No.2.

14. On Dr. Sen Gupta's application, the Tribunal decided to take up issue No. 2 as a preliminary issue before going into evidence.

After hearing arguments of Advocates in detail on the points involved, the Tribunal decided this issue in favour of the petitioner. The petitioner was thus allowed to go behind the electoral roll; and to lead evidence of the respondent No. 1's want of qualification in spite of his name having been entered on the electoral roll at the date of the election.

Notice to Provincial Government.

15. During the hearing on this preliminary point the case was made on behalf of respondent No. 1, which the petitioner was not in a position to dispute, that the name of respondent No. 1 had been entered on the electoral roll for Noakhali, without any grounds or materials existing to justify such an entry. The Tribunal considered it as their duty to enquire into this matter and to receive evidence if available as to the circumstances in which the roll had been prepared. This was a matter affecting the interest of the public in connection with this particular election, which might be found to be a matter having materially affected the election; it also concerned the interest of the public generally. It was also a matter which might be found to affect the proper orders to be made as to costs. Enquiry was made from the Provincial Government asking them if they could assist the Tribunal by furnishing the name of the officer who had been responsible for the preparation of the roll and his present address; to enable the Tribunal to summon him to give evidence. Notice was also given by the Tribunal to the Provincial Government to allow them, if they so wished, to appear and be represented in the proceedings. A name of an officer was furnished. He was summoned; and in due course attended before the Tribunal. It was clear however that he had no concern with the roll or any knowledge of it. On further enquiry being made from the Provincial Government a letter was received from them stating that the position was in effect as follows:—

(i) The name of the respondent was included in the draft roll published in 1939. He did not apply for inclusion in the roll, but his name was included by the Circle Officer, Begumganj, who prepared the rolls of Begumganj circle.

(ii) There was no claim or objection in respect of his name when the rolls were published in draft

(iii) The Deputy Magistrate was the revising authority in respect of this portion of the rolls.

(iv) The respondent was not an elector in the rolls prepared in 1936.

Finding as to the preparation of the roll.

It also finally appeared that the officer whom they had reason to believe had been in charge of its preparation was now dead. The relative cess and other registers which had been called for by summons on application of the petitioner were put in before the Tribunal and examined by it. From these it was clear, and the Tribunal find it to be the fact, that there had never been any entry existing in the appropriate or any registers showing that the respondent No. 1 had paid any cess which would have entitled him to have been placed on the electoral roll or any cess at any time. In these circumstances no further evidence on this matter being available, the Tribunal considered it fruitless to carry any enquiry any further as to this aspect of the matter. Mr. S. M. Basu appearing on behalf of the Provincial Government stated that unless the Tribunal desired the Provincial Government to be represented, they did not consider it necessary to be represented. That they did not wish to take any active part or side in the matter in dispute on this election petition. The Tribunal, therefore, directed that there would be no necessity for any one to appear for the Provincial Government at any subsequent proceedings; but if any question of any liability of the Provincial Government should hereafter arise, the Tribunal would inform Mr. Basu to allow him to make his submissions on its behalf as to costs.

Petitioner succeeded on Issue No. 1. Respondent No. 1 not qualified.

16. After the decision of issue No. 2 as a preliminary issue, Mr. Ahmed admitted on behalf of his client that respondent No. 1 had no other qualification by reason of his holding any post or paying any income-tax or on any ground apart from the ground of payment of cess. It was also admitted on behalf of the respondent No. 1 by Dr. Sen Gupta that the respondent's name was not on the register of cess payers, and that he could not claim to have paid cess; or qualification on that ground. In these circumstances he did not therefore further contest issue No. 1. Dr. Sen Gupta intimated that as no corrupt practice had been alleged directly against his client, respondent No. 1, he had no further interest in contesting the petition and that he would ask leave for respondent No. 1 to be discharged from the proceedings.

Respondent No. 1 withdraws.

17. The respondent No. 1 on his application was thereupon permitted to withdraw subject to certain reservations as to questions affecting costs, which are dealt with together in a later paragraph.

Substantial remaining question whether petitioner entitled to be seated.

18 The Tribunal having decided issue No. 2 (the preliminary issue) in favour of the petitioner and the respondent No. 1 having given up any further opposition on issue No 1; and it having been thus established that the respondent No. 1 was wanting in qualification to be a member of the Council and his election in any event would be set aside, the matter then resolved itself substantially into a question whether the election as a whole as affecting all the candidates should simply be declared void, and that it should be recommended that a fresh election should be held; or that the election of the respondent No. 1 alone should be declared void, and that the petitioner should be seated. There remained also the case made by the petitioner for alleged breach of rules on the part of the Returning Officer, and the case made by him for corrupt practices and undue influence, also any question of costs dependent thereon.

Petitioner's case for breach of rules given up. Returning Officer discharged.

19. Dr. Roy stated that his client did not propose to adduce any evidence as to breach of rules on the part of the Returning Officer; and did not wish to pursue his case further on that part of the case. Issue No. 5 was thus given up. On the Standing Counsel stating that his client the Returning Officer did not press for costs against the petitioner, the Tribunal discharged the Returning Officer from the proceedings.

Respondent No. 2 asks leave to appear.

20. Mr. Bireswar Chatterjee appearing for Basiruddin Ahmad (respondent No. 2) then asked for leave on behalf of his client to enter appearance and contest the petition as to the claim of the petitioner to be declared elected without a fresh election. The Tribunal directed that respondent No. 2 might be allowed to appear; but subject to his own risk as to costs in view of the fact that he had had notice of the proceedings from the beginning and had not hitherto chosen to appear.

Notice of withdrawal of respondent No. 1.

21. After hearing the submissions of Advocates for the respective parties concerning the procedure to be adopted for the continuance of the hearing and disposal of the election petition, it appeared to the Tribunal that a duty was imposed on them to take action under rule 35 of the Election Expenses and Election Petitions Rules (Volume II, page 211). The parties intimated they had no objection to such action. The Tribunal then in accordance with rule 35 decided to address to the Government of Bengal asking them to insert the necessary notification in the Calcutta Gazette notifying the withdrawal of the respondent and inviting other persons who might be entitled to do so, to continue the opposition to the petition.

Advertised in the Calcutta Gazette.

22. The requisite advertisement was then accordingly published in the Calcutta Gazette (Extraordinary), dated the 2nd February 1944.

Fresh respondent substituted.

23. As a result of such notification one Abdul Motaleb Maleck appeared before the Tribunal through his Advocate Mr. N. K. Sen. He asked for time to enable him to get instructions in order to file his written statement. After the short adjournment granted for this purpose, a Written Statement was duly filed on his behalf.

24. The opposition of this substituted respondent as outlined in the Written Statement was to the effect of objecting that the petitioner was not entitled to a declaration that he had been duly elected; and otherwise of adopting the Written Statement of respondent No. 1.

25. The hearing was continued on and after 23rd November 1944 with the substituted respondent appearing in opposition to the petition.

26. The respondent No. 2 thereafter did not appear further in the proceedings (check); and took no further part in them.

27. In regard to the issues raised by the petitioner as to corrupt practices and undue influence the President pointed out that if enquiry was to proceed as to these matters, this would inevitably entail protracted proceedings. It would then become necessary to demand the furnishing by the petitioner of further security for costs; as the amount so far furnished would not cover such further proceedings. The President further observed that while the Tribunal was ready, as was its duty to investigate any charges of corrupt practices or undue influence, however odious, or however far-reaching without fear or favour if relevant to the petition; yet it was clear that the allegations made amounted to charges against persons of the highest position in the Government of Bengal, and the Tribunal did not consider it would be right for it to allow a petitioner to proceed with a case on such charges in any irresponsible manner or without properly securing the position of the opposite party as to costs in the event of the petitioner failing to establish his case based on such charges. Dr. Roy then stated that the petitioner did not wish to pursue his case of corrupt practices and undue influence. Dr. Roy stated he did not propose to call the petitioner to give evidence. The petitioner having succeeded already in unseating the respondent No. 1 for want of qualification, the petitioner stood to gain nothing so far as the election was concerned even if he pursued this part of his case to a successful conclusion. The matter thus resolved itself into a question whether the Tribunal was under any duty itself to proceed with an enquiry on these questions for any reasons in the public interest. In view of the intimation of petitioner and respondent No. 1 that neither of them desired to pursue this issue, and the Tribunal not having any source of recourse to any public funds to defray any costs as of a public enquiry into this matter, the costs of which it would be unfair and impracticable to ask private parties to bear, and no prima facie case having been made out by any evidence, and having regard to the nature of the case alleged in the petition, which would be hardly possible to be proved if the petitioner did not give evidence in support of it, and having regard to the fact that any further enquiry as to the matters alleged in relation to these issues, if embarked on, would entail further protracted proceedings, the Tribunal decided it was unnecessary for the Tribunal suo moto to summon any witnesses or pursue an investigation of its own on this part of the case. The position being they had no evidence before them of any corrupt practices on undue influence, the Tribunal decided that Issues No. 6 and 7 should be decided against the petitioner and in the negative.

28. Dr. Roy also intimated that the petitioner did not wish to pursue his contention that wrong or defective ballot papers had been included in the count; and did not desire to claim any recount on any ground of wrong or defective ballot papers. Since the substituted respondent also did not claim any recount, it thus became unnecessary for the Tribunal to open or to look into the ballot papers. Issue No. 8 thus no longer arose.

29. In respect of the claim for a scrutiny made by the petitioner in his petition, Dr. Roy intimated that he now desired to press his case on the ground that seven or more votes given for respondent No. 1 had been given by voters after notice of his want of qualification; and that these votes should therefore be deducted from the count in the scrutiny now to be made by the Tribunal. Dr. Sen Gupta on behalf of the substituted respondent objected to the petitioner being allowed to make such a case at this stage on the ground that no such case had been pleaded in the petition. After hearing argument on the point the Tribunal decided, in view of the petitioner having included a claim in broad terms that "he had received the majority of valid votes" and had expressly claimed to be entitled to a scrutiny, though he had indeed put forward various other specific grounds in his petition, such as defective ballot papers, on which he based his claim to a scrutiny, and had failed to include any mention of any ground for votes thrown away as given after notice of disqualification or want of qualification as a basis for his claim to a scrutiny, and had so far given no particulars or indication of any such case; yet as Issue No. 9 had been framed in broad terms, it would not be in the interest of a fair trial of the election petition as between the parties if the petitioner were to be shut out from making this case. He was therefore allowed to do so and to call witnesses to prove his cas in this respect after giving particulars of the names of the voters whose votes the petitioner claimed should be deducted from the count.

30. Dr. Roy handed in a list of the names of seven persons who according to the petitioner's case had to vote for the respondent No. 1. He also handed in a list of the witnesses whom he proposed to call on this part of the case.

31. Thirteen witnesses for the petitioner were accordingly examined and cross-examined.

32. Thereafter five witnesses for the substituted respondent were called, examined and cross-examined.

Decision that petitioner not entitled to be seated; but there should be a fresh election.

33. After this evidence had been received, and after considerable argument on this part of the case had been addressed to the Tribunal, the Tribunal by a majority came to the decision that in the circumstances disclosed by the evidence the petitioner was not entitled to a declaration giving him the seat; but that their proper recommendation to His Excellency the Governor would be that a fresh election to fill the seat vacated by the late Khan Saheb Abdul Kasem should be held as early as possible.

34. It remains to state in this Report the reasons by which the Tribunal has been actuated firstly in coming to its decision (referred to in paragraph 14) on the preliminary point that this Election Tribunal was entitled to go behind the electoral roll and investigate whether the respondent No. 1 was or was not properly qualified for membership of the Bengal Legislative Council and the reasons on which this Tribunal came to the decision that he was not qualified: and secondly, the reasons by which the Tribunal has been actuated in arriving at its decision (referred to in the last preceding paragraph) that the petitioner was not entitled to be seated but that the proper recommendation to His Excellency the Governor was that there should be a fresh election.

35. As to their decision on the first point the opinion of the Tribunal has been unanimous. Their reasons have accordingly been stated in a form expressing their unanimous opinion. For convenience these have been set out separately in Appendix No. 1.

36. As to their decision on the second point the decision of the President and one of the Commissioners (Mr. Rahaman) constituting the decision of the majority of the Tribunal is that the petitioner is not entitled to a declaration giving him the seat but only to a fresh election, while the opinion of the other Commissioner (Mr. Haldar) differing from the opinion of the majority is that the petitioner was entitled to be granted the seat without any fresh election. The opinion of the majority giving their reasons is set out in Appendix No. 2; while that of the other Commissioner is set out in Appendix No. 3.

37. One of the Commissioners (Mr. Rahaman) though fully agreeing with the conclusion of the majority of the Tribunal has expressed a view that he has arrived at these conclusions on different reasoning. He has expressed a desire that his reasons also should be recorded. His views therefore are also forwarded in Appendix No. 4.

38. The findings now given by this Tribunal in this report in pursuance of clause 10 of Part III of the Government of India (Provincial Elections) (Corrupt Practices and Election Petitions) Order, 1936, accordingly are that neither the corrupt practices alleged in the petition nor any corrupt practices have been proved to have been committed either by the respondent No. 1 or by his agent or with the connivance of him or his agent or by any other candidate or their agents or with their connivance.

In pursuance of clause 8 of the last mentioned order we now herein also report as follows:—

Firstly that the respondent No. 1 (the returned candidate) has not been duly elected, on account of his want of qualification for the reasons stated in this our Report and in Appendix No. 1 thereto;

Secondly that the petitioner (who has in petition claimed the seat) has not been duly elected for the reasons stated in this our Report and in Appendices No. 2 and No. 3 thereto;

Thirdly that in consequence of these our decisions the vacancy for the seat in the Bengal Legislative Council vacated through the death of the late Khan Saheb Abdul Quasem is continuing and a fresh election will be necessary to be held in order to fill the said seat;

Fourthly that our recommendation as to the total amount of costs which are payable in connection with the hearing of this petition and the persons by and to whom such costs shall be paid are as stated in the next ensuing paragraph.

39 The following considerations have been taken into account by the Tribunal in relation to the question of costs. The petitioner has succeeded on Issues Nos. 1 and 2 (and partially on No. 10) as against respondent No. 1 (Habibulla Chowdhury). The substituted respondent (Abdul Motaleb Malik) has succeeded against the petitioner on the issues arising out of issue No. 9 (the claim by the petitioner to be seated without a fresh election): the hearing on this issue has in fact taken far more time than for all the other issues. The petitioner has failed on (or given up) all the other issues. Having regard to all the circumstances of the case we recommend that a sum of Rs. 500 be paid by respondent No. 1 (Habibulla Chowdhury) to the petitioner; and a sum of Rs. 1,500 be paid by the petitioner to the substituted respondent (Abdul Motaleb Malik).

40. Much of interest has emerged from the discussions had in connection with the hearing of this petition. The Tribunal are much indebted to the Advocates appearing for the several parties for the industry and care with which they have conducted their researches and the assistance they have throughout given to the Tribunal. This may be the first occasion when a candidate in Bengal has made a claim to the seat on the ground of votes being thrown away after notice of disqualification. In these circumstances it may not be out of place if we embody in the last paragraph of this Report certain recommendations not directly affecting issues raised between the parties but of a general nature. We would recommend:—

(1) That the advisablility be considered of taking steps to secure the amendment of clause 16*(3)* of Part I of the Government of India (Provincial Legislative Councils) Order, 1936 (Volume I, page 371), in some such manner as to the following effect:—

After the word "unless" for the words "he is entitled to vote in": the following words should be substituted:—

> "he is both possessed of the actual qualifications requisite to entitle him to inclusion in the electoral roll for, and is also in fact included in the electoral roll for,"

(2) That it may be considered whether any amendment on similar lines is desirable for clause 16*(2)*.

(3) That clear rules should be made, if possible, stipulating in what circumstances votes are to be treated on a scrutiny by an Election Tribunal as thrown away after notice of disqualification of a candidate. We would tentatively suggest for consideration that the rules should include the following stipulations:—

(a) That effective notice where necessary should only be allowed to be given in cases of disqualification and not in cases of mere want of qualification;

(b) That notice must be given before the commencement of the poll in all cases;

(c) That notice must be in writing;

(d) and signed by either a candidate himself or his agent (not by voters or others);

(e) and delivered to the Returning Officer and to the candidate whose want of qualification is complained of;

(f) and, to ensure its proper communication to the voters, that some degree of a minimum of publication should be required.

Rules on these lines would ensure that in cases of mere want of qualification, there would always be a fresh election.

We wish to make it clear that these recommendations made in this paragraph are outside those which we are under any statutory duty to make under clause 8 or clause 10 of Part III of the Government of India (Provincial Elections) (Corrupt Practices and Election Petitions) Order, 1936 (Volume I, page 386); and do not call for the issue of any orders under clause 8 or the taking by Government of any executive action under that Order; but are forwarded only in the public interest in case they may be of assistance to those concerned with the regulation of proceedings connected with elections in India.

21st March, 1945.

Appendix No. 1.

1. Issue No. 2 which, as an issue of law only, was taken up as a preliminary issue for argument and decision before evidence was gone into (as has been mentioned in paragraph 14 of the Report) was as follows:—

> "In view of the inclusion of the respondent No. 1's name in the electoral roll for the Noakhali territorial constituency, is the Tribunal competent to consider whether he had the requisite qualifications for being entered on the electoral roll; or is the entry conclusive in regard to his right to be a candidate?"

2. The scheme of the Orders and Rules made under the Government of India Act and governing the nomination and scrutiny of nomination of a candidate for election to the Bengal Legislative Council is contained in the Bengal Legislative Council Electoral (Conduct of Elections) Rules, 1936, Part II, (Volume II, page 148). Under rule 61, for elections by members of the Bengal Legislative Assembly, as under rule 6 for other elections, the Returning Officer is given power to examine and decide objections to nomination papers including objections of want of qualification and of disqualification only to the extent there stated; and the effect of rule 61(2)(b)(i), (Volume 2, page 170) is that whereas the Returning Officer can reject a nomination on a ground which is stated in the regulations to be a positive disqualification, he cannot go behind the electoral roll for any matters of mere want of qualification which are not made statutory disqualifications. The wording as to this is clear: "For the purposes of this rule.....the production of any certified copy of an entry made in the electoral roll of any constituency shall be conclusive evidence of the right of an elector named in that entry to stand for election unless....."

3. The powers and duties of an Election Tribunal (appointed after an Election Petition has been filed on grounds of objection to the want of qualification of a candidate), to look into the question of the proper qualification of a candidate is laid down in Part III of the Government of India (Provincial Elections) (Corrupt Practices and Election Petitions) Order, 1936 (Volume I page 383). Under clause 7(c): ".....if in the opinion of the Commissioners.....the result of the election has been materially affected by the improper acceptance or rejection of any nomination or by reason of the fact that any person nominated was not qualified, or was disqualified for election.....or by any non-compliance with the provisions of the Act or of this Order, or of any Act of the Provincial Legislature or Rules relating to the election.....the election of the returned candidate shall be void."

It is clear in our opinion from the express and positive wording of this clause that it is not intended that the powers of an Election Tribunal, in investigating a question of want of qualification of a candidate not amounting to a statutory disqualification, are to be restricted in the same way as those of a Returning Officer in not being allowed to look behind the entry on the Electoral Roll. As to this the following considerations seem conclusive.

Had it been intended to give an Election Tribunal no more than the same powers as a Returning Officer and to make the proceedings on an Election Petition before an Election Tribunal no more than an appeal from the decision of the Returning Officer (to see only if he had come to a wrong decision in the exercise of his powers), there would have been no point in saying any thing beyond the phrase "improper acceptance or rejection of any nomination". The express words "or by reason of the fact that any person nominated was not qualified" which obviously covers a field of enquiry not open to the Returning Officer in the face of an entry on the roll, make it clear in our view that the Tribunal is not only authorised but expressly enjoined fully to investigate any question of want of qualification.

Furthermore it is of importance to note that the important words in clause 7(1)(c) now under consideration are new; having been specially inserted when the Corrupt Practices Order of 1936 was made under the new Government of India Act, 1935. Previously to that under the rules existing for Bengal under the previous Government of India Act, 1919, the corresponding regulation was rule 44C, worded as follows:—

> "Save as hereinafter provided by this rule, if in the opinion of the Commissioners, the result of the election has been materially affected by the improper acceptance or refusal of any nomination, or the improper reception or refusal of a vote, or the reception of any vote which is void, or any non-compliance with the provisions of the Act or the rules or regulations made thereunder, or by any mistake in the use of any form annexed thereto.....the election of the returned candidate shall be void."

It is at once to be seen by comparison with the present clause 7(1)(c) that the above rule was in all other respects precisely similar in effect and parallel in wording but for the important special addition in the new clause 7(1)(c) of the words:—

> "or by reason of the fact that any person nominated was not qualified or was disqualified for election".

In our opinion these words must have been added for the definite and sole purpose of enlarging the powers of an Election Tribunal in proceedings before it on an Election Petition such as this and with the very object that they should have the power and be under the duty of fully investigating any question relating to the actual possession of all requisite qualifications by a candidate; unfettered by such restrictions as are in this respect placed on a Returning Officer at the earlier stage of scrutinising his nominations.

Most important of all, there is a clear absence of any provision in the case of the powers and duties given to an Election Tribunal similar to that in rule 6(2)(b)(i) for the Returning Officer, making the electoral roll "conclusive evidence" in the proceedings before the Election Tribunal. The qualifying words used in rule 6(2)(b)(i)—"for the purposes of this rule"—since that rule is confined to scrutiny of nominations before the Returning Officer, makes it abundantly clear that no such restriction (in not being allowed to go behind the electoral roll) operates for the hearing of an election petition before an Election Tribunal.

4. The material provision relating to the Bengal Legislative Council as to its composition and the qualificatons requisite for membership (both as to disqualification and as to want of qualification not classified as disqualification) are the following. Section 61(1) of the Government of India Act, 1935 (composition); section 69 and section 70 (ibid) (statutory offence for sitting when disqualified or not qualified); the Fifth Schedule, clause (1) where it is expressly laid down that "a person shall not be qualified to be chosen to fill a seat.....unless (in addition to (a) and (b) as to nationality and age)" he possesses such, if any, of the other qualifications specified in, or prescribed under this Schedule as may be appropriate in his case."

Then under clause 17 of the Fifth Schedule it is again provided:

"....the qualifications to be possessed by members" (of the Bengal Legislative Council) "shall be such as may be prescribed."

The word "prescribed" by the definition of it under clause 19 of the Fifth Schedule directly relates to:

I. Relative provisions made in the United Kingdom in Orders of His Majesty in Council—such as the Government of India (Provincial Legislative Councils) Order, 1936, to which we shall refer for brevity as "The Councils Order". Also such as the Government of India (Provincial Elections) (Corrupt Practices and Election Petitions) Order, 1936, to which we shall refer for brevity as "The Corrupt Practices Order".

II. Relative provisions made by an Act of the Provincial Legislature (of Bengal)—we are not aware of any which are material to the present inquiry.

III. Relative provisions made in the Rules made by His Excellency the Governor exercising his individual judgment within the rule-making power afforded by clause 20 of the Fifth Schedule read with paragraph 23 of Part I of the Councils Order (for matters not covered in the Government of India Act itself or any order of His Majesty in Council or any Act of the Provincial Legislature)—such as the Bengal Legislative Council Electoral (Preparation, Revision and Publication of Electoral Rolls) Rules, 1936, to which we shall refer for brevity as "The Rolls Rules": also such as the Bengal Legislative Council Electoral (Conduct of Elections) Rules, 1936, to which we shall refer for brevity as "The Elections Rules."

Under the Councils Order, clauses 16(1) and 16(3) the following provisions are laid down in respect of "Qualifications of Candidates":—

"16(1) The provisions of this paragraph shall have effect with respect to the qualifications to be possessed by members of the Legislative Council of a Province.

16(3) A person shall not be qualified to be chosen to fill a seat to be filled by a person elected by the members of the Legislative Assembly of a Province unless he is entitled to vote in the choice of a member to fill some seat in the Legislative Council of that Province."

5. As to the actual qualifications in detail requisite for Bengal for inclusion on the electoral roll for voting for election of a member to the Bengal Legislative Council, these are to be found in Part IV of the Councils Order (Volume 1, page 372) of which clauses 1 and 4 read with clause 9(2)(b) directly apply to the present case.

6. It is unnecessary to consider those in any further detail since it is admitted by all concerned that respondent No. 1 does not and did not either at the time of nomination or at the time of the election actually possess those actual qualifications. And that he was not lawfully entitled to inclusion on the electoral roll; and never has been.

7. If the matter rested there, there would be no room for any further discussion. It would be obvious that the respondent No. 1 was not qualified to be elected. It will be noted however that the words used in clause 16(3) are "entitled to vote". Now under clause 4 of an earlier part of the Councils Order which does not deal directly with the qualifications of candidates but is headed "Delimitation of Territorial Constituencies" and deals in fact primarily with the right to vote at an election, it is provided:—

"There shall be an electoral roll for every territorial constituency, and no person who is not, and except as expressly provided by the Fifth Schedule to the Act and this Order, every person who is, for the time being included in the electoral roll for any such constituency shall be entitled to vote in that constituency."

8. In the present case it is clear that the respondent No. 1 was in fact included on the Electoral Roll at the time of the election. It is equally clear he was included on it unlawfully.

9. The question then for our decision is, which is the test—mere inclusion on the roll even if unlawful or possession of the qualifications by which alone a person is lawfully entitled to inclusion on the roll? Which of these two tests are we to apply in deciding the question that by clause 7 of the Corrupt Practices Order we are directed to decide: Whether the respondent No. 1 "was not qualified or disqualified for election."

10. The Legislature could have made the test for qualification of a candidate either (a) actual possession of certain minimum qualifications or (b) mere entry on the electoral roll. Or it might also have stipulated for possession of qualifications plus actual entry on the roll; in which case entry on the roll could not be treated as barring an opponent from proving by evidence an actual want of qualification, where the roll had been wrongly prepared. It obviously could not stipulate for actual possession of qualifications plus entry on the roll, and at the same time enact that entry on the roll would be conclusive evidence of qualification. This would result in an absurd position: in that case it would be meaningless to stipulate for actual possession of the qualifications at all if no Tribunal were to be allowed to go behind the electoral roll: equally it would be meaningless to stipulate for the electoral roll to be conclusive if the intention was to allow enquiry by a

Tribunal into questions of qualification. (We are not now concerned with questions of statutory disqualifications, for which both the Returning Officer scrutinising nominations and an Election Tribunal has in all cases been allowed to go behind the electoral roll.)

11. For the respondent No. 1 it has been contended that clause 16(3) with clause 4 makes mere entry on the electoral roll the sole conclusive test. And that mere entry on the roll will remain the sole test no matter whether the inclusion had been lawful or unlawful.

12 In our view clause 16(3) of Part 1 of the Councils Order (bearing in mind that it is part of an Order made under powers drawn directly under clause 1(c) of the Fifth Schedule of the Government of India Act, 1935) imports a test of actual possession of qualifications such as those detailed in Part IV for Bengal of the same order. Parts II, III, IV, V, VI and VII merely give the details of qualifications as they differ in the different provinces of Madras, Bombay, Bengal, the United Provinces, Bihar and Assam respectively, which if they had not differed in matters of detail might equally well have been stated in the body of clause 16(3) itself as "the qualifications to be possessed by members" which are spoken of in clause 16(1).

The provisions of clauses 16(1) and 16(3) must, we consider, be read with the governing and overriding provisions of clause 1 of the Fifth Schedule. There actual possession of the qualifications is positively stipulated: (the words are "a person shall not be qualified to be chosen to fill a seat.....unless.....he possesses.....the qualifications .....prescribed").

Read in this light the words "entitled to vote" relate directly to the qualifications mentioned in Part IV of the Councils Order. And actual possession of the qualification (in clause 4, Volume I, page 374) of having paid cess is made a positive condition of the qualification of respondent No. 1 in the present case.

Had it been intended in clause 16(3) to make the sole and conclusive test for qualification of a candidate to be mere entry on the roll, there would have been no difficulty in saying so in simple and direct words.

In the total absence of any statutory provision making the electoral roll conclusive evidence in proceedings on an Election Petition before an Election Tribunal, we are not prepared to come to a conclusion that this Tribunal is debarred from looking beyond the roll, and from looking into a question of want of actual qualification and from coming to a finding that a candidate having no actual qualifications at all for inclusion on the roll is unqualified in law from election as a member, where his name has been included in the electoral roll unlawfully and in fraud of the Act.

13. We take the view that this Tribunal in enquiring into the qualifications of the returning candidate and in considering the question whether he was on the date of the election "entitled to vote", has to see whether he was lawfully entitled to vote. And in considering any question whether he was lawfully "entitled to vote" through inclusion on the electoral roll, has to see whether he was entitled lawfully to inclusion on the electoral roll (in accordance with Part IV of the Councils Order, Volume I, pages 372-376).

14. It is true that it would have been simpler if the qualifications to be elected a member of the Bengal Legislative Council had been positively stated in the form of qualifications directly stated as qualifications for membership of that body, and not by indirect reference to the qualifications of a voter; and if they had been simply stated in a simple list in one place. As it is the qualifications requisite to be a member (clause 16) are made dependent on the qualifications requisite for a voter. But it seems fully clear not only from clause 16 but from the other enactments already referred to in the Orders and in the parent Act that when once those qualifications have been ascertained it is made a condition that a person must actually possess them in order to take his seat as a member.

15. In relation to the words "for the time being" used in clause 4 as qualifying the words "included in the electoral roll", it may be observed that these do not in our view mean the same thing as if it had been said "whether lawfully or unlawfully". Clause 4 forms part of the directions dealing with the process of actually voting in the sense of doing the physical act by marking ballot papers on the day of the election. When the time-lag between the date of the preparation of an electoral roll and the date when the election is held is considered, it is obvious at once that the officer in charge of a polling booth cannot be expected to go into considerations whether the position as to a voter's being entitled to be given a ballot paper and vote has changed since the date (it may be years back) when the roll was prepared: but must act on the roll as it stands. This in itself sufficiently indicates the necessity for the use of the words "for the time being" as used in clause 4. Even assuming all entries on the roll to have been lawfully made at the date of its preparation, there will no doubt be cases where particular persons might not be lawfully entitled to inclusion on the roll if it were being prepared afresh on the date of the election. We are not in this Petition concerned with any question whether on proceedings before an Election Tribunal some time after the election it will be open to show that a voter (wishing to be a candidate) who was lawfully included in the roll at the date of its preparation had by the date of the election ceased to possess the proper qualifications. In the present case it is clear that Respondent No. 1 (the returned candidate) has never at any time possessed any.

16. Furthermore, even if either the officer in charge of a polling booth when deciding to whom he will issue ballot papers or the Returning Officer when scrutinising candidates' nominations is bound to act on the roll as it stands (except for statutory disqualifications and in this sense to accept as entitled to vote all whose names are "for the time being" included on the roll brought to his notice), yet that is quite a different thing from enacting that an Election Tribunal when investigating the qualifications of a candidate is restricted to acting on the roll as it stands, when the roll is shown to have been unlawfully prepared.

17. The full operation of such stipulations for actual possession of the requisite qualifications as those laid down in clause 1(c) of the Fifth Schedule and Part IV of the Order, in so far as clause 4 of the Order would otherwise be repugnant to these, is expressly saved also in our view by the qualifying words in clause 4 itself: "except as expressly provided by the Fifth Schedule to the Act and this Order."

18. The wording of the relative regulations governing such a case as this in India differ from those in operation in the United Kingdom. Our decision in this case therefore depends solely on an interpretation of the various regulations operative for India and Bengal. For this reason we have not relied for our decision of this preliminary issue on any English authorities. It may be of interest to note however that the broad position resultant on our decision—that is to say the position that while a Returning Officer at the scrutiny of nominations may not go behind the electoral roll on a question of alleged want of qualifications of a candidate, yet an Election Tribunal may and does do so—is the same as the existing position in the United Kingdom.

19. We are aware that in one case decided by an Election Tribunal in Calcutta the Tribunal dealt with the case on the footing that an entry of a candidate's name on the roll was conclusive proof that he was lawfully qualified: See the Calcutta Gazette of September 16, 1937, Part I, at page 2325.

Reliance was placed on that decision in argument for the Respondent No. 1. It does not appear however that any detailed argument on this point was addressed to the Tribunal in that case. Moreover in that case it was stated that in a large number of cases both Indian and in English it had been held that the electoral roll as finally published was binding on the Election Commissioners, except where there were statutory disqualifications. It would seem to have been assumed from the authority of these cases that it would only be following settled principles of law as applied in the United Kingdom to hold that the Tribunal was bound by the Electoral Roll where it was a question of the qualification of a candidate as much as where it was a question of the qualification of a voter. The position as we understand it differs in the two different cases. It may well be the case that both the Returning Officer and an Election Tribunal are debarred from cutting out of the count a vote of a voter on the roll for any allegation of want of qualification. But when the matter is one concerning the qualification of a candidate, the position in the United Kingdom, it seems clear, is that whereas the officer scrutinising the nomination is debarred from going into a question regarding the qualification of a candidate, this question is open to be gone into by an Election Tribunal: See Rogers (20th Edition, 1928, page 63): where it is put thus: "He (the Returning Officer) has no jurisdiction to determine such a question as the qualification of a candidate, which can only be determined by an election petition. When he has once investigated the objections to any nomination paper and upheld its validity, then the candidate is validly nominated, though he be disqualified, and may be unseated on petition." The conclusion we have arrived at in the present case, that it is open to the Tribunal to go into the question of actual qualification of the candidate, without treating the entry of his name on the roll as conclusive proof of the possession by him of the requisite qualifications, would appear to us fully in consonance with and not in any respect at variance with the legal position in the United Kingdom; and in no sense contrary to the general principles of the cases relied on though not individually cited by the Tribunal in the previous election case referred to.

In any event however in our opinion the position in India stands clear on the regulations in force in India. As already noted in paragraphs 2 and 3 above, the position is that the electoral roll is made conclusive evidence for the qualifications of a candidate in proceedings of scrutiny of nominations: but not in proceedings on the hearing of an election petition before an Election Tribunal.

20. For the above reasons we have unanimously decided Issue No. 2 in favour of the petitioner; as stated in paragraph 14 of the Report.

Appendix No. 2.

The reasons on which I have arrived at the decision (referred to in paragraph 36 of the Report) that the petitioner is not entitled to be seated without a fresh election are now set out in this Appendix.

2. On this point though no fresh formal issues were framed, the following were in effect the subsidiary issues arising out of Issues No. 9 and No. 10 requiring a decision on this part of the case:—

(i) Whether any voters voted for respondent No. 1 with notice or knowledge of his want of qualification.

(ii) Whether they did so perversely intending that their votes should be thrown away.

(iii) Whether they did so in such circumstances that in a scrutiny before this Tribunal their votes should be deducted from the total of votes for respondent No. 1 as if they had never voted.

(iv) Whether a sufficient number of votes has to be deducted from the number originally declared as polled for respondent No. 1 as to leave the number of votes polled by the petitioner greater than the number of votes polled (before or without notice of his want of qualification) for Respondent No. 1.

(v) Whether in such circumstances the petitioner is entitled to claim a declaration that he himself has been duly elected on the ground that he received the majority of the valid votes within the terms of clause 3(2)(a) of Part III of the Election Petitions Order, Volume I, page 384.

3. Now it is clear in a case where all the candidates are duly qualified, a candidate declared by the Returning Officer to be unsuccessful may on an election petition before an Election Tribunal claim a scrutiny of the votes on a ground such as that of defective ballot papers. Then if on recount he shows that the remaining valid votes after throwing away all votes bad for defective ballot papers, and therefore invalid, leaves him with a greater number than those of the returned candidate, he would clearly be entitled to claim the seat on the ground of having received the majority of the valid votes within clause 3(2)(a). In that case the Election Tribunal would make not only a declaration that the election of the returned candidate was void on grounds within clause 7(1)(c) (Volume 1, page 386), but also a declaration that the petitioner in addition to so calling in question the election of the returned candidate was entitled to be given the seat for himself without a fresh election on grounds within clause 3(2)(a) (Volume 1, page 384).

4. A similar process of scrutiny would give a similar result where votes were found thrown away for having been given by voters who had been subject to undue influence: [cf. Malcolm v. Parry (1874) 9, C. P. 610]. In both of such cases the matter does not depend upon any question of any want of qualification in the candidate. The dispute is as between qualified candidates; and it is clear beyond all doubt that if on a scrutiny and a recount by the Election Tribunal a sufficient number of votes polled for the returned candidate are found to be thrown away, so as to leave the majority of valid votes with a second candidate that second candidate will be entitled to claim the seat.

5. A somewhat different position arises where the returned candidate is found by the Election Tribunal to be wanting in qualifications sufficient to entitle him to be a member.

6. The simplest type of such a case will occur where all the voters for all candidates have voted in complete good faith without any notice or knowledge of any want of qualification of the candidate. If the matter were res integra there might be room for argument propounding two opposite views. The one view might be that since there has been an election, and the returned candidate cannot fill the seat, and the candidate next on the poll is duly eligible, he should in all cases automatically be declared elected without a fresh election. This would have the advantage of saving further waste of time in filling the seat; it might be argued that it is the unqualified candidate's fault that he should have stood without proper qualifications, and that voters voting for such a person should not complain if their vote has become infructuous. A propounder of this view might point to the hardship inflicted by the opposite view on the candidate next on the poll, after having stood as a validly nominated candidate, in being put to the trouble and expense of a fresh election: [cf. Boyce v. White (1905) 92 I. T. 240]. The other view might be that though an election has been purported to have been held it has not been a fair election for ascertaining the views of the electorate; and that in every case where the returned candidate has been found not qualified, there ought always to be a fresh election. That as one of the candidates should not have been a candidate, there has not been a full or proper expression of the wishes of the electorate. That had the returned candidate not stood, it is very improbable the voters would have voted in the way they did vote, when they supposed him to be a proper candidate. Even apart from party politics the fact of a majority having voted for someone other than the second candidate will show the electorate does not wish to see the second candidate put in as their member. He might even be a person the majority dislike as an individual above all others. Further, that as elections are normally run on party lines, and the majority have by their choice of the returned candidate shown their preference for a particular party (possibly a Labour Party man) why should they be saddled as a result of that very election in their constituency with a member of an opposite party (possibly a die-hard Conservative or vice versa) when their sole object in coming from miles away to vote was really to keep that party out. That it will not be a fair result of the election if the second candidate is seated when shown by the election (either as an individual or as a member of a political party less popular in the constituency) not to possess the support of the electorate. The propounders of this view may well also point to the harsh operation sometimes of the opposite view if it had the effect of putting into office a person (the second candidate) who had only a very inconsiderable number of votes—as was said in the judgment of Crompton J. in Reg. v. Bester (1861) 3 L. T. 667. Compare also Nishi Kanta Chaudhury v. Gopeswar Chatterjee (1923) 30 C.W.N. 977 at page 980 where the reasons were forcibly put for having a fresh election, where the returned candidate was found not qualified. Though that was a case of a municipal election, where the plaintiff agitated his claim in the form of a suit under section 42 of the Specific Relief Act; so that the plaintiff was not in a position to claim or enforce any statutory right such as is created under clause 3(2) of Part III of the Corrupt Practices Order, 1936, and made available under that Order only to a candidate for a seat in a Chamber of a Provincial Legislature.

7. The principles of law governing such a case have, however, as we understand, long been settled in the United Kingdom as a result of judicial decisions. It is clearly established where the returned candidate is found wanting in qualification, but his voters had no notice or knowledge of his want of qualification, that the candidate next on the poll is not entitled to be seated, and there will merely be a fresh election.

8. The case of Boyce v. White (1905) 92 L.T. 240 is a good illustration of this principle. That was a municipal election for a Councillor. The petitioner and the respondent were the only two candidates for one seat. There was an enactment in force making the nomination of a person absent from the United Kingdom void unless his written consent given within one month of the nomination was produced at the time of his nomination. The nomination papers of both candidates were unobjected to and accepted on November 2, 1904. The petitioner only came to know on November 8 (the day of the poll) that the respondent had not produced the requisite written consent. The election was duly hld on November 8. The petitioner had not then time to print and circulate to the constituency a notice of any objection to the nomination or candidature of the respondent, but on that day he wrote out such an objection and took it to the counting and handed in his objection in writing to the Returning Officer prior to the opening of the ballot box; and thereupon claimed the seat. After counting and before the declaration of the poll the petitioner raised the like objection. The Returning Officer said that as far as his duties were concerned they were to count, and he could have nothing to do with the objection. The respondent secured 297 votes and the petitioner 172; and the respondent was declared duly elected. The petitioner presented an election petition claiming the seat. On the question whether the petitioner was entitled to be duly elected the following among other observations were made in the judgments of the learned Judges:—

By Kennedy J. ..."Here a person was elected who was not qualified to go to the poll and he got a large majority of lawful votes. He went to the poll apparently correctly and duly qualified so far as the knowledge of the voters was concerned, for his nomination was in no way disputed to the knowledge of those electors. He ought not to have gone to the poll, and he ought not to have been elected, but we can only declare this election invalid, and we cannot declare the petitioner duly elected". And by Jelf J. "If this matter were res integra there might be much to be said, for it is certainly hard that where the knowledge of the invalidity of the nomination only came at the last moment, so that there was no time to give notice to the electors, the validly nominated candidate cannot claim to be duly elected, but must go to the trouble of another contest. But it was considered in Hobbs v. Morey (1904) 1 K.B. 74, that on the whole it was in the interest of voters there ought to be a new election. I think Hobbs v. Morey was perfectly right, and we must follow it. The election was therefore declared void; and the petitioner was not given the seat."

9. In India prior to the Government of India Act, 1935 there were conflicting decisions. In some of these, where the returned candidate was found not qualified, the candidate next on the poll was automatically seated: cf. e.g., the Bombay cases of Joseph Baptista v. J. K. Mehta (1924) Hammond, page 187; and Abdul Rahman Khan v. K. B. Mahbub Jagat Narain's Reports of Indian Election Petitions, Volume IV (1930-1933), page 1. (In others not.)

Little assistance can be gained however from referring to Indian decisions prior to the Government of India Act of 1935; since the position for India in respect of a Petitioner's claim to be seated without a fresh election after a simple finding that the returned candidate is not qualified, has been made clear by the introduction of the Corrupt Practices Order, 1936. Clause 3(2) of this expressly enacts that a declaration that the petitioner himself has been duly elected shall only be claimed on one or other of the grounds mentioned in that clause. The result is, in my opinion clear; and correctly stated in the note to the headnote printed in Hammond at page 186. Apart from any question of corrupt practices, which does not now arise in the present case, the effect of this clause for any case where the returned candidate has been found not qualified clearly is to preclude an Election Tribunal in India (equally as in the United Kingdom) from seating the petitioner merely because he received the next highest number of votes.

10. A different position arises where requisite and sufficient notice of the want of qualification of the candidate is published before the election to all the voters; informing them that a particular candidate (who comes thereafter to be declared the returned candidate) is wanting in qualification, and that any votes given by any voter for him will be completely thrown away. In this class of case votes given for the returned candidate after such notice are treated in law as thrown away. The basis of the decisions is, that the votes given after notice or knowledge must be treated as having been given perversely by the voters so that they knew their votes would be thrown away. Then as is clearly established, all the votes given for the returned candidate being treated as thrown away, the candidate next on the poll is entitled to be given the seat without a fresh election.

11. The broad proposition of law was stated in 1808 A. D. in Rex v. Hawkins (cited below) by Lord Ellenborough C. J. in the following terms:

> "that votes given for a candidate after notice of his being ineligible, are to be considered the same as if the persons had not voted at all."

As there pointed out this proposition even then was nothing new; and the older cases of The Queen v. Boseawen (Easter, 13 Anne), The King v. Withers (Easter, 8 G. 2) Taylor v. Mayor of Bath (M. 15 G. 2), The King v. Munday (Cowper 537) (in which the other three cases were referred to) were there cited as having previously supported the proposition. It has been followed continuously since.

12. This general principle of seating without any fresh election the candidate next on the poll in this class of case has been clearly accepted and established in the following decided cases:

Relating directly to Parliamentary Elections.

(1) The Tavistock Case (1853) 20 L.T. (O.S.) 294.

(2) Trench v. Nolan (1872) 6, I.R.Rep. (C.L. Series) 464.

Relating to municipal and other elections.

(10) Brown v. Benn 53 J.P. 167.

(11) Boyce v. White (1905) 92, L.T. 240.

13. But though the general principle is clearly established there has been much controversy over its application. There have been conflicting decisions both in the United Kingdom and in India; and it is a complex matter to elucidate the principles limiting its application. Complex considerations arise both as to sufficiency of notice and as to the nature of the circumstances of want of qualification which will need to exist before any notice can effectively be given. The following will indicate some of the conditions which the Court has held necessary for the application of the principle: and various particular grounds on which it has refused to treat the votes given for an unqualified candidate as thrown away or to seat the next candidate without a fresh election:—

(a) Notice or in exceptional cases notoriety or actual knowledge is essential. Actual knowledge of the voters will suffice. Then the giving of notice is not necessary (see Rogers on Elections (20th Edition, 1928), page 80 and Parker (3rd Edition, 1920), page 273). Whether the matter is to be considered as to actual knowledge or as to notice, there have been exceptional cases where there was held to be such a high degree of notoriety as to make it unnecessary for the petitioner to prove either notice or actual knowledge: as in Beresford Hope v. Lady Sandhurst (1889 L.R. 23, Q.B.D. 79): [cf. Parker (3rd end. 1920), page 274].

(b) Though there were at one time decisions when this was not stressed as a test, we think it is now established that the petitioner must show that the circumstances in which the voters voted after notice were such as to lead to the fair inference of wilful perverseness on their part. See Drinkwater v. Deakin (1874) 9, C.P. 626 and the Clitheroe Committee's Report in the Clitheroe Case.

(c) It will not do if on the position notified to the voters there is room for any considerable ambiguity or doubt as to whether the candidate is really qualified or not. This is in a sense united with the question of perverseness. For if there is any considerable ambiguity or doubt it will naturally be impossible to say the candidate has voted perversely. In any event a case has to pass this test if a petitioner is to be seated without a fresh election: and indeed in some cases it has been treated as the only broad test which has to be applied. Thus in Cox v. Ambrose (1891) 55, J.P. 23 it was put in this way: "the test may be whether there is a reasonable difficulty as to the facts and as to the law." (In that case it was found the disqualification was so notorious that the votes given for him were thrown away. It was said. "No one could fail to see that Ambrose was under an existing liability to the council by which he was disqualified." The next petitioner was seated on that view of the matter).

(d) There were directly conflicting decisions whether a notice was enough which notified to the voters only the facts out of which the disqualification relied on by the petitioner arose, leaving it to the candidate's knowledge of the law to supply the legal inference, or whether both the facts and the legal consequence (that disqualification must result from the facts and that accordingly any votes given for such a candidate would be completely thrown away) had to be notified.

It has been held that no presumption of knowledge by the voter of the law exists regarding the legal consequences in respect of disqualification of a candidate arising in particular circumstances.

It was decided directly on this point in The Queen v. Mayor of Tewkesbury (1868) Q.B. that the mere knowledge on the part of the electors, who voted for the returned candidate, that he was mayor and returning officer did not amount to knowledge that he was disqualified in point of law as a candidate. Their votes were not thrown away: the petitioner was not seated: but it was held only that there should be a new election. It is no doubt a well known legal maxim that:—

"ignorantia juris, quod quisque scire tenetur, neminem excusat". But it has been held that while that maxim applies clearly so that "ignorance of the law shall not excuse a man or relieve him from the consequences of a crime or from liability upon a contract", it has no application to a voter when the law which it is suggested he ought to know concerns not himself but a candidate. (See The Queen v. Mayor of Tewkesbury (1868) L.R. 3. Q.B. 629 at page 633) and 635. It is true that Brett J in certain obiter observations on this point which was not directly decided in that case, expresses a view somewhat to the contrary in Drinkwater v. Deakin (1874) 9 C.P. 626, at pp. 642 and 643 and refers to the case of The Queen v. Mayor of Tewkesbury (1868) 3 Q.B. 629, expressing his doubt or dissent from the view as there stated. Brett J's view was to some extent supported in observations in Lady Sandhurst's case (1889) 23 Q.B.D. at page 85. But the view laid down by Blackburn J. on this point (at page 635) appears to have been generally accepted in the later cases. In India there would seem even less good reason than in the United Kingdom for the adoption of a view different to that of Blackburn J. We do not consider it would be in the public interest to press unduly as a general principle governing election cases (where the electorate is not always of a high standard of education), the application of any presumption, which imposes knowledge on the electorate of technical and intricate legal consequences of election law, so as to have the effect of fixing a voter with knowledge in the eye of the law of the disqualification of a candidate whom he could not in truth know at all to be disqualified. We shall therefore take the broad test to be, as stated above, "whether there is a reasonable difficulty as to the facts and as to the law". If there is, then we do not consider that votes given for the candidate, who eventually turns out to be wanting in qualification, can be treated as thrown away.

(f) As to the nature of the disqualification which can be made the subject matter of notice so as to result in votes if given being thrown away, this aspect of the matter was discussed in considerable detail in the judgments in—

Trench v. Nolan, decided in June 1872,

Drinkwater v. Deakin, decided in June 1874, and

The Tiperary Case, decided in May 1875.

It is not every disqualification to be elected that will also disqualify a person from being a candidate, or cause votes given for him to be thrown away. (See Parker, 3rd edition, 1920, pages 270-271).

It was common ground from those decisions that in certain cases such as where the returned candidate was (as the law stood at the time) (i) a woman or (ii) an alien, or (iii) a convicted felon, or (iv) an infant, notice could be given prior to the election of the existence of this fact and of his disqualification; and the result would be that any votes given for him after notice would be thrown away on a scrutiny held at a later date on an Election Petition: with the result that the Petitioner—if the votes thrown away were sufficient to turn the scale—might be declared elected without a fresh election. In such cases the disqualification of the candidate was considered to be in existence with legal effect at the time of the election. Notice given of the fact relied on as showing disqualification was treated as notice of a disqualification then existing at the date of the election. An important question however arose: was the position the same in a case where the want of qualification was said to arise out of acts of bribery committed by the candidate before the day of the election but in respect of which there had then as yet been no adjudication?

In Trench v. Nolan the decision went on the basis that this made no difference. Notice was considered sufficient and effective. The votes given after notice for the candidate, who was later at the Election Petition held wanting in qualification on account of his bribery, were treated as having been thrown away. The Petitioner was seated without a fresh election.

This decision was directly dissented from in Drinkwater v. Deakin. It was held, there having been no decision before the date of the election adjudging the candidate to be disqualified, it could not be properly said "he was a disqualified candidate at the time of the election" (page 640).

It was also held in effect that the decision of the Election Tribunal declaring the candidate disqualified did not make the disqualification relate back to the date of the election.

In the case of bribery discussed in Drinkwater v. Deakin, it was made clear that there was a positive statutory provision in the United Kingdom and applicable to that case ordaining that by the act of bribery a man became incapable of being elected, yet even so the Court held that the candidate who had committed bribery before the election was not disqualified at the time of the election but only after adjudication as to the bribery. The issue was directly raised in that case in this form:—

> "1. That Colonel Deakin was at the time of the election in point of law disqualified?"

This issue was decided (at page 637) as follows:—

> "The conclusion, therefore, is that neither apart from the statutes nor created by the statutes is there in a candidate from the moment of his bribery any such disqualification as to prevent him thereupon from being a candidate at the then election, and to make all votes given in his favour after such notice as if they had not been given at all. Invalid, upon proof of his bribery, for the purpose of seating him, they are; thrown away, for the purpose of seating his opponent, in my opinion they are not".

Lord Coleridge J. (at page 637) further observed:—

> "entirely accepting and being bound by the authority of such cases as Rex v. Hawkins, they seem to me to be altogether inapplicable to the present case".

The decision in the Tipperary case was in consonance with the decision in Drinkwater v. Deakin, since the disqualification relied on of the returned candidate was based on the double ground of his being (a) an alien, and (b) a convicted felon [see 9, Ir. Rep. (C.L. series) 217 at page 222].

The decision in Drinkwater v. Deakin stands as good law at the present day, at least as far as it has not been superseded for the United Kingdom by express statutory enactment.

The question then in such a case as the present will be: does the want of qualification come within the class of case where disqualification has been held to exist at the time of the decision without legal adjudication, or within the class of case where the disqualification exists only from the date of the decision on that point before the Election Tribunal.

(g) As to the form of notice requisite: it seems clear that the modern practice in the United Kingdom has been that the notice should always be given in writing. For common forms of such notices see Parker (3rd edition, 1920) at page 826 and Rogers on Elections, Volume II (20th edition, 1928) at page 521; and see Parker (ibid), page 276, et seq. It is obvious that, where perverseness in voting in the face of notice is to be shown on the part of the voter, the petitioner's prospects towards proving such perverseness will not be strengthened by the absence of any notice in writing from the petitioner or his agent, signed by him as an indication of his acceptance of responsibility for its contents, and put before the voters with some degree of emphasis and formality such as might reasonably be expected to be called for, in view of the inevitably serious nature of such statements as must of necessity form the foundation of any such notice making allegations if it is effectively to make a clear case of disqualification in a candidate.

(h) It has frequently been held that these principles in general governing the application of this principle to Parliamentary elections are the same as those relating to municipal elections.

14. While the general proposition as stated by Lord Elenborough C.J. (referred to in paragraph 11 above) still holds good, the extent to which the proposition is to be applied giving due weight to the various further qualifications discussed in paragraph 13 above has been adequately summed up in the judgment of Lord Coleridge C.J. in Drinkwater v. Deakin (1874), 9 C.P. 626, at page 641, approving and following the words of the Clitheroe Committee in the following terms:—

> "In a parliamentary election, in order to give effect to the notice, the disqualification must be founded on some positive and definite fact existing and established at the time of the polling, so as to lead to the fair inference of wilful perverseness on the part of the electors voting for the disqualified person".

Provided it is understood in the light of the qualifications already discussed, which it may be taken to embody in its terms, this enunciation may be taken as a convenient and authoritative statement of the limits of the applicability of the principle governing such a case as the present case.

15. So far I have assumed any notice given has been given before the polling started: without any complication of a notice given part of the way through the polling or to only a fraction of the voters. How is the position affected in that case? This was the principal question that arose in Rex v. Hawkins (above). In that case the election, a municipal election, was to elect an Alderman for a Borough. There were two candidates, Hawkins and Spicer. There were 40 voters. Two voted for Hawkins and two for Spicer without notice of any want of qualification. When these four had voted, notice was given to all the remaining voters present by the agent of Spicer that the defendant (Hawkins) was disqualified on account of not having taken the sacrament within a year. Hawkins admitted he had not taken the sacrament. The statute making it a necessary qualification was read out in the presence of the voters. After this notice the voting was completed, 20 more voters voting for Hawkins in spite of the notice and 16 more voting for Spicer. Lord Ellenborough C. J. in dealing with this point said:—"Is there any solid distinction between the cases I have alluded to as establishing the general proposition, and the present case, on account of the notice of the disqualification of Hawkins having been given after two persons had voted? We think there is not: there still remained 36 persons to vote, of whom 16 only voted for Spicer, and 20 for Hawkins; although we are not prepared to say that if the notice had been given in a more advanced (i.e., later) stage of the poll, it would have made any difference, provided the number of votes given for Hawkins without notice of his incapacity had not been equal to those given for Spicer". As it was, the votes given for Spicer were 18; the votes given for Hawkins before and without notice of his incapacity 2. Spicer was declared elected without any fresh election. The meaning of the observation just quoted is clear. Had the votes given for Spicer been the same—18; and had those given for Hawkins before notice been 17, (or any lesser number) and those given for Hawkins after notice been 5, it is clear from the passage quoted, that the Court would still have declared Spicer entitled to the seat without a fresh election. On the other hand had the votes given for Spicer been the same—18; and those given for Hawkins before the notice been 18 (or any greater number) with those given for Hawkins after notice 4: then the Court would not have seated Spicer and there would merely have been a fresh election.

Though this appears to be the only case brought to our notice of a partial notice given after a part of the polling had taken place and affecting only a specified fraction or a stated number of persons voting for the unqualified candidate, the principle laid down does not appear to have been questioned. And there are observations in later cases which clearly seem to show that this principle has been accepted as good law. Thus in Reg v. Bester (1861) 3. Law Times 667 it was put in this way: that the candidate next on the poll would be entitled to be seated (without a fresh election provided he had given proof that a certain number of electors knew of the disqualification, who were sufficient in number to turn the election".

It follows therefore in my opinion provided the other conditions as to sufficiency of notice, and as to the nature of the disqualification are complied with—so long as the petitioner can show a sufficient number of votes given for the returned candidate after notice, so that when those are thrown away, the number of votes received by the petitioner will be found to be greater than the remainder of votes given for the returned candidate without notice, then the petitioner will be entitled to be seated without any fresh election, even in a case where notice is given not to all but only to some of the electors.

16. That the basis of all the decisions, where the Petitioner has been seated, without a fresh election, on the ground of votes given for the returned (but not qualified) candidate having been thrown away, is simply that the petitioner becomes entitled to claim to have received the majority of valid votes—whereas when the votes are not thrown away the relative number of valid votes remains unaffected—is we think made amply clear from the consideration of the judgments in Rex v. Hawkins and Reg. v. Bester discussed in the preceding paragraph. If this were not the underlying principle, there would have been no point in speaking about "turning the election"; or in stating the dividing line, between a case where the Petitioner would be seated and one where he would not, to be "provided the number of votes given for the returned candidate without notice had not been equal to those given for the petitioner"; in other words, provided the petitioner (counting the number of valid votes received by him) had got a majority over the valid votes received by the respondent: (counting the remaining votes given for the respondent without notice of his want of qualification after deducting (throwing away) only the number of invalid votes given for the respondent after notice of his want of qualification). It is clear also that under the current practice in the United Kingdom votes given to a disqualified candidate after notice may be struck off in the process of scrutiny by an Election Tribunal: see Rogers. (20 Edition, 1928), Volume 2, at page 222.

17. It will be seen that the crux of the matter is whether votes in a particular case given for the returned candidate are to be treated as thrown away, as if they had never been given: or whether they are to be treated as votes not thrown away in that sense through infructuous and thrown away in the sense of being given for a non-qualified candidate.

If thrown away in the full sense, it clearly follows on a scrutiny by an Election Tribunal they are to be deducted from the count of valid votes; with this consequence that the next candidate may, if the votes thrown away turn the balance, rightly be said to have received the majority of valid votes. He may then be declared duly elected and be seated without any fresh election. If the votes under consideration given for the returned candidate are not to be treated as thrown away in the full sense, then the results merely are:—

(i) That the returned candidate is declared not qualified,

(ii) That his election only is declared void,

(iii) Since his votes still have to be included in any count of valid votes on a scrutiny—there being no legal authority to deduct them from the count since they are not thrown away,—the count remains as it was and the petitioner can only be said to have received a minority of valid votes,

(iv) The result is the respondent is not elected or any other candidate: nor is the petitioner:

(v) The vacancy continues: so there has to be a fresh election.

18. The crucial difference between the legal consequences when votes can be thrown away (in the full sense of the term) and when they cannot be is thus clear. Moreover the repeated use in these and other decided cases of the words "votes thrown away" is we think the use of an apt phrase used specifically with the meaning of making it clear that in such cases the votes "held to be thrown away" are to be deducted from any count of valid votes in a scrutiny on the hearing of an Election Petition before an Election Tribunal. It follows in my opinion beyond doubt that any votes which may be found in the present case to have been thrown away on the ground of having been given for the Respondent No. 1 after notice of his disqualification, must be deducted in reduction of the count of the total number of valid votes received by the respondent No. 1: and that if the resultant, reduced number of valid votes received by respondent No. 1 is then found to be less than the number of valid votes received by the petitioner, the petitioner is entitled to claim to have satisfied the terms of clause 3(2)(a) of Part III of the Election Petitions Order in that "in fact the petitioner received a majority of the valid votes"; and to be entitled to be given the seat without a fresh election.

19 Relating these principles to the present case, if we find that any votes given for the respondent No. 1 are to be treated as thrown away on the ground of their having been given after notice of his disqualification, it will be our duty to deduct such votes from the count of valid votes of the respondent No. 1 which we have to make in carrying out the scrutiny to be made by us on this Election Petition.

I will now next turn to a consideration of the facts on the evidence in the present case; and see how far any votes are to be treated as so thrown away and so deducted.

20. The petitioner's case as now made before this Tribunal is that one voter voted for respondent No. 1 with knowledge of his want of qualification: and that six voters voted for respondent No. 1 after notice of his want of qualification. As to the voting with knowledge the Petitioner's case is that the voter (Asad Ali Khan Panee) had actual personal knowledge of the following facts: that the Respondent No. 1 possessed no immovable property.

It was said that this voter had derived his special knowledge from an occasion when respondent No. 1 came to borrow a sum of Rs. 3,000 from him: that, in relation to the proposed loan, the question arose, what security respondent No. 1 would give; and that on that occasion respondent No. 1 himself told this voter that respondent No. 1 had no immovable property.

As to the voting after notice, the terms of the precise notice alleged to have been received by the voters on the evidence varies to some extent (since it was received only by word of mouth and from two different persons) but may be broadly characterised to be said to be of the following nature:—

> That the respondent No. 1 had no landed properties and had not paid cess; though he was on the electoral roll. That in view of his non-payment of cess he was not qualified for membership of the Council. In certain of the notices to certain individual voters it was also said that the notice included a warning that any votes given for Respondent No. 1 would be thrown away.

As to the place and time and manner of the notice, the petitioner's case was that it was given in the Council House Building in the Lobby on the same day as the polling took place. It was said that each of these six voters received the notice from one or other of two other voters: at hours varying with the time when the voters who received the notice came to the building, in all cases after the polling had started, but in the case of every voter receiving the notice before he recorded his own vote. It was given in conversation between the one or other of the two voters giving it and the recipient. That the two voters giving the notice were announcing the matter in a loud voice enabling all and sundry present and within earshot to hear. It was said that these other two voters had acquired actual personal knowledge of the above facts in the following circumstances:—

(a) That the one, Haji Badi, had been called in by the maternal grandfather of respondent No. 1 (one Abdul Aziz, B.A.) to settle in the capacity of an informal arbitration a dispute between Abdul Aziz and one of his brother's about a house in Chittagong. And that in connection with the arbitration proceedings Haji Badi came to know that respondent No. 1 had no immovable property in Noakhali. This informal arbitration is said to have taken place about 15 or 16 years ago.

(b) That the other, Maulvi Abdul Razzak, came to know in 1943, that respondent No. 1 had no qualifications. That this was in connection with an election to the constituency of Feni, when he interested himself in the election on behalf of one of the candidates and saw the cess roll for Noakhali Division.

(c) It was also the Petitioner's case that one Khan Bahadur Kazi Abdul Rashid, since deceased, told one voter, (Dhanunjoy Roy) that respondent No. 1 possessed no immoveable property.

It is to be noted that there was no notice in writing, or any attempt to put it into writing. No notice of any sort was given to the Returning Officer or to any official concerned with the conduct of the election or to any Minister of the Government or to any Government official. The notice was not given by the petitioner himself, nor by any election agent on his behalf, nor did he or any authorised agent on his behalf take any step or any action of any sort or kind in connection with the notice. There is no evidence or even a suggestion, either, that the two voters said to have given it were ever asked to do so by the Petitioner or by anyone on his behalf. The notice was not even given to the whips or Secretaries of either the petitioner's own or the respondent No. 1's party, or of any other party in their representative capacity with any request to inform their party.

21. It will first be convenient to consider whether this notice even if given in the form manner and circumstances alleged by the petitioner, would in law constitute adequate notice to render the votes given by these six voters thrown away.

I have already discussed in detail in paragraph 13 the conditions in which notice will be sufficient and effective for the purpose of votes given after such notice being thrown away. In the view of the majority of us the notice relied on by the petitioner in the present case, even if proved to have been given as alleged, would not amount to a sufficient or effective notice so as to render the votes of these six voters thrown away.

In view of the uncertainty and ambiguity of the position where a person was on the electoral roll in the capacity of a cess-payer, yet had not in truth paid any cess, and the difficulty for an elector in coming to a correct decision whether such a person was qualified for election as a member to the Council or not, we can not hold that any voters voting for him in those circumstances acted with anything in the nature of wilful perverseness, so as to use their votes as if they were not voting at all.

Furthermore it is clear that the respondent No. 1 by virtue of having his name on the electoral roll was entitled to have his nomination accepted; that his nomination was lawful; and that the Returning Officer would have had no power, even had he been informed at the time of scrutiny of nomination papers of his not having in fact paid any cess, to have refused to accept this nomination. The question whether respondent No. 1 was wanting in qualification, so as not to be entitled to be a member of the Council, was in these circumstances one which could only be decided with legal effect if and when an Election Petition came to be filed against his election; and only by the Election Tribunal sitting as we have been sitting here to adjudicate on that Election Petition. This being so, we are unable to hold that at the date of the election there existed any disqualification of the respondent No. 1 having any legal effect at that time.

Furthermore, where the alleged notice consists as it does in the present case of no more than what may be termed, without exaggeration, electioneering gossip or propaganda, between one voter and another passed only by word of mouth in conversation, without the candidate, who seeks to rely on it at the hearing of the Election Petition, having taken any part in it, or authorised the giving of the notice in any way, at the time of the election, we do not consider that this should be treated as notice in a proper form on wihch to base any claim by the Petitioner to the seat.

For these several reasons we consider that the notice relied on by the Petitioner in this case, even if fully proved, is not adequate for the purpose of rendering this a case in which the votes of any of these seven voters can in law be treated as thrown away, or for the purpose of his claiming the seat without a fresh election.

22. On this view of the matter it is unnecessary to go in detail into the evidence as to the giving and receipt of notice. It would suffice to say that having regard to the nature of the evidence which we have very carefully considered in its details, we are not satisfied that the petitioner has discharged the onus, which was on him, of proving beyond reasonable doubt that any of the various oral notices were given in conversation as alleged by him. It is pertinent also to point out that for him to succeed in turning the scale for the count of votes, he has to prove that notice was given at least in the case of five voters. The petitioner having received 103 votes, to claim the seat, he has to eliminate from the votes received by respondent No. 1 a sufficient number so as to reduce the votes counted for the respondent No. 1 to no more than 102 or less. The respondent No. 1 having been declared by the Returning Officer to have received 107 votes, the petitioner has to eliminate from these at least 5 votes. Nothing less will do.

23. Before considering the evidence of individual witnesses certain points may be noted of a general nature, as having a bearing on the value to be given to the evidence as a whole:—

(i) The petitioner to support his case must show that the votes which he seeks now to deduct from the count of votes of respondent No. 1 were in fact given by the voter for Respondent No. 1. In the United Kingdom the position we understand is different from that in India. The ballot papers and their counterfoils are numbered and a record is kept of the name (or number) of the voter to whom a particular ballot paper is given. A particular ballot paper can thus be identified at a scrutiny with a particular voter who used it. In elections such as the present one in Bengal apparently there is no means adopted for identification of any particular ballot paper with any particular voter who used it. Under the Indian Elections Offences and Inquiries Act, 1920 (Act 39 of 1920) it is enacted under the first proviso to section 8 (Volume I, page 329) as follows:—

> "Provided that no person who has voted at an election shall be required to state for whom he has voted."

The effect of this section clearly is, at the least, that no person shall be compelled against his will to answer a question put to him asking him to say for which candidate he voted. It might well be arguable that the effect of the section is more than that: and that it should be read as enacting that in the public interest for preservation of the secrecy in the fullest degree of a ballot, no such question should be allowed even to be put to a witness; and that no Court or Tribunal should allow such evidence to be given even when the witness wishes to give it. In the present proceedings no objection was pressed by the Advocates for the respondent against such questions being put; and the witnesses showed themselves willing to give the answers. In order not to shut out any evidence to the detriment of the petitioner, about the inadmissability of which there might be room for any doubt, the evidence was allowed to be given.

The resultant position may be noted however, in passing: It is this. Since there is no means of identifying any particular ballot paper with any particular voter other than the oral evidence of the voter himself, if particular voters were either unwilling or disallowed to come forward and give evidence testifying that they individually voted for the returned (unqualified) candidate, it becomes impossible for a petitioner to prove this fact. It thus ceases to be open to a petitioner to make such a case as this, that notice of disqualification (or want of qualification) was given only to some and not to all of the voters. The result, a healthy result in my personal opinion, would be that a petitioner would be limited to claiming the seat for himself on the ground of votes thrown away after notice of disqualification only in cases where, he could show a wholesale notice having been given before commencement of the poll to all voters without discrimination.

The present case is a somewhat unusual one, where the petitioner is relying on notice given to some particular voters but not to all. It is also unusual in this further respect. Here the petitioner has succeeded in persuading persons, who voted against him at the election to come forward and volunteer evidence, which they could not have been compelled to give; to support him in his Election Petition, the result of which (if he succeeds) would be that he and not the candidate for whom they voted will be declared elected.

(ii) As has been stated in evidence, respondent No. 1 was selected first by the Moslem League Working Committee, on April 18, 1944; and was adopted by them as the official Moslem League candidate, or as the phrase is "given the Moslem League Ticket". This was reported to the Moslem League Parliamentary Party who automatically accepted this selection. Then one or two days (not more) before the election there was a Coalition Party Meeting; that meeting accepted respondent No. 1's nomination by the Moslem League Parliamentary Party and accepted him as the adopted candidate of the Coalition Party. A whip of the Coalition Party was then issued and distributed by Parliamentary Secretaries of the Coalition Party on the morning of the 21st April 1944 directing members of the Coalition Party to vote for respondent No. 1. Mr. Shahabuddin (one of the Ministers) and Mr. Rahman (Chief Government Whip) who were present at both meetings have both stated that no question of the want of qualification of respondent No. 1 was raised at either of these meetings.

All three of the four candidates other than the petitioner had applied to the Working Committee of the Moslem League to be adopted as the official candidate. The meeting of the Working Committee did not take place till after the date for withdrawal of the names of candidates for election had expired. There was nothing therefore to prevent an eleventh hour change for adoption by the Moslem League Parliamentary Party and by the Coalition Party of one of the other two candidates provided they had time to arrange action in modification of the decision of the bodies concerned or of the whip. For the petitioner it has been contended that the constitution of the League would not allow of any such modification. For the respondent it has been contended that the constitution of the Moslem League did allow modification of decisions in urgent cases by reference to an officer or the Secretary; and in any event that someone could have taken the responsibility of action in anticipation of formal sanction. This only has a bearing on the probabilities. The petitioner's case is that the people concerned knew of the want of qualification but could not at the eleventh hour change the decision on the whip. The respondent's case is that they could easily have made a change (rather than elect an unqualified candidate to represent their party) only no one made any serious complaint of his want of qualification; and that this was the only reason no change was made.

(iii) The seven persons called by the Petitioner whose votes he claims should be thrown away were:—Abdul Latif Biswas; Maulvi Md. Abdul Sahaheed; Dr. Mafizuddin Ahmad; Atul Chunder Kumar; Jatindranath Chakrabutty; Masud Ali Khan Panee; and Dhananjoy Roy. All were at the time of the election, according to them, firm and loyal supporters of the Moslem League Coalition Party, the Party in office, while the petitioner was and is politically on the side of the opposition.

These seven persons all say they voted for respondent No. 1 (generally known as Bahar) in obedience to the whip issued by the Party to which they then belonged to, the Bengal Coalition Party also often called the Bengal Moslem League Coalition Party; and that as they were still members of that Party and accepting whips of that party they had no option but to obey the Party mandate. That they were bound to vote for Bahar because of the allegiance they owed their party and for reasons of party discipline.

Maulvi Mohamed Abdul Sahaheed was in April 1944 and has been since and still is a member of the Bengal Coalition Party, the party in power.

Dhonanjoy Roy was in the Bengal Coalition Party: left that party in June 1944 when the non-confidence motion against one of the Ministers (Mr. Pain) was tabled, in June 1944: but has rejoined the Bengal Coalition Party again during this last session of the Council: and is now accordingly a member of the Bengal Coalition Party in power.

Masud Ali Khan Panee is a member of the District Moslem League of Mymensingh, also of the Provincial League and also of the All India League. When first elected in 1937 he was not returned on any party ticket, was in the Government Party in the time of the first Ministry of Fazlul Haq. Later he resigned from the Ministry of Fazlul Huq and Shama Prosad Mukherjee and went over to the party of Sir Nazimuddin. And he has been since then and still is a member of the Bengal Coalition Party in power, The petitioner is his brother-in-law.

Apart from these three, the remaining four persons all changed sides in May or June 1944 and resigned from the Bengal Coalition Party and are now in the opposition.

In regard to those four persons it has been clearly shown from the official records of the Council Proceedings which have been put in, and has been admitted by them, that at least from dates falling somewhere towards the end of May or in the beginning or other part of June 1944 they seceded from the Government Party and joined the opposition. That they voted on motions in the Council for the opposition may be seen officially stated in the voting lists recorded for the occasions when there were actual divisions. The contention made in argument for the respondent is that as they admittedly formerly seceded from the Government Party by June 1944 it would be reasonable to suppose that they had formed a decision to change sides before that; and that before the 21st April 1944 they had already become lukewarm in their support of the Government Party. It was suggested that they cast their votes in secret ballot at the election on April 21, 1944, not for the candidate adopted by the Government Party but in fact for the opposition candidate, the petitioner. It is contended on behalf of the respondent that in any event their uncorroborated evidence that they voted for respondent No. 1 (the Government candidate adopted by the party they had deserted) should not be relied on. Undoubtedly they would today prefer to see the Petitioner elected.

(iv) The petitioner has not gone into the witness box to support his case of notice having been orally given to these voters. He was, as admitted by his witnesses, present throughout the polling.

(v) The two witnesses (Haji Badi Ahmad Chowdhury and Maulvi Abdul Razzak) who are relied on by the petitioner as having given the notice, say they discussed the matter with the petitioner and informed him fully of the want of qualification of the Respondent No. 1.

(vi) If they did so, and the petitioner knew at least by some date a few days before the election his conduct on the basis of the petitioner's case as now made is difficult to understand. There is no suggestion that he made any complaint or gave any notice in writing or even orally to any officer of the Government or any officials concerned with the election or even to any of the leaders or whips or secretaries of the Moslem League Party or of the Coalition Party or any other party to suggest that they should not support the unqualified candidate. One sensible explanation of this would certainly be that he himself did not know him to be and did not look on him as an unqualified candidate; that he had no knowledge that respondent No. 1 was not qualified, or was liable to be unseated. The petitioner has not come into the witness box to give any other explanation. It has been suggested that he (or his supporters) was laughing in his sleeve at the notion that an unqualified candidate was being elected. But if this was to end merely in a fresh election, it would hardly result to his full benefit. If he had any idea at all of claiming the seat for votes thrown away after notice of want of qualification, he should also have known that the vital element of success on that course would be that he would have to show he had given notice to the voters. He would then surely not have left the question whether notice was or was not given so much in the air, but should have insisted on notice in writing being sent—even if this was done at the last moment before the polling. One simple explanation for this would be that the petitoner in any event had then no knowledge of any right in a person in the Petitioner's position to claim the seat, as he now seeks to do, on a ground of votes thrown away after notice of disqualification; or of the necessity for notice and that that is why he did not give any. The petitioner has not gone into the witness box to give any other explanation.

(vii) Similar comment is open to be made as to the conduct of the two persons (Haji Badi Ahmad and Maulvi Abdul Razzak) who are said to have orally given the notice to these voters. They never complained of the want of qualification in writing or officially to any officer of Government or to any officials concerned with the election or to any of the leaders or whips or secretaries of any party. Their only suggested explanation is that they did not have time.

(viii) One possible explanation would be that all concerned were under the impression that as the respondent No. 1's name was entered on the electoral roll, he was entitled without more ado to stand as a candidate and, if elected, take his seat as a member. And that is why no one made any formal complaints about his want of actual qualification and why no one troubled their heads about giving any notice of it.

(ix) What the individual witnesses said as to the notice or knowledge they had was as follows:—

Masud Ali Khan Panee said he had personal knowledge of the want of qualification of the respondent No. 1 in the following circumstances. He said: "one day during the last part of last year (sic) he came to borrow some money from me. He asked for Rs. 3,000 so far as I can remember." He then went on to say that when asked for security respondent No. 1 offered a printing press and stated he did not own any landed property. He said he telephoned at the time of the election to Shahabuddin (the Minister) asking if he should vote for him in these circumstances; and that Shahabuddin told him firstly he must obey the party mandate and secondly that it was quite all right as respondent No. 1's name was in the voter's list. Shahabuddin who was called on behalf of the respondent and gave evidence, stated that no such conversation took place.

Dhonanjoy Roy (petitioner's witness No. 9) said that before the election after the submission of the nomination paper one Khan Bahadur Kazi Abdul Rashid, now dead, told him that Bahar had no voting qualification. He said the conversation took place between April 8, 1944, and April 21, 1944, at the Assembly building. Khan Bahadur Kazi Abdul Rashid as this witness admitted in cross-examination had been suffering from illness for a long time before his death, a month or two prior to the hearing; and had not been regularly attending the Assembly. He does not remember asking him why Bahar had no qualification. He did not ask anybody else about it. I am not prepared to accept this evidence as proof of notice had by this voter.

Abdul Latf Biswas said that on April 21, 1944, while he was entering the Assembly Chamber through the lobby (i.e., before voting) he heard Khan Bahadur Haji Badi Ahmad Chowdhury telling loudly, practically shouting, that respondent No. 1 had no cess qualification or no qualification whatsoever and he asked members not to vote in his favour because he had no qualification, though his name was on the voters' list. He said this was in the presence of respondent No. 1; and he thought had it been otherwise respondent No. 1 would have said it was untrue. He did not ask respondent No. 1 about it.

Maulvi Mohamed Abdul Sahaheed said Haji Badi Ahmed Chowdhury was telling the people (in the lobby) after the polling had commenced that Respondent No. 1 was not qualified to be enrolled as a voter. (The witness added on the next day that he also heard him say that he did not pay cess.) He did not speak to Haji Badi Ahmed Chowdhury (Q. 50), who did not address him in particular. The witness did not see Haji Badi Ahmed Chowdhury addressing any particular member. The witness did not ask the Chief Whip or anyone else about it. He said this was being said by Haji Badi while voting was in progress. He was not asked and did not specifically say, but seems to have meant to imply that what he heard in the lobby was before the witness himself had voted.

Dr. Mafizuddin Ahmed (petitioner's witness No. 3) said when he entered the lobby on the day of the election he found Haji Badi Ahmed Chowdhury there talking to a number of M. L. A.'s collected round him. And that he had a specific conversation with the witness, saying: "whom are you going to vote for, your party mandate is to vote for Habibulla Bahar (respondent No. 1), but he has no qualification whatsoever, he has no cess qualification. That Respondent No. 1 was very close: and the witness asked him about it. And that respondent No. 1 (who has not in fact been called) said there will be no trouble, go and vote for me, my name is in the voters' list. I am a duly qualified candidate, there will be no trouble." He also says Mr. Shahabuddin, the Minister, was near the gate of the Chamber; the witness went over to him and asked him about what Haji Badi had been telling him; and that Mr. Shahabuddin said, "don't you trouble about those things, because his name is on the voters' list, he is a duly nominated candidate, he will have no trouble." (Ex. 11), (Q. 143.) The witness then said Mr. Shahabuddin (the Minister) "then handed over to me the written whip and asked me to vote for Bahar (respondent No. 1) and straight I went and voted.

Mr. Shahabuddin has said that no one asked him anything about respondent No. 1's qualification on the day of the election; and that the first time he heard anything about it was in connection with this case (Q. 24). That he thinks he met Dr. Mofizuddin Ahmed on that day and exchanged greetings; but that he could not possibly have forgotten such an important matter (Q. 184) and is definite that Dr. Mafizuddin did not discuss with him respondent No. 1's qualifications (Q. 236).

Atul Chandra Kumar said he heard both Haji Badi Ahmed and Maulvi Abdur Razzak saying while canvassing that Respondent No. 1 was not qualified to be a voter, that he did not inherit any property, did not pay cess, did not own any property, was not a tenure-holder, how could he be a voter." That he as Parliamentary Secretary and Whip was looking after his voters, those voting on the Coalition Government side, and said to these persons: "It is no use saying all these things now, because his name appears on the electoral roll, and he has passed the stage of scrutiny" (Q. 69). And he told his voters to vote for the Government candidate. He did not take the matter up with the Minister (Mr. Shahabuddin) or the Chief Whip (Mr. Fazlur Rahman) or any of the leaders of his party. The reason he gives is that the decision of the party and the whip could not be changed at the eleventh hour.

Jatindranath Chakrabutty (petitioner's witness No. 6) gave evidence to a similar effect. He said on entering the lobby he heard from Haji Badi Ahmed Chowdhury that respondent No. 1 was not qualified, because wanting in cess qualification. He asked respondent No. 1 himself about it, who asked him to obey the Party Mandate. He did not consult any of the leaders of his party about it.

(x) As to the nature of the alleged knowledge of the two persons relied on by the petitioner as having given the notice to these voters the position as appears from the evidence was as follows:—

(a) In the case of Haji Badi Ahmed, the petitioner's case is that he was in a position to know on April 21, 1944, that the respondent No. 1 had no immoveable properties (and therefore would not have paid cess), and was not qualified to be a member of the Council. On his own showing the sole source of such alleged knowledge is something that one Abdul Aziz, B.A., the maternal grandfather of respondent No. 1, now long since dead, told him about 15 years ago (say about 1929). The occasion is said to have been that Haji Badi Ahmed was called in by Abdul Aziz to settle some dispute with one of his brothers. That Abdul Aziz had a house, now said to have been his self-acquired property, and that the result of the arrangement come to was that Abdul Aziz would retain sole and unencumbered ownership of that house, while certain properties in Noakhali may have been made over to the brother. That this arrangement was made in the form of an informal arbitration, never registered or deposited in any court but reduced into writing and written out by Haji Badi in his own hand. (Neither the original nor any copy has been produced: nor has evidence been led showing it to have been called for from the custody of any person expected to have it or that it has been lost.) It is said that Abdul Aziz by way of explanation in the course of the negotiations stated that he wanted to retain clear ownership of the house, so as to use the income of it for Bahar's and Bahar's sister's education: explaining that they had themselves inherited no landed properties.

All this has only to be stated to show at once how far removed the whole history is from the point under enquiry: which is:—what were Bahar's qualifications through his ownership of land and payment of cess in 1944.

Regarding any landed properties descending on the maternal side even if the conversation relied on between Abdul Aziz and Haji Badi, 15 years ago is fully accepted, this shows no more than this: that Bahar was not the owner 15 years ago of any of those properties.

On the evidence given it is clear that Abdul Aziz himself had several sons and daughters who later died leaving no children. A share of their shares of these landed properties would under the Mahomedan Law in the ordinary course have gone to Bahar. The position has in many respects obviously changed since the date of Haji Badi's conversation relied on; and he does not suggest he had any personal knowledge on April 21, 1944 how it has changed or what was the position then.

Regarding any landed properties descending on the paternal side, what a maternal grandfather may have told Haji Badi 15 years ago in Chittagong as to a different branch of the family in a different district is obviously hearsay of the most vague and indirect kind and either wholly inadmissible or so indirect as to be of no probative value. No evidence has been furnished of any kind to show that Haji Badi had any actual personal source of knowledge of the position of Bahar in respect of ownership of any landed properties paternal or maternal on April 21, 1944.

Had the respondent No. 1 been formally challenged by the petitioner to make a formal declaration as to his position, it might have been possible to assume that the correct position was put before the voters in a clear light.

Neither the petitioner nor any election agent on his behalf nor anyone acting on his behalf had it seems examined or seen the cess register at any time.

(b) In the case of Maulvi Abdur Razzak the evidence of this witness is that he had acquired knowledge that Respondent No. 1 was not qualified in the following circumstances. He is a resident of Feni. At a previous different election held in 1943 he interested himself on behalf of one of the defeated candidates Khan Bahadur Razak-ul-Hyder Chowdhury, in that election in canvassing voters in his local area of Feni subdivision. That in the course of his activities he compared the electoral roll with the cess registers and found a great number of names, about 200 to 300 persons, illegally entered on the electoral roll who were not on the cess registers. For some reason which he has not clearly explained he states not only did he examine the electoral roll and cess registers for the locality of Feni for which he was electioneering but also for Noakhali. He says he remembers seeing the Respondent No. 1's name was on the electoral roll, though not in the cess registers. Out of the great number of names of persons he says he found similarity illegally entered, he cannot now mention the name of a single one in his own locality of Feni, nor can he mention a single name other than that of Respondent No. 1 for any other locality. I am not prepared to accept this evidence; nor in my view, even if accepted, would it be enough to show that this witness had any clear and definite knowledge on 21st April, 1944, that Respondent No. 1 was not qualified to be elected as a member of the Council. The matter is however, not now of great importance. For though this witness (Q. 72) stated that he gave notice to several voters, such persons have not been called. The Petitioner apparently did not finally rely on any voter, whose vote he claims to have been thrown away, having had notice from Maulvi Abdur Razzak alone.

(xi) The fact may be relied on for the petitioner that respondent No. 1 also has not come forward to give evidence denying the conversations said to have been had either with him or in his presence. I have given considerable weight to this consideration. Undoubtedly the position as to the evidence made available before the Tribunal is in certain respects unsatisfactory.

(xii) I am fully prepared to believe that certain conversations did take place largely on the subjects as stated by Haji Badi Ahmed. It may well be in the course of canvassing that disparaging remarks were made as to respondent No. 1 about his having no land. Certain supporters of the petitioner may well have had suspicions without actual knowledge that Respondent No. 1 had no proper actual qualifications. Such remarks might well have been made in the hope of inducing waverers to favour the petitioner with their vote instead of him. But that is in my view far from a case of positive notice of a positive ineligibility to be seated and a positive warning that any vote given for him would be thown away; such as have to be shown in order that the petitioner may succeed in claiming the seat for himself without a fresh election. At the time when whatever conversations may have taken place did take place, it would seem, in my view, clear that none of the persons concerned had any idea or intention of giving any notice of the kind that might later be relied on as the basis of a claim for the seat in an Election Petition. But that the position on the contrary is that some considerable time after this petition had been filed, after the petitioner's advisers had made research into all possible grounds for claiming the seat, and after Petitioner had had the benefit of their advice, the present case of notice and votes thrown away after notice was sought to be built on the foundation of chance remarks made in chance conversations by supporters of the Petitioner while canvassing on his behalf on the day of the election.

(xiii) Having regard to all the circumstances and all considerations arising on the evidence, I am not prepared to find that the Petitioner has made out his case of notice or knowledge beyond reasonable doubt.

24. The result is on this part of the case that the decision of the majority of us on the issues set out in paragraph 1 above is as follows—

(i) The petitioner has not proved his case that any voters voted for respondent No. 1 after notice or with knowledge of his want of qualification; and that the answer on all the five issues there set out is in the negative.

(ii) The petitioner in our opinion is not entitled in this case to claim any declaration that he himself has been duly elected either under the terms of clause 3(2)(a) of Part III of the Election Petitions Order (Volume 1, page 384); or on any other ground.

(iii) Since the respondent No. 1 is not himself entitled to the seat, the vacancy for the seat which became vacant through the death of Khan Sahib Abul Quasem continues; and there should be a fresh election of a member to fill that seat.

Appendix No. 3.

1. I regret that I have been obliged to differ from my colleagues on this point, viz., whether the petitioner should be declared elected on the ground that he has obtained the majority of valid votes. The petitioner obtained 103 votes and Habibulla Choudhury alias Bahar the successful candidate who is respondent No. 1 obtained 106 votes. The ground of the petitioner is that several voters voted for Bahar with knowledge of his want of qualification and therefore these votes would be thrown away. Of such voters he has examined seven, and he claims that those seven votes should be thrown away leaving 99 votes for Bahar and 103 for him and so he should be declared elected as he has obtained a majority of valid votes. In this connection it has been accepted by both parties that the guiding principle in the determination of this point is that laid down in the leading English case of Rex. v. Hawkins of 1808 A.D. reported in 103 English Report, page 757 which says that "votes given for a candidate after notice of his being ineligible are to be considered the same as if the person had not voted at all". Two eminent English authors on Parliamentary Election and Election Petition have also spoken of the same thing. Rogers in his book at page 82 says "An elector who with actual knowledge, though without express notice of the fact of disqualification votes for a disqualified candidate, throws away his vote. At page 83 he says "An elector who votes for a disqualified candidate, with knowledge either of the disqualification or of the facts creating the disqualification, throws away his vote; and such knowledge will be presumed where the disqualification or the facts creating the disqualification are notorious." Parker in his book (8th Edition) after discussing disqualification which cause votes to be thrown away at page 270 concludes at page 273 to the effect that "It is now established that if an elector has actual knowledge that a candidate is disqualified, and nevertheless votes for such candidate, his vote is thrown away, although express notice of the disqualification has not been given to him. Full knowledge involves both knowledge of the facts and of the law applicable to those facts; but it is sufficient to cause the vote to be thrown away, that the elector should have such knowledge of the facts if he knew what legally constituted incapacity, would convince him, as a person of ordinary intelligence, that the incapacity existed, and the candidate is incapable of being elected." These observations of Rogers and Parker are based on reported English cases most of which were discussed before us. The cases discussed before us were the following:—

1. Rex. v. Hawkins, 103 English Report, page 757 (1808).

2. Though the general principle as quoted above has been an accepted principle it appeared from the cases discussed that there was scope for divergence of opinions as to what should be regarded as constituting sufficient notice of disqualification, and Dr. Sen Gupta for the substituted respondent emphasised this point of difference. But the acceptance of the following principles by Dr. Roy which includes the objections raised by Dr. Sen Gupta has obviated the discussion of those divergent opinions and made matters much simpler.

3. The principles conceded and accepted by Dr. Roy are (1) that the voters whose votes are wanted to be thrown away must have actual knowledge of the disqualification, (2) that the petitioner is bound to make out in order to bring himself into a majority that the voters were not only aware of the facts on which the alleged inability and ineligibility of the respondent arose, but also they had notice that in consequence the votes given by them would be lost or thrown away, (3) that there was wilful perverseness on the part of the voters to vote for the disqualified candidate after notice of the disqualification, and (4) that the disqualification must be founded on some specific and definite fact existing and established at the time of polling, so as to lead to the fair inference of wilful perverseness.

4. The word "disqualification" it seems was used in the sense of "want of qualification" also in some English cases, viz., The Tavistock case (20 Law Times, Old Series, page 294 of 1853) and the case of Taylor v. Mayor of Bath referred to in the Rex. v. Hawkins case (103 English Report, page 757). But here as seen from paragraph 7(1)(c) of the Government of India (Provincial Elections) (Corrupt Practices and Election Petitions) Order 1936, and also from "disqualification" as mentioned in the same Order, Part IV, a difference has been made between "not qualified" and "disqualified". "Not qualified" necessarily denote "want of qualification". The present case before us is definitely one of want of qualification—the case being that Bahar does not possess the necessary statutory qualifications as required in paragraph 4, Part IV of the Government of India (Provincial Legislative Councils) Order, 1936. It should be noted here that the case was proceeded with on the footing that Bahar was not a proprietor and did not pay cess and it was not suggested by both sides that he could be a permanent tenure holder, as mentioned in paragraph 4 mentioned above.

5. So the points for determination which include the view points of both Dr. Sen Gupta and Dr. Roy are now—

(1) whether each of the voters whose votes are wanted to be thrown away got actual knowledge of the want of qualification of Bahar,

(2) whether the facts constituting the want of qualification clearly existed at the time of the polling or were doubtful,

(3) whether the legal implication arising out of those facts were clear or doubtful, and

(4) whether the acts of the voters led to fair inference of wilful perverseness on their part.

6. If all the above things are proved and there be no doubtfulness in cases referred in points (2) and (3) then the vote will be thrown away. But if either of the points (2) or (3) are doubtful then the votes will not be thrown away, because there will be want of wilful perverseness then.

7. It is to be seen first of all what is meant by "knowledge". The dictionary meaning of the word knowledge as seen from The Oxford Dictionary edited by Sir James Murray which is regarded as an authoritative book as given at page 748, paragraph 8 is information, intelligence, notice, intimation. In the present case the petitioner's story is that one Haji Badi Ahmed, his supporter was telling the voters outside the polling both that Bahar did not possess such and such qualifications, and some of the witnesses who were examined heard him. This may be called information, notice or intimation given by him to the voters, and that will be sufficient to impart knowledge to his hearers.

8. Now regarding point No. 2 which is taken up first it was admitted by Dr. Sen Gupta when he was appearing for Bahar that he did not possess the cess qualification, and it was proved by the petitioner by the production of the D Register that Bahar was not a proprietor either.

Therefore that Bahar did not possess the above two statutory qualifications at the time of the polling is an established fact. It should be noted that an attempt was made by the petitioner to prove that Bahar had no residential qualification but that could not be proved. There is nothing doubtful in the facts constituting want of qualification.

9. Next question to be seen is point No. 3, i.e., whether the legal implication arising out of those facts were clear and doubtful. If the petitioner's case that Haji Badi told the voters that Bahar was lacking in the statutory qualifications, viz., cess and property qualifications (whether the story is believable or not will be discussed later on) be true then it should be seen whether the legal implication from the fact of want of statutory qualifications is clear or doubtful. To a person of ordinary intelligence if something which the law insists shall exist in a candidate be wanting the legal implication automatically follows that the candidate can be no lawful candidate, and any vote given for him will be thrown away. It requires no pointer or a warning to that effect, specially in a constituency composed of members of the Legislative Assembly where all the members can fairly be supposed to be men of at least ordinary intelligence. In this connection the observation of Brett J. in the Queen vs. Mayor of Tewkesbury case (3 Q. B., page 629) is worth quoting. "This proposition is concluded on all hands; when there are two candidates, the one qualified to be so, and the other not, and the voter has actual knowledge of the existence of certain facts and that they (i.e., facts) by law render the latter candidate incapable of being elected, then if the voter with such knowledge chooses to vote for such candidate he throws away his vote, and it is the same as if he had not voted". The facts of Rex v. Hawkins case and of Beresford v. Lady Sandhurst tally with the present case as in those cases there were the want of statutory qualifications as here. In the Hawkins case only the statutory disqualification was publicly read out and nothing was said about the legal implication. In the present case the want of statutory qualification was publicly given out orally and no legal implication generally was given but it was given to some voters. In the Lady Sandhurst case the disqualification was so notorious as knowledge of it was presumed, and no legal implication was stated. The legal implication followed from the facts, i.e., statutory disqualification in those two as it would follow from the present case which is a case of want of statutory qualification. It is interesting to note here what according to Dr. Sen Gupta the voters should have been told and should have had knowledge of, viz., (1) that Bahar did not pay cess of over Rs. 50, (2) that his name was not registered as the proprietor of any estate or tenure, and (3) that in law this constituted a disqualification. If the evidence on the side of the petitioner is believed then it would appear that the voters were told that Bahar did not pay any cess and that he had no property and were asked not to vote for Bahar. For all intents and purposes the voters were told what Dr. Sen Gupta would have them told and know.

10. Once Dr. Sen Gupta stressed a point that the legal implication of the opinion of a previous Tribunal presided over by McNair J. should have been laid before the voters, though subsequently in formulating the three points above stated he did not mention it. The report of that tribunal was published in the Calcutta Gazette of the 16th September 1937, page 2325. In short the opinion expressed by that Tribunal was that because the candidate was entitled to vote on the strength of his name being on the electoral roll he was qualified to be a candidate irrespective of the question of his other qualifications which according to that Tribunal could not be gone into by any election tribunal. Supposing that this was stated to the voter then how was the legal implication to be told? The position would be this—the voters will be told first of all that the candidate lacks such and such statutory qualifications so do not vote for him. Then at the next breath the attention of the voters would be drawn to that tribunal's opinion and they will be told that qualification or no qualification he could vote for that candidate as his name stood on the electoral roll. It would place the voter to choose between this opinion and his knowledge of the facts which in point of law disqualifies a candidate (i.e., the want of statutory qualifications mentined above. If he chooses this opinion in spite of his above knowledge and votes for the candidate his vote will be thrown away. The observation of Blackburn J. in the Mayor of Tewkesbury's Case is to that effect. It runs thus: "I think that where a voter is informed that a certain circumstance in point of law disqualifies a candidate even although he may hold a different opinion yet if he afterwards votes for that candidate his vote is thrown away." Similar observations are found in the judgment of Lord Denman C. J. in Gosling v. Veley (16, L.J., page 201).

Again when neither Haji Badi nor anybody else even the respondents' witnesses knew of the opinion of the McNair Tribunal for none was questioned about his knowledge of this opinion) nobody could refer it to the voters before the time of election, and to all concerned there was no circumstance to make the legal implication doubtful in any way. When one does not know of a thing and which he is not presumed to know it is absurd to expect that he would explain the legal implication of it.

11. If the petitioner's witnesses are believed then there can be no doubt about the legal implication arising out of the fact of want of statutory qualification.

12. Regarding the fourth point if the petitioner's witnesses are believed then it would appear that five of them actually heard from Haji Badi about the want of statutory qualification of Bahar and one had independent knowledge of the want of one statutory qualification and all six of them voted with the knowledge of want of qualification and its legal implication because of their party mandate. This act on their part would show that inspite of the knowledge that if they voted for a candidate who had no statutory qualification their votes would be wasted they voted for that candidate who was not a lawful candidate. This attitude would certainly constitute wilful perverseness.

13. Regarding point No. 1 it is conceded on both sides that the general notice to the voters, such as distribution of printed copies of notice, exhibition of posters, public harangue, etc., won't be sufficient knowledge of the want of specific qualifications should be brought home to each voter whose vote is wanted to be thrown away.

14. Now it has to be seen how far the story of each witness of the petitioner can be believed and how far the suggestion on the substituted respondent's side that the whole story was a subsequent concoction could be accepted.

15. The most important witness in this case is Haji Badi Ahmed. From a humble beginning as a gomastha earning Rs. 15 per month and with an education up to the Middle Vernacular standard he has risen to an eminent position in life holding many responsible offices and owning property yielding an income of Rs. 20,000 per annum. He was a gomastha for 16 estates and therefore his experience of mofussil properties should be taken as being considerable. He was a Member of the Bengal Legislative Council before and now is a Member of the Bengal Legislative Assembly returned from the Chittagong Division Landholders Constituency. He is a member of the Independent Party in the Assembly to which the petitioner belongs. He was supporting the candidature of the petitioner. This witness knew that Habibulla did not possess any property. On the day of the election he was in the Assembly lobby where the voters first came before going to vote from about 10 a.m. till the end with the exception of one hour from 12-30 p.m. for Jumma prayer. He met the petitioner, Habibulla and almost all the Assembly Members including the two Ministers, namely, Sir Nazimuddin and Mr. Shahabuddin. He talked to many of the Members and told them that Habibulla Bahar had no voter's qualification and therefore they should not vote for him but vote for Nawab Faroqui and whatever votes they would cast would be thrown away. He told the nature of the voter's qualifications which Bahar was lacking specifically to those who asked and generally to others. To those who asked him specifically he said that Habibulla Bahar did not pay cess, rent or revenue necessary to make him a qualified voter for the Council. He could not give the names of those who asked him specifically as there were many such. The witness also gave the source of his knowledge about the want of qualifications of Bahar.

16. The source of knowledge of this witness was the subject of much comment by Dr. Sen Gupta. The witness said that he was known to the late Abdul Aziz who was the first Graduate of Chittagong and later on became Inspector of Schools, a post which very few Indians held at the time. He was the maternal grandfather of Habibulla. Fifteen or sixteen years ago from the time he was deposing Abdul Aziz had requested him to settle a dispute between him and one brother of his mainly relating to a house in Chittagong (which is admitted by both parties in the case to have been the self-acquired property of Abdul Aziz). At that time a point arose as Habibulla and his sister Nahar had not inherited any property from their father a portion of the property in Chittagong should be given to them for their educational expenses. He effected the settlement. The result was that a greater portion of the Noakhali property belonging to Abdul Aziz was given to his brother, and the Chittagong property remained in the name of Abdul Aziz the income of which was to be spent for the education of Bahar and his sister Nahar. At this time Abdul Aziz had told Haji Badi Ahmed that Bahar or Nahar did not get any ancestral property and that was the source of his knowledge. Haji Badi had further stated that before he was called upon to settle the dispute, two other gentlemen including Mr. Jelaluddin, a present Minister, were requested to do it, but they failed. Dr. Sen Gupta had put in two documents to show that this went to the very root of Haji Badi's story of his knowledge, and according to him, this showed that Haji Badi was not speaking the truth. Of the two documents, one is a registered deed of partition executed by Abdul Wadud and this is dated the 9th Bhadro 1319 B.S., that is, sometime in 1912 A.D. This document contains a recital from an alleged will executed by Tamizuddin on 25th Jaistha 1308 B.S., that is, in 1900-01. It was urged from this document that it would appear that Habibulla and his sister had got some property and Abdul Aziz must have known of it and so he could not have told Haji Badi that they had not got any ancestral property. The other document is a settlement deed or nirdespatra executed by the heirs and reversioners of the late Abdul Aziz, dated the 18th June 1927. This refers to another nirdespatra executed by Abdul Aziz on March 20, 1926, which made certain arrangements regarding the share and interest of his future heirs both during his lifetime and after his death. By the latter nirdespatra they made some arrangement among themselves according to the terms of the former one. Dr. Sen Gupta urged that the latter nirdespatra which was practically a partition deed between the brothers of Abdul Aziz came after his death and therefore it was not possible for Abdul Aziz to ask Haji Badi to make a settlement between himself and his brothers. It was further said that according to the statement in this document Abdul Aziz died in 1926, whereas according to the statement of Haji Badi, he died in 1928 or 1929. As Haji Badi was speaking of the death by guess (he said that Abdul Aziz died 15 or 16 years ago), this argument has no force. On a detailed and close examination of the two documents it is clear that they do not lead to the conclusion Dr. Sen Gupta would like to infer from them. The shortest way in this respect was to examine Bahar and Nahar, but that was not done. These documents can be safely left aside.

17. Considering the evidence of this witness who also appeared to be a straightforward witness it must be held that Haji Badi had knowledge that Bahar did not possess any property and did not pay any cess.

18. Naturally, therefore, as a supporter of the petitioner Haji Badi is expected to disclose this want of qualification at the earliest possible opportunity before the election. That is a probability that can hardly be lost sight of. The question then arises, when should he or as a matter of that the petitioner himself have disclosed it for the first time. It was said that it should have been done atleast on the day of nomination, that is, on April 8, 1944. The answer was that Bahar with the other two respondents were nominated, and they were all members of the Moslem League and so long as the Moslem League did not adopt one from them as their party candidate there was no interest in exposing the weakness of that candidate which would have been mere waste of energy. It was a contest between the Moslem League Party and the Independent Party. The Moslem League Party nominated Bahar as their candidate on April 18, and he was finally adopted by the Party on the evening of April 20, as stated by Mr. Shahabuddin, and the Whips were issued on the election day, that is, April 21, as told by Mr. Fazlur Rahaman. So the earliest time to notify the want of qualification was between the 18th and 21st April the day of election, and that was done. Haji Badi had talked of it at party meetings between the 18th and 21st and on the 21st he went on speaking of it to the voters in the Assembly lobby as they came in. When there were three nominees of the Moslem League a clever rival will not expose the weakness of one nominee, he would rather wait and see if the Moslem League approves of the wrong man and he will then expose him at the last moment when they can't possibly go back. The explanation is reasonable and convincing. It is an admitted fact that Haji Badi was present in the Assembly lobby on the day of election for the most part during the election. Taken along with this circumstance there are positive evidence of eleven witnesses including Haji Badi that he was telling the voters that Bahar had no qualification and asking them not to vote for him and if they did so their votes would be lost. It will be reasonable to conclude that Haji Badi told the voters about the want of qualification of Bahar before they voted. His demeanour was straightforward and I believe him.

19. The next question is what each witness who voted for Bahar heard Haji Badi say. There are five witnesses who after hearing from Haji Badi about the want of qualification of Bahar voted for Bahar. They are Abdul Latif Biswas, Mahomed Abdul Shaheed, Dr. Mofizuddin Ahmed, Atul Chander Kumar and Jotindranath Chakrabutty.

20. Abdul Latif Biswas belongs to the Moslem League Party from which he resigned in June 1944, and is a pleader of Manickgunj. Mahomed Abdul Shaheed still belongs to the Moslem League. Dr. Mofizuddin Ahmed, M.B., belonged to the Moslem League and had recently gone over to the opposition. Atul Kumar and Jotindranath Chakrabutty, a pleader, belong to the Bengal Coalition Party which followed the Moslem League and resigned from it on 29th May 1944 and 1st June 1944 respectively.

21. Abdul Latif Biswas, a pleader, said that on the election day while entering the Assembly Chamber through the lobby he heard Haji Badi tell loudly that Habibulla had no cess qualification or no qualification whatsoever and he asked members not to vote in his favour because he had no qualification whatsoever though his name was on the voters' list. Then Nawab Faroqui, Habibulla and the whips of both parties were present. He voted because of the party mandate. He believed Haji Badi. There was no time to approach the leaders of the party. Habibulla kept silent when Haji Badi was talking. Nothing could be shown to discredit this witness excepting that in a previous election when the witness was elected his election was set aside for treating voters which does not necessarily show that he would speak a falsehood on oath here.

22. Abdul Shaheed said that in the lobby on the day of election he heard from Haji Badi that Habibulla was not paying cess. Haji Badi was saying that Bahar was not qualified to be enrolled as a voter. He voted for Bahar due to party mandate. But he heard him saying that. He spoke to every member. He told that addressing people generally and sometimes particularly. Witness knew that the voter should possess property qualification and pay cess. Habibulla was present but he did not challenge this statement. At that moment witness thought that his vote would be wasted, but he had to obey the mandate. The suggestion was that he was unreliable because he had grievance against his party which was denied. The witness had grievances against the leaders some of which were satisfactorily rectified. Nothing could be shown to discredit this witness. On the other hand it appears from the Assembly proceedings that this witness has been a staunch loyalist of the Moslem League and always voted for the Government composing the Moslem League Ministry. His evidence is above all doubt and suspicion.

23. Dr. Mofizuddin Ahmed, M.B., said that in the lobby Haji Badi was telling a number of M.L.A.'s gathered around him and the witness went there. On seeing him Haji Badi said that witness's party mandate was to vote for Habibulla, but he had no qualification whatsoever, he had no cess qualification, in the presence of Bahar who was close to him. Witness asked Haji Badi who said that he had no qualification and on asking him how he came to know he spoke of the arbitration. Bahar urged that he had qualification and that his name was on the voters' list. Witness went to Shahabuddin and spoke of what Haji Badi was saying, and he replied that there would be no trouble as he was on the voters' list. The suggestion was that the witness left the Moslem League Party because a new Ministry was coming. The witness said that Haji Badi was not an ordinary person. Nothing could be shown to disbelieve this witness.

24. Atul Kumar said that he was a Parliamentary Secretary in April 1944. Bahar was taken by the party between the 18th and 20th April. When his name was discussed at a Party Meeting some one objected. On the election day in the lobby Abdul Razzak and Haji Badi were saying to the voters that they knew Bahar intimately. He did not inherit any property, he does not pay any cess and he does not own any property. Witness then asked his men to vote for the Government candidate. Then Charu Roy and Jogesh Chunder Rai Bahadur came. They also said that it was not propaganda. They knew that Habibulla did not pay cess and owned no property. Then they called Maulana Razzak and Haji Badi who confirmed it. Witness voted for Habibulla because of the party mandate. Dr. Sen Gupta's suggestion for disbelieving this witness was that he was like a rat which abandons a sinking ship, which was repudiated, and was an opportunist. In the political atmosphere in this country as created by the constitution which allows the Government to run on party lines it tends to make some men opportunists and turncoats and it will not be proper to hold that because a man has changed sides in the political sphere he can therefore tell falsehoods on oath in the witness box. General observations like this needs no serious consideration. The demeanour of the witness was straightforward and there was nothing convincing to discredit him.

25. Jotindranath Chakrabutty, a pleader, said that on the election day he came to the lobby between 11 and 11-30 a.m. and on finding some golmal (noise) he went there. He found Haji Badi speaking loudly that Habibulla had no qualification. The witness asked Haji Badi what did he mean by it and then he was told that he was wanting in cess qualification. He asked Habibulla, who with folded hands requested him to obey the party mandate which he did and voted for Habibulla. He thought that Rai Bahadur Jogesh Ch. Sen and Charu Ch. Roy told him that what Haji Badi was saying was true. The witness did not think it necessary to consult any party leader as he had the party mandate. Witness came into the Council in 1927 on Congress ticket and then went over to the Government side. The suggestion to discredit him was that he was a turncoat and an opportunist. There is nothing else to discredit him and his evidence remains unshaken.

26. Next come the two witnesses who had independent sources of knowledge of Bahar's want of qualification and still they voted for him as they had a party mandate to obey, they are, Masud Ali Khan Panni and Dhonanjoy Roy.

27. Masud Ali Khan Panni is a zamindar belonging to the wellknown zamindary family of East Bengal, that is, of Karotia. He was an M.L.A. on 21st April 1944 and voted for Bahar. He said that he knew Bahar. One day during the last part of last year (1943) Bahar had come to him to borrow Rs. 3,000. Witness wanted to know what security he could offer and was told that he had a Press which he could offer, but witness wanted landed property as security and Bahar said that he had none and so the money was not lent. In voting for Bahar the first thing witness said was that he had to obey the party mandate but in order to make it clear as to why he should lose his vote he telephoned to Mr. Shahabuddin and told him what he knew but Mr. Shahabuddin told him that there was no harm as firstly he had to obey the party mandate, and secondly as Bahar's name was in the voters' list and it was quite all right and he could vote for Bahar.

28. Mr. Shahabuddin was examined to deny the latter statement, but Bahar was not examined to deny the former statement. Masud Ali Khan Panni came to the Assembly on no party ticket. He knew that Bahar was disqualified. Excepting the suggestion that he changed sides there was nothing to discredit his evidence. His answers in the box were very prompt and unhesitating. He is worthy of credence and from his evidence it would appear that he knew of the existence of Bahar's want of qualification from before the time of voting and that he knew that if he voted for him his vote would be lost, but as he voted in spite of these his act amounted to wilful perverseness and so this vote should also be deducted from Bahar's votes.

29. Dhonanjoy Roy is a pleader of Dacca. He belongs to the Coalition Party. He said that before the election he was told by Khan Bahadur Abdul Rasheed, M.L.C., since dead that Bahar had no voting qualification. But the witness did not say what was that either in examination-in-chief or in the cross-examination where he was definitely asked as to what exactly Abdul Rasheed said. The simple answer was that he was told that Bahar had no qualification and he simply believed it. He did not therefore know the actual facts constituting want of qualification. Therefore, his vote is not liable to be thrown away.

30. Having had regard to the status of the witnesses it does not appear at all probable that they could be persuaded to be parties to concoct stories, especially when no appreciable gain was expected by them.

31. Three more witnesses, namely, Jogesh Ch. Sen, Charu Ch. Roy and Abdul Razzak were examined to prove that Haji Badi was telling the voters in the Assembly on the day of election that Habibulla had no cess or property qualification and nobody should vote for him. They corroborated the story of Haji Badi and also of some of the other witnesses. Nothing, except only the general suggestion of turncoatism and opportunism could be urged to discredit their evidence. With regard to Razzak, his story of his own independent knowledge of Bahar's disqualification was not fully convincing. But he was seen by other reliable witnesses to be talking about Bahar's disqualification along with Haji Badi. These witnesses corroborate the story of Haji Badi.

32. Three witnesses were examined on the side of the substituted respondent, namely, Mr. Fazlur Rahaman, Government Chief Whip, Mr. Shahabuddin, a Minister, and Mr. Stark, the Secretary of the European Party, to disprove the story of Haji Badi's statement in the lobby.

33. Mr Stark was present in the lobby for only ten minutes including the time required to sign his ballot paper, etc. So it is quite natural that he did not see Haji Badi during such a short time. There is no evidence that Haji Badi was talking to the voters non-stop. Mr. Fazlur Rahaman had seen Haji Badi in the lobby, but Mr. Shahabuddin who was in the lobby for nearly two hours from 11 a.m. did not remember seeing him in the lobby. Both Fazlur Rahaman and Shahabuddin would say that there was no canvassing in the lobby on April 21, and according to the latter it was all quiet. But Fazlur Rahaman said that for the first time whips were issued on April 21, the day of voting. It is rather extraordinary that no canvassing at all would be done when the election was a hotly contested one and there was no prohibition to canvassing and though it was admitted by Fazlur Rahaman there might have been room for canvassing. Fazlur Rahaman attended the court on 23rd November 1944 when the petitioner's witness was being examined. He came to depose on 16th December 1944 at the instance of the Moslem League Parliamentary Party which according to him was running this case and meeting the expenses but would make a prevaricating answer about the receiving of summons. He was evidently taking some interest in the case and it was more than probable that he must have known of the hearing of the preliminary point by this Tribunal when the report of a previous Tribunal presided over by McNair J. was discussed, but he would say that he was hearing of it for the first time on 16th December 1944, that is, at the time he was being cross-examined. Such an attitude does not inspire much confidence. The attitude of Shahabuddin on the matter of there being absolutely no canvassing and it was all quiet on the election day does not inspire confidence too. Having regard to the Moslem League Rules it is almost next to impossible that an eleventh hour change of the candidate could be made, and the statement of the two witnesses on this point is not convincing to me. On the whole I am not at all impressed with the evidence of these two witnesses.

34. It was urged by Dr. Sen Gupta that the ground on which the throwing away of the votes was sought to be made should have been made out in the petition. It not being done shows that it was an afterthought. The answer was that only concise statement of material facts need be mentioned in the petition and not grounds. It is however seen from the petition (paragraph 25) that while claiming a scrutiny one ground for one method of scrutiny, namely, inspecting the ballot papers was made out while this ground was not taken. This objection was raised at an earlier stage but the petitioner was allowed to take this ground. When according to the rules he is not bound to disclose all his grounds, no inference that the ground was subsequently made out can be drawn from the omission of that ground from the petition alone. The story of concoction can however be shown from other circumstances, but no such circumstance as discussed above could be shown.

35. It was urged that the petitioner was not examined because he was not prepared to take oath and tell a lie in supporting Haji Badi's story. The petitioner did not make out any case that he had independent knowledge of Bahar's want of qualification. He must have heard from Haji Badi. His absence from the witness box is merely one corroborative witness the less. The value of such corroboration being the petitioner himself is certainly less than the value of corroboration of an independent witness. From his non-examination no adverse inference can be drawn.

36. So the conclusion on weighing the evidence on both sides is that six votes should be deducted from the 106 votes secured by Bahar thus leaving a majority of three votes in favour of the petitioner who is therefore entitled to be declared elected.

37. [There is one question of public interest which has arisen in this case. It is whether the bona fides of the petitioner who is allowed to oppose the petition filed under Rule 35 of the Bengal Legislative Assembly and Council Electoral (Election Expenses and Election Petition) Rules, 1936, can be looked into by an Election Tribunal. If the principle be that everybody should assist at the election and should not be allowed to delay or hamper it the bona fides must be looked into. From an observation of Lord Denman C.J. in Gosling v. Veley referred to above it would appear that the duty of an elector is to assist in making an election and he has no right to prevent an election. In my opinion the bona fides of the petitioner coming under Rule 35 mentioned should be looked into. In the present case Abdul Motaleb Malik is the petitioner who has been allowed to oppose the petition. But he does not appear before the Tribunal and does not say how he is interested in opposing the petition. On the other hand it appears clear from the evidence of Fazlur Rahaman that it is a party case run by the Moslem League Parliamentary Party and it is said Abdul Motaleb Malik being a member of the Moslem League has come forward at the instance of the party and the expenses of the case is being met by that party. It is therefore perfectly clear that it is the party behind the mere name of Malik that is opposing the petition with the manifest object of preventing the petitioner to come in. The Rules of the election do not contemplate parties but electors. The object it is said is that the party does not like that anybody who does not belong to the party should come in. Such an avowed object is not to assist in an election but to prevent it. To fight an election petition with such an avowed object is against public interest. I am doubtful whether the rules may be made clear in this respect.]

Appendix No. 4.

In the Election Case of Nawab Sir Mohiuddin Faruqui as against Habibulla Bahar and others.

The petitioner seeks two reliefs:

(i) a declaration that the election of Mr. Habibulla Bahar, respondent No. 1, who was returned on majority of votes, is void, and in addition to the (i) another,

(ii) a declaration that the petitioner was duly elected on recounting of votes and rejecting of votes cast in favour of the respondent on the ground of undue influence, etc.

(i) Dr. Sen Gupta for the respondent, strenuously contended at great length, that this Tribunal has no jurisdiction to inquire that the respondent Mr. Bahar, in fact, was not qualified for election, in view of the paragraph 4, paragraph 16, Part I of the Order of His Majesty-in-Council (pages 369 and 371) of the Bengal Legislature Manual, Volume I and also under rules 23 and 61 and connected rules at pages 147 and 169 of Volume II of the Bengal Legislature Manual. It is contended that the above statutes lay down that the Electoral Roll prepared under the statutes is final and conclusive on the question of qualification of candidate and one who is included in the electoral roll is entitled to elect and to be elected by virtue of his inclusion in the Roll and the Tribunal cannot go beyond the roll to enquire into the question of qualification of the respondent. The case reported in the Calcutta Gazette of the 16th September 1937, Part I, page 2325, and some English cases are also relied on. The Calcutta Gazette case of course holds that the inclusion of a name in the electoral roll is final. I am unable to follow it for the obvious among other reasons that in such case the Election Tribunal has no power to remove one unqualified and he will not be removable from the Council if he could anyhow include himself in the electoral roll, say, with the help of the printer of the roll. The English cases if they supported finality of the Electoral Roll, it was at the early period of the History of Electoral Law and under rigorous rules for preparation of the roll and certainly the Electoral Roll cannot be final for us when paragraph 7(i)(c) of His Majesty's Order expressly empowers Election Tribunal to declare the election of a returned candidate void for his want of qualification. Order paragraph 78(i)(c), page 386 of the Bengal Legislature Manual, Volume I, lays down that the election of the returned candidate shall be void, if in the opinion of the Commissioners the result of the election has been materially affected by reason of the fact, that any person nominated was not qualified for election and on this authority we decide unanimously that the election of Mr. Bahar is void as we have found he had not the requisite statutory qualification for election but his wrongful inclusion in the Electoral Roll misled, the majority of 106 voters to cast their votes in his favour.

(ii) In the Dictionary Franchise and liberty are synonymous terms. Under the English Common Law, before the Ballot Act of 1872, franchise as I understand means, the right of the constituency or electorate to be represented by a duly qualified candidate whom the majority of the electors prefer in an election in which every voter has a free and fair opportunity to exercise his judgment honestly, to arrive at a conclusion which of the candidates he honestly believes to be the best person to represent his constituency and to vote for him. Parker's Text Book on Election, 3rd Edition, at page 573, emphasises that "freedom of election is at Common Law absolutely essential to the validity of an election" and gives the definition of election at page 216 of the Book "An election is a process ending in a single, valid and recognised return of a duly qualified candidate." Lord Coleridge, C.J. also enunciated this fundamental notion of free constitution at page 743 last para, in the case of Woodward v. Sarsons Court of Common Plea, 1874-75, Volume X. His Lordship says there was no real electing by the constituency at all, if the Tribunal was satisfied that the constituency had not, in fact, had a fair and free opportunity of electing the candidate whom the majority might prefer. These principles stated above on the authority of Parker and Lord Coleridge, constitute the Common Law Rule of Corporate and Parliamentary Election on the violation of which Election Tribunal is justified in declaring an election void. The case of Woodward v. Sarsons was one for declaration that the election was void on the ground of the illegalities and irregularities in the votes cast in favour of the returned candidate and it was not a case for scrutiny of valid votes and neither it was a case that the election was void by reason of the fact that the returned candidate was not qualified or was disqualified. In a case in which declaration is sought that the election is void whether on the ground of disqualification of the returned candidate or any other illegality in the election in the casting of votes, etc., there is only one test, if the Tribunal is satisfied that the alleged illegality or irregularity was of such a nature and so great that it did affect the result of the election, that is to say, that it did affect the majority of the votes on which the candidate was returned. In the case before us where the declaration is sought that the election is void for want of qualification, the illegality affects each one of the votes on which the disqualified candidate was returned and all these votes on which Bahar was returned, were, therefore of no force and void. But in the case of Woodward, the alleged irregularities were in the votes and not in the qualification of the candidate, and after deducting bad votes, Sarsons still held the majority against Woodward and therefore, Sarsons' election could not be declared void, as the irregularities did not affect the result of the election i.e., did not affect all the votes on which Sarsons was returned. All these appear to be in perfect accord with our statutes paragraph 7(1)(c) of the Manual. It should be specifically noted that Woodward's case for declaration that election of Sarsons was void, was not dismissed on the ground of the latter having received majority of valid votes which is a case of scrutiny of valid votes under our paragraph 3(2)(a), page 384, Manual, Volume I, but on the ground in Lord Coleridge's words "that the non-observance of the rules or forms which is to render the election valid, must be so great as to amount to a conducting of the election in a manner contrary to the principle of an election by ballot, must be so great as to satisfy the Tribunal that it did affect or might have affected the majority of voters, or in other words, the result of the election", see page 751 of the Report. The point I wish to emphasise is that in no case for declaration that the election is void, can there be a dismissal of the case or a declaration in favour of the petitioner, on the ground of one or the other of the candidates having received majority of valid votes which is nothing but scrutiny of votes where there is no disqualification of a candidate. Neither the petitioner in the case before us nor Woodward could have successfully sought both the reliefs of declaration of election as void and declaration that he himself was elected but could only have claimed either in the alternative.

Now the reported English case is of the year 1875. We are governed by the Government of India Act of the year 1936 and the connected Orders and Rules. I am unable to perceive any difference in the fundamental first principle of election in a free country which secures in every election the essential freedom of fair and free opportunity of selecting the best man in the honest judgment of each individual voter to be bound by the majority of such votes. The first and root principle of election alike holds good under English Common Law as well as under the Statute of the Ballot Act in the year 1872 as explained by Lord Coleridge in the case of Woodward v. Sarsons, the same law appears to be reproduced under the Government of India Act, 1936, in the Order, paragraph 7(i)(c) at page 386 of the Bengal Legislature Manual, Volume I, in the following words:—"If in the opinion of the Tribunal the result of the election has been materially affected by reason of the fact that any person nominated was not qualified for election, the election of the returned candidate shall be void." Analysed the words mean if the result of the election, i.e., the election of a candidate on majority of votes has been materially or substantially affected by the fact that the candidate was not qualified for election, his election shall be void as if there was no electing at all. In other words where the fact that a candidate was not qualified for election, materially affects, vitiates, or destroys the majority of votes on which he was returned, his election shall be void. Thus the votes in favour of an unqualified candidate are void as also the election of the candidate who was returned on those void votes. The case reported in 30 C.W.N., page 977, appeals to my mind, as expression of what necessarily and logically follow from the above mentioned principles of Common Law of England and Statute Law both of England and India. In that case in a Municipal Election, the plaintiff instituted a suit under section 42 of the Specific Relief Act for a declaration that the election of the defendant was not legal but void and for further declaration that the plaintiff himself with less number of votes was duly elected in the same election. Both the Trial and the Lower Appellate Courts decreed the suit granting both the declarations sought, that the election of the defendant was void and that the plaintiff was duly elected as the next man in the poll. Our High Court confirmed the declaration that the defendant's election was void but at the same time held that the plaintiff himself cannot be declared elected on principles, which appeal to my mind as in full accord with and logically following from the principles of the Common Law and Statute Law discussed above. As an individual member of this Tribunal I was alone responsible, after it was found that Mr. Bahar had no qualification, to draw the attention of the learned Counsels Dr. Roy for the petitioner and Dr. Sen Gupta for the substituted respondent in this case. Dr. Roy tried to distinguish the case on the ground that in that case High Court had no power to make the declaration in favour of the plaintiff, that it was a case of Municipal Election and on other grounds which to me do not appear to affect at all the juristic value of the observations made therein. Dr. Sen Gupta in a way agreed with Dr. Roy and did not oppose him on the ground that the election of Mr. Bahar having been declared void, there is no room in law for declaring the petitioner to be elected. The limited ground of 7 of the votes of Mr. Bahar having been given with wilful perverseness is of course contested by Dr. Sen Gupta only as a question of fact. It is true that the learned Judges doubted their power under section 42, Specific Relief Act to make such declaration as laid down in the case at I.L.R. 24 Calcutta 107, as it was dissented from in Madras in the case at I.L.R. 36, Madras 120, but assuming they had power, proceeded to decide the case on principle of law and on reasons which to my mind must govern all cases in which after a candidate having succeeded in declaring that the election of the returned candidate is void, seeks declaration that he himself has been duly elected. I quote the language of Sir Suhrawardy "He (the plaintiff) has succeeded in showing that election was void, and the necessary consequence of his success in this respect is that he cannot get any benefit out of it. A person who was not entitled to stand as a candidate was allowed to have votes recorded in his favour and though the plaintiff obtained next smaller number of votes, it is impossible to foresee what the result of the poll would have been if the defendant No. 1 was not allowed to stand." I am decidedly of the opinion that the observations quoted above wholly apply to this case before the Tribunal and I have no hesitation to hold on the above two grounds laid down by Sir Suhrawardy, that it is impossible for the petitioner to get a declaration for himself in respect of the seat. The declaration that Mr. Bahar having no qualification his election is void, means under English Common Law, in the words of Lord Coleridge "In the case of Woodward v. Sarsons quoted above 'there was no electing at all", "that the constituency had not, in fact, had a fair and free opportunity of electing candidate which the majority might prefer. This would certainly be so, if the majority of electors were proved to have been prevented from recording their votes effectively.....". Bahar's election is declared void for his not having the necessary qualifications on the petitioner's own case and that means in petitioner's word that the constituency had not, in fact, had a fair and free opportunity of electing a candidate whom the majority might prefer and that the election was no really electing at all and that the majority of electors were prevented from recording their votes in favour of a duly qualified candidate on account of Bahar having been wrongfully included in the electoral roll for which the majority who cast votes in favour of Mr. Bahar was in no way responsible. This again means the same thing in the words of Mr. Justice Suhrawardy "He (the petitioner) has succeeded in showing that the election was void, and the necessary consequence of his success in this respect is that he cannot claim any benefit out of it." The last observation of Suhrawardy J. is—"It is impossible to foresee what the result of the poll would have been if the defendant No. 1 was not allowed to stand." In Hawkins v Rex, page 124, Dow's Report, Volume II, at page 147 (to be noticed later), Lord Eldon observed in appeal in that case—when the disqualification became known "the objection may be taken by both parties. They might say we voted for both the candidates. But if we had known all the circumstances we would have voted for neither of them". A study of the above observations—the first by a distinguished Judge of India of the recent time and the other by the founder of English Equity of classical authority make it perfectly clear to my mind that in a case like the one before us where the election of the returned candidate is void by his wrongful inclusion in the Electoral Roll (to quote the words of Lord Coleridge in Woodward's case mentioned above) the constituency had not, in fact, had a fair opportunity of electing the candidate which the majority might prefer in as much as the majority of electors were prevented from recording their votes effectively in favour of a duly qualified candidate. In view of the above high authorities, it must be maintained that in our case the whole Electorate including as well who voted for the Nawab, have every right to assert their Franchise of free election. Thus the petitioner's claim for the seat appears obviously inconsistent with the right of the constituency as a whole or the majority of the electors who voted for Mr. Bahar, to vote for a duly qualified candidate and to allow the seat to the petitioner will be doing injustice to them as it would be disfranchising them for no fault of theirs. This course will in my opinion be subversive of the elementary root principles of free election and negation of election law as discussed above.

The above point is made clear by Parker in his Celebrated Work Election Agent and Returning Officer, 3rd Edition, page 217, paragraph 3, on the authority of the cases cited therein, as follows:—"An election which has been set aside as void by a competent Tribunal, is by the Common Law of Parliament considered in law as no election. The vacancy continues until it is to be filled up by a valid and lawful election of a qualified candidate."

All these appear to me conclusive and I must hold on reason and authority and statute law discussed above that petitioner's claim for the seat is not maintainable in law.

How Dr. Roy presents his case for declaration in favour of the petitioner—on the election day—the 21st April 1944, P. Ws. Haji Badi Ahmad Khan Bahadur and Maulvi Abdul Rezak announced in the Legislative Assembly House where the election commenced at 11 a.m. that Mr. Bahar had no qualification and votes given for him will be wasted. Inspite of their knowledge that Bahar had no qualification for election, thus acquired, P. Ws. Messrs. Abdul Latif Biswas, Mohammad Abdul Shaheed, Atul Kumar, Jatindra Kumar Chakravarty, Mosud Ali Khan Panni, Dhananjoy Roy and Dr. Mafizuddin Ahmed —the 7 M.L.A. voters voted for Mr. Bahar and so under the Common Law of England these 7 votes must be thrown away from the 106 votes on which Mr. Bahar was returned as elected, reducing his 106 votes to 99 votes and thereby making the 103 votes for the petitioner, the majority of valid votes received by him and the petitioner therefore, must be declared as duly elected on the statutory ground "that in fact, the petitioner received the majority of valid votes" as enacted in paragraph 3(2)(a) at page 384 of the Bengal Legislature Manual, Volume I.

English case laws were cited and discussed in support of the above case urged by Dr. Roy. The earliest case is of R. v. Hawkins of 1808, page 211, East's Report, Volume X, Gosling v. Veley, Volume 7, Q.B. 406, decided in 1847, Reg. v. Mayor of Tewkesbury decided in 1868 (Law Report, 3 Q.B., page 629). The Gaulway case, Trench v. Nolan, Irish Reports, Volume VI, page 464, decided in 1872, Drinkwater v. Dickins Law Report, 9 C.P., page 626, decided in 1874 and lastly Beresford v. Lady Sandhurst, Volume XXIII, page 79, decided in 1889.

The earliest case of King v. Hawkins is of the highest authority and followed in later cases. Lord Ellenborough, C. J., there lays down the general proposition on the authority of older cases that votes given for candidate after notice of his being ineligible, are to be considered the same as if the persons had not voted at all. In later case of Gosling v. Veley, Lord Denman, C. J. affirmed the same principle and the result of Regs v. Hawkins and other cases is summed up at pages 437-440 of the Report thus—when an elector before voting receives due notice that a particular candidate is disqualified and yet will do nothing but tender his votes for him, he must be taken voluntarily to abstain from exercising his franchise and must be taken in law to assent to the election of opposing and qualified candidate, for he will not take the only course by which it can be resisted, that is, helping to the election of some other persons. When the disqualification is unknown to the elector, he is entitled to notice. In the Galway case of Trench v. Nolen, the seat was given to a candidate in minority after unseating the returned candidate for disqualification arising from intimidation and undue influence by himself and his agents which existed previously to the election and had been fully brought to the knowledge of the electors before they voted for him. It should be noted that the minority candidate who was declared elected in all the reported cases challenged all the votes on which his opponent was declared elected, on the ground of all of them having voted with wilful perverseness inspite of their full knowledge of ineligibility in point of fact and law and without doubt or difficulty on account of complicated questions of law and fact on the question of disqualification and thus votes of the majority candidate on which he was returned were thrown away and the man next in the poll with less number of votes was declared elected. It is to be particularly noted that none of the cases in any way supports the view that the next man in the poll was declared elected on the theory of having received the "majority of valid votes" as in our statute Order paragraph 3(2)(a) of the Manual, Volume I, on which the petitioner before us claims. There does not appear a word so far as I can find in all the cases which justifies Dr. Roy's argument that the votes thrown away for wilful perverseness of the voters were deducted as if on scrutiny of otherwise valid votes where there is no question of disqualification and thus as if on scrutiny of valid votes, the minority turned into majority and the next man was declared elected. The Common Law principle of throwing away of votes for wilful perverseness of the voter can have, therefore, in my opinion, no possible bearing to what I understand as scrutiny of valid votes laid down in His Majesty's Order in Council, paragraph 3(2)(a), page 384, of the Bengal Legislature Manual, Volume I, where the election is not void for disqualification of the returned candidate. In a case where election is declared void for want of qualification the votes are also thrown away as void and empty nothing, as the election of the candidate in whose favour they were given is void for want of qualification and those void or no votes cannot, therefore, be taken for comparison with the valid votes of the petitioner where there is no question of qualification of the returned candidate. In short, void and valid votes cannot be compared to yield a majority to entitle the petitioner to claim the seat. The result, in my opinion, also follows clearly from the language of the Order paragraph 7(1)(c) at page 386 of the Manual, Volume I. The Order is "If in the opinion of the Tribunal the result of the election has been materially affected by reason of the fact that any person nominated was not qualified for election, the election of the returned candidate shall be void". The language is plain enough to mean where the fact that a candidate was not qualified for election materially affects, i.e., vitiates or destroys the majority of votes on which he was returned, his election shall be vaid. Now to examine the language of the Order in Council, paragraph 3(2)(a) at page 384 of the Manual—"The petitioner may in addition to calling in question of election of a returned candidate, claim a declaration that he himself has been duly elected on the ground that in fact the petitioner received a majority of the valid votes". Parker at page 718 of his Text Book gives definition of scrutiny as "ascertaining which of the candidate had the majority of legal votes and whether there is a majority for any one capable of sitting in Parliament", on the authority of cases cited therein. I may say in other words that scrutiny is to ascertain which of the candidates capable of sitting in Parliament received the majority of valid votes. This is the only basis on which the petitioner in our case claims the seat for himself, in his petition, viz., on the ground of scrutiny of valid votes on recounting and rejecting on the ground of undue influence, etc., and not on the grounds of having "received the majority of valid votes" after throwing away 7 out of 106 votes in favour of the disqualified candidate for wilful perverseness of the seven voters. This case of scrutiny of valid votes as alleged in his petition is abandoned and I say rightly abandoned because there cannot be a case for scrutiny of votes of the returned candidate after the latter's election has been declared void for want of qualification". The case of scrutiny can be allowed only as an alternative case when no disqualification could be found. Do the words "in addition to calling in question the election of a returned candidate" in paragraph 3(2)(a) above mean that he can claim for himself in a case in which the election of a returned candidate has been declared void? I am of the opinion, this interpretation will make our law inconsistent with English law and our Statute Law, paragraph 7 of the Order above on the subject and I am quite unable to read it in that way. I may mention by way of example, the case of Woodhead v. Sersons quoted above that there the petitioner seeking declaration that the election of the returned candidate was void did not and could not have claimed declaration for himself in that case, as an additional ground. Reported cases only show the additional claim of the petitioner for himself could be allowed only on the ground of wilful perverseness on account of the full knowledge of disqualification of the voters on whose votes the disqualified candidate was returned. Parker at page 682 on authority quoted, states: "The petition shall conclude with a prayer, as that some specified person should be duly returned or elected, or that the election should be declared void. Mark the word "or" in italics It is "or" and not "and" clearly disallowing prayers for both the declaration that the election was void and at the same time claiming declaration for himself except of course when the seat is claimed for wilful perverseness of the majority of voters who voted for the returned candidate and that is a different matter. We have to adopt the common law doctrine of throwing away votes for wilful perverseness of the majority of voters who voted for a disqualified candidate, as principle of justice and equity and good conscience. It is a legal fiction to be acted upon here as in England as a necessity to prevent designing persons from frustrating election. It is plain to me that our statute paragraph 3(2)(a) of the Order must be read in conformity with English Law and to read it in a different way would be subversive of the constitution and all election Laws. The case of King v. Hawkins is relied on for the theory of Dr. Roy that the petitioner is entitled to the seat by deducting or throwing away of 7 votes of P. Ws. examined who admit to have cast their votes in favour of Mr. Bahar inspite of their full knowledge of his want of qualification without doubt and difficulty, thereby rendering the position of Mr. Bahar with 99 votes and 103 votes for the petitioner and therefore the latter should be declared elected. I cannot think I can read the case in that way. Lord Elenborough in King v. Hawkins at page 217 of the judgment enunciated the general proposition that votes given for a candidate, after notice of his being ineligible, are to be considered the same as if the person has not voted at all. It is a case in which there were 40 electors. After 2 voted for Hawkings and 2 for Spicer, it was questioned by Carpenter, the agent of Spicer, if those candidates took sacrament which was required under the law and one who did not take the sacrament could not be qualified under the law of election. To this question Spicer answered that he took sacrament and he was therefore qualified for election. But Hawkins answered that he had not taken the sacrament whereupon Carpenter gave notice and declared to all the electors then assembled and in their hearing, that Hawkins was on that account ineligible and that if any voter should after that notification give his votes for Hawkins such votes would be thrown away and void and the law requiring sacrament as a qualification was read out publicly then and there by Carpenter, see pages 212 and 213 of the Report. After the disqualification of Hawkins was thus known, the unpolled 36 voters voted—20 for Hawkins and 16 for Spicer. Lord Ellenborough at page 218 of the Report asked himself "Is there then any solid distinction between the cases I have alluded to, as establishing the general proposition, and the present case, on account of notice of the disqualification of Hawkins having been given after 2 persons had voted? We think there is not....." So it is clear from the words of the judgment that two persons having voted in favour of disqualified candidate Hawkins before they had notice of the disqualification in point of fact and law, would not make any difference in the general proposition enunciated by His Lordship that the votes given for a candidate after notice of his being ineligible are to be considered to be the same as if the person had not voted at all, sanctioned as it is by the words of Lord Chancellor Eldon in appeal from that case that "the majority knowingly voted for this dead man and that was to be attended to". So 20 persons who voted for Hawkins after notice is still the majority who returned Hawkins and is practically the whole majority as against 2 which is negligible and insignificant who had voted for Hawkins before notice. In the case before us, 7 persons who voted for Mr. Bahar is not the majority but insignificant and negligible as compared with the 99 votes, as according to the petitioner's case 99 votes for Mr. Bahar were not challenged and so they were given without notice. So on the admitted case of the petitioner, the petitioner cannot be declared elected as the majority of 99 votes cast in favour of Mr. Bahar without notice of his disqualification could not be thrown away for wilful perveseness of the voters as here 99 voted without notice as against two who voted for Hawkins without notice and 7 voted for Bahar with notice as against 20 who voted for Hawkins with notice. This case is obviously the reverse of the case of Hawkins. Suppose 17 persons.....had voted for Hawkins before the notice of his disqualification and 5 persons had voted for Hawkins after notice of his disqualification, Spicer could not have been declared elected as the majority of 17 votes in favour of Hawkins could not be thrown away and there must necessarily be fresh election in vindication of the right of 17 persons who voted before notice. I have taken the extreme case of 17 persons having voted for Hawkins before notice as it is just a case which Lord Ellenborough makes at page 218 of the Report that if the notice of disqualification was given at a more advanced stage of the poll, it would not have made any difference, provided "the number of votes given for Hawkins without notice of his incapacity had not been equal to those given for Spicer". This proviso cannot in my opinion be reconciled with the general proposition enunciated by His Lordship in that case. General proposition that votes given for a candidate after notice of his being ineligible, are to be considered the same as if the person has not voted at all, was deduced from the case cited in the judgment at page 217—the first was of equal votes on both sides and the one was incapable, and the second was of 5 voters against 6 refusing to vote and the third was of 13 votes against 14 in favour of a disqualified person. In all these cases the seat was given to one with equal and less number of votes but evidently on the ground that the other candidates in the first and third cases were disqualified and all the voters voted with notice of disqualification and in the second case 6 out of 11 voters refused to vote so it is clear that the other candidates with equal and less number of votes can be seated only on the ground that the votes in favour of the returned candidates are to be considered the same as if those persons have not voted at all, that is to say there was no voting at all. So it is on the ground of no voting for the returned candidate that his opponent can't be seated and it can never be on comparison of votes of both sides. Logically, one with the least votes say even one, can be seated if the 99 voters out of an electorate of 100 refused to vote or voted for a disqualified candidate, after notice of his disqualification, which means on the ground of their wilful perverseness. In a case where the voting in favour of a disqualified became divided, some voting before and some after notice of disqualification, the theory of seating the other man will rest nevertheless on the basis of votes thrown away for wilful perverseness of the voters as against the small proportion of those who voted before notice innocently without knowledge of disqualification and who cannot be charged with wilful perverseness. It is only on the ground of wilful perverseness alone (developed in later cases cited) of the voters of the returned candidate that the other man with the least number or even with one single vote can be seated and it was never on the ground of comparison of votes between the two. None of the reported cases cited could be shown to be based on comparison of votes of the two candidates, after election is declared void as I have discussed above, the seat can be given on comparison or adjustment of valid votes on both sides where there is no disqualification of the returned candidate. It appears to me sheer injustice and violation of all principles of free election discussed above, if 17 persons who voted for Hawkins without notice in an electorate of only 40 voters were deprived of their right of franchise which they must get in a fresh election by giving the seat to Spicer for his 18 votes. Those 17 votes are no votes at all as they were cast in favour of disqualified person without knowledge of disqualification and they cannot be taken for comparison with Spicer's 18 votes and on that comparison Spicer cannot be given the seat on the ground of majority. With all respects I must say that I failed to reconcile the case in the Proviso in Lord Ellenborough's judgment with the general proposition his Lordship laid down on the authority of earlier cases. I also failed to reconcile the case in the proviso with the fundamental law of free election propounded by Lord Coleridge in Woodword's case. Lastly, I notice that Lord Eldon on Appeal in that very case never by any word sanctioned the case in the proviso of Lord Ellenborough in Hawkin's case which after all is a hypothetical case mentioned, which His Lordship was not called upon to decide and therefore obiter and not authoritative if I may say so with respect. Lord Eldon appeared to have impliedly negatived the case in the proviso when the learned Lord Chancellor described the 20 votes of Hawkins as "the great majority" (page 147, paragraph 2 Dow's Report, Volume II) and it clearly means to my mind "the great majority" as compared with the two who voted for Hawkins before notice. On the contrary, consistency with the principles of free election demands, that "the great majority" of Lord Eldon must be maintained and theory of throwing away of votes for wilful perverseness, to seat the petitioner cannot be extended to anything less than "the great majority", that is the overwhelming majority as against the very few negligible votes given before or without notice of disqualification. So it is clear that 99 votes without knowledge of disqualification of Bahar cannot be compared with 103 of the petitioner's and the latter cannot be given the seat on that ground. In the same way in this case before us, there must be a fresh election and the seat could not possibly be given to the petitioner as the majority of the votes, namely, 99 could not be thrown away for, on the admitted case of the petitioner, their votes were not challenged and they voted without notice of want of qualification of Mr. Bahar and on account of his wrongful inclusion in the Electoral Roll and they therefore must have a fresh election to vindicate their right of franchise. There appears no word in Hawkin's case in the Judgments of Lord Ellenborough and Lord Eldon in appeal that the case was decided and the seat was given to Spicer on the ground of Spicer having received majority of valid votes of 18 in favour of Spicer and 2 in favour of Hawkins. Nor can it be contended in this case that the Nawab Sahib should be declared elected on his majority of votes of 103 as against 99 votes of Mr. Bahar. In this view Hawkin's case, so far as the actual facts go and the judgments of Lord Ellenborough and Lord Eldon on those facts go, is against the petitioner's claim to be declared elected.

Now remains to notice a few broad features of the case before us from the evidence of the petitioner's witnesses.

In the first place I find no foundation has been laid for the case as stated merely in the evidence of 11 witnesses examined for the petitioner. The petitioner prayed for a declaration that Mr. Bahar's election was void and also for a declaration that petitioner was duly elected, on the ground that he secured the majority of good votes to be found on recounting, and rejection of bad votes on the ground of undue influence, etc., which means scrutiny of votes but nowhere in the record of this case, neither in the petition nor in the particulars filed later, a word has been said about his case on which evidence was led and the seat is claimed now. It is to be further noted that the petitioner did not examine himself in support of the case to be found only in the evidence of the witnesses. The Official nomination of Mr. Bahar took place on the 8th April, 1944, the scrutiny of nomination on the 11th April 1944 and Mr. Bahar received the nomination of the Moslem League Party on the 18th April 1944 and this was approved by the Parliamentary Party on the 20th April 1944 and the Election was held on the 21st April 1944. According to witnesses Haji Badi Ahmad and Maulvi Abdul Rezak the want of qualification of Mr. Bahar was announced at the Polling time with warning that the votes in favour of Mr. Bahar will be wasted. They knew of Bahar's want of qualification from beforehand and the petitioner also knew from them. The witnesses, who announced, voted for the petitioner and were his supporters in the Election. But strange it appears, the petitioner would not interest himself in the disqualification of his opponent and do nothing to take utmost advantage of the fact and advance his own cause. He had enough time from the 8th April 1944 when Bahar was nominated on the proposal and seconding by leaders of opposite party Mr. Sahabuddin and Mr. Sahrawardy that he had to fight out a powerful rival and could have canvassed in his own favour and taken steps as against one wanting in qualification known to himself and his supporters, as he was an independent member free from party politics. According to the evidence of his witnesses Haji Saheb as well as Maulvi Abdul Rezak, Nawab Sahib knew of Bahar's want of qualification from long before. The want of qualification was announced with warning of legal consequences at the top of the voice from the beginning of the polling till its close in presence of Nawab Sahib and this must have reached the ears of almost all voters and would have created a stir among the M.L.A. electors including the rival parties and their leaders. They are all enlightened people and must have known the elementary fact that no one can be competent to sit in the council without the requisite legal qualification. With the natural anxiety of rival parties to increase their respective strength, it is difficult to think that steps will not be taken to take in one or the other of the two nominated candidates belonging to the same party, if the announcement with warning was made then. It is said that the Parliamentary League Party could only approve the nomination of the Muslim League and the party mandate was issued on that basis asking electors to vote for Mr. Bahar and it was too late to arrange for his substitute then. It is difficult to understand that in case of emergency as might have happened on the unforeseen discovery of Bahar's ineligibility, means could not be found by the leaders for getting one of the two belonging to their party previously nominated, as a candidate in place of Mr. Bahar and thus avoid defeat. Their election in this respect in consideration of emergency arising, would have been easily ratified later under any constitution. The witnesses who voted for Mr. Bahar after hearing all about his disqualification and its legal consequences of defeat of their party to which they owed allegiance, would have readily advised the leaders and themselves taken part in choosing one of the other two nominated candidates. It is difficult to think that true to themselves they would not so advise and choose but would only vote for Mr. Bahar under pressure of party mandate as if bound hand and foot by such mandate. All concerned would have taken this course in the interest of maintaining strength of the party and avoiding defeat. Nawab Sir Mohiuddin, Kt., would not stake his credit by taking oath although he is desirous of having the seat but the Hon'ble Mr. Shahabuddin and Mr. F. Rahman, the Chief Whip, denied on oath that disqualification of Mr. Bahar could be known at all before or in course of the election. None of the 11 petitioner's witnesses would even say that the petitioner uttered any word or he himself moved in any way to promote his own cause even when his 2 zealous supporters Haji Sahib and Maulvi Abdui Rezak repeated on all about the disqualification from beginning till the close of the poll. He (the petitioner) should have moved earlier and since nomination of Bahar on the 8th April and the notice that Bahar had no qualification should have proceeded from the petitioner and should have been better either before the opening of the poll or on each elector as he comes up to vote, well posted and advertised.' See Parker's celebrated book pages 276 and 277. In the face of all the above circumstances, I feel unable to think how to accept the evidence of the witnesses although they are M.L.As. and of some position when the petitioner himself holding such an exalted position spared his conscience and would not corroborate the witnesses on the essential facts within his own knowledge on which his success depends. The petitioner's claim for the seat, in my opinion, could have been made easy enough, if instead of trying to throw away the 7 votes on the ground of full knowledge of disqualification and wilfull perverseness, attempt was made to throw away the votes of those 106 voters, as on the case as presented, they all must have heard shouting about disqualification of Mr. Bahar from practically the beginning till the close of the polling. The latter case with the evidence of the petitioner himself and that of one or two leaders of high probity from the opposition group as suggested by Dr. Sen Gupta, would have certainly deserved the utmost judicial attention. But quite a different course was adopted which to my mind is, in no way, acceptable both on law and fact.

Another aspect of the case is this—Supposing that the announcement was made throughout the polling, those who voted for Mr. Bahar might not have reasonably believed the fact of want of qualification and might have treated the fact as a party propaganda at the eleventh hour to scare away voters. The voters might have made the usual presumption of correctness of the Electoral Roll officially prepared under lawful authority including Mr. Bahar as a qualified candidate. So whoever cast their votes in favour of Mr. Bahar even supposing they heard about his want of qualification, might have been under reasonable doubt and difficulty, as they would not at that time be able to ascertain by inquiry or search in the Noakhali Collectorate, the true state of facts as regards Mr. Bahar's qualification. No one could be said to have voted with wilful perverseness if he was in doubt and difficulty in believing the fact of want of qualification (see Parker page 273, 1st paragraph) and the 7 votes therefore, could not be thrown away under the law, although those voters now admit their own wilful perverseness on the pretext of unavoidable pressure of party mandate. This confession on their part it is not impossible to think in the circumstances of the political exigencies revealed in the evidence, may be due to political rivalry, uncorroborated as it is by oath and conduct of the petitioner himself I hold, on a careful and anxious consideration of all the circumstances of the case and questions of law and fact on the authority of Sir Sahrawardy in 30 C.W.N. Case and of Lord Coleridge in the case of Woodhead v. Sersons, of Lord Eldon in Hawkins v. King and also of Parker at page 217 of his Book, that as Election of Mr. Bahar is void under Statute Law of the Bengal Legislative Manual, Volume I, paragraph 7(2)(c) of the Order. Petitioner's additional claim under paragraph 3(2)(a) at page 384 of the Manual, Volume I, that he himself has been duly elected on the ground of having received the majority of valid votes of 103 as against 99 votes, cannot be entertained and is not maintainable under the law. But supposing such a claim is maintainable under the law I do hold that his case for securing the seat for himself in addition to the declaration of Bahar's election as void cannot be allowed on the evidence led in his favour, inasmuch as it is a case developed later only in evidence of witnesses without any foundation laid for it in his pleadings and without his own evidence of facts within his own knowledge and also for circumstancial improbabilities discussed above. In my opinion, as the election has been declared void, the vacancy continues and must be filled up by another Election of a duly qualified candidate.

Recommendations.

(1) It is unfortunate that I have to differ from the learned President and my other learned colleague on the question of law whether the petitioner can claim under paragraph 3(2)(a) of the Order, page 384 of the Manual, Volume I, to be declared elected on the ground of having received a majority of valid votes after the petitioner has succeeded in his prayer that the election of the returned candidate is void for his want of qualification under paragraph 7(1)(c) of the Order, page 385 of the Manual, Volume I, and this difference led to the prolonged hearing of this case. British Jurisprudence provides for elucidation and development of law in courts with its provision for appeals to higher courts though not without the necessary evil of delay and expenses. In election cases the Tribunal has been made final with the result that the unofficially reported Indian Election Cases do not afford sufficient guidance to the Tribunal in questions of Election Law, and do not conduce to establish certainty in law which alone can restrict litigation. Paragraph 7(1)(c) and paragraph 3(1)(a) of the Order of His Majesty in Council as also common law doctrine of throwing away of votes for wilful preverseness of voters have come into question in this case and this should be settled authoritatively under the constitution in the interest of the Electorate to prevent long-drawn litigation.

(2) In this case the respondent Mr. Bahar has been found and also on admission on his behalf that he, although duly nominated, was not qualified for election. He gave no evidence in this case. Every candidate is expected to know that he is legally qualified and he is competent to stand as a candidate to sit in the Council. In the absence of his evidence, it cannot be supposed that he could not know under what circumstances he came to be included in the Electoral Roll. A candidate should have full responsibility to know his own qualification before he offers himself as a candidate to the Electorate. There is a form of nomination paper in Schedule I, page 195 of Volume II of the Manual at the end of which there is a heading of "Declaration by Candidate". I suggest that the candidate should make a declaration that he is duly qualified for election and this would be some safeguard against an unqualified one coming in for election.

(3) This litigation sprang from the wrongful inclusion of a candidate in the Electoral Roll and this I think could have been very well avoided if the authorities concerned in the preparation of the Electoral Roll functioned with due care and attention. If necessary, rules should be made more stringent to prevent such a mishap in the future.

NOTIFICATION.

No. 12461.—21st September, 1945.—The following Act made by the Governor in exercise of the powers assumed to himself by the Proclamation, dated the 31st day of March, 1945, issued under section 93 of the Government of India Act, 1935, having been assented to in His Majesty's name by the Governor, is hereby published for general information:—

Bengal Act XIV of 1945

THE BENGAL MOTOR VEHICLES TAX (AMENDMENT) ACT, 1945.

[Assent of the Governor was first published in the Calcutta Gazette of the 27th September, 1945.]

An Act further to amend the Bengal Motor Vehicles Tax Act, 1932.

WHEREAS it is expedient further to amend the Bengal Motor Vehicles Tax Act, 1932, for the purpose and in the manner hereinafter appearing; Ben. Act I of 1932.

AND WHEREAS by the Proclamation, dated the 31st day of March, 1945, issued under section 93 of the Government of India Act, 1935, the Governor of Bengal has assumed to himself all powers vested by or under the said Act in the Provincial Legislature; 26 Geo. V, c. 2.

NOW, THEREFORE, in exercise of the powers so assumed to himself, the Governor of Bengal is pleased to enact as follows:—

Short title.

1. This Act may be called the Bengal Motor Vehicles Tax (Amendment) Act, 1945.

Amendment of section 4 of Bengal Act I of 1932.

2. To sub-section (3) of section 4 of the Bengal Motor Vehicles Tax Act, 1932, the following proviso shall be added, namely:—

"Provided that where a motor vehicle, other than a motor vehicle for the transport of goods or plying for hire for the carriage of passengers, has not been used for any period in Bengal by reason of its being removed and kept outside Bengal during such period, the Taxing Officer shall not refund or remit in respect of the said vehicle any portion of the tax for the quarterly period during which the said vehicle is so removed."

By order of the Governor,
G. M. RATCLIFF,
Secy. to the Govt. of Bengal.

GOVERNMENT OF BENGAL.

Legislative Department.

NOTIFICATION.

No. 12471L.—21st September, 1945.—The following statement of the reasons which have moved the Governor of Bengal to enact the Bengal Motor Vehicles Tax (Amendment) Act, 1945, in exercise of the powers assumed to himself by the Proclamation, dated the 31st day of March, 1945, issued under section 93 of the Government of India Act, 1935, is published for general information:—

Statement.

The object of the Bengal Motor Vehicles Tax (Amendment) Act, 1945, is to remove certain difficulties in the way of the implementation in practice by the Provincial Government of their ratification of the conclusions of the Transport Advisory Council arrived at in July, 1941, regarding exemption from double provincial taxation of private motor vehicles transferred from one province to another during a tax quarter.

2. Where a vehicle is transferred out of Bengal, the existing law in this Province provides for the refund of the tax paid for every complete calendar month during which the vehicle has not been used in the Province. Where a vehicle, which has already paid tax for a quarter elsewhere, is brought into Bengal, the vehicle, under the Transport Advisory Council's recommendation, is to be exempted from further taxation in Bengal in respect of the same quarter. The adoption of this recommendation may not only afford vehicle owners a double advantage of refund of tax in the province from which the vehicle is brought and exemption from tax in Bengal, but will also result in a double loss of revenue to Bengal, as on the one hand the Provincial Government will be precluded, in consequence of the acceptance of the recommendation, from levying tax on incoming vehicles for the broken period of the quarter current at the time of arrival, whilst on the other the Provincial Government will, under the existing law, be liable to grant refunds of tax on outgoing vehicles not only in respect of the quarter or quarters commencing after their transfer, but also for the unexpired calendar months of the quarter current at the time of the transfer.

3. An amending Bill designed to remove the above described drawbacks was prepared as a preliminary to the implementation by the Provincial Government of the Transport Advisory Council's recommendations, but there was not time for its introduction in the Legislature before the intervention of the said Proclamation. The object of the amending Act has already been achieved in other provinces, e.g., Madras, by the issue of executive notifications. As such a procedure would not be intra vires of the Bengal Motor Vehicles Tax Act, 1932, and as it is desirable that the implementation in practice by the Provincial Government of the Transport Advisory Council's conclusions should not be held up any longer, the necessary amending legislation has been enacted by the Governor of Bengal in exercise of the powers assumed to himself by the said Proclamation.

By order of the Governor,

G. M. RATCLIFF,
Secy. to the Govt. of Bengal.
